PRESIDENT SAYS POLITICAL 'COLD WAR' WILL RESULT IF DEMOCRATS WIN CONGRESS

HE DECLARES HISTORY SHOWS PARTISANSHIP 'WOULD 'RUN RIOT'

Nation-Wide Radio and TV Audience Hears Appeal for Two More Years to Carry Out Program.

DENVER, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower, vigorously pressing the Republican campaign for continued control of Congress, declared last night he foresees "a cold war of partisan politics" if the Democrats take over.

Speaking to a nation-wide television-radio audience and a cheering capacity crowd of 5500 persons at a Republican rally in Denver Auditorium after getting a report from party congressional leaders on their plans to step up the campaign tempo, the President said:

"History shows that when the executive and legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot."

The President was interrupted at least 42 times by applause. The 30-minute program was carried by 158 television channels and 534 radio stations.

Cautions About "Dangers."

Mr. Eisenhower, cautioning about what he called the dangers of a November election outcome putting Congress under Democratic rule and leaving the White House Republican, declared:

"You know perfectly well that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end up any place but the ditch—especially when the drivers are set on going in different directions."

The President said voters who put the Republican Administration in power in 1952 "got results" they wanted, and he appealed for two more years of G.O.P. control of Congress to carry out the rest of his program.

"A cold war of partisan politics between the Congress and the executive branch won't give us these goals," he said.

He received a howling ovation when he was introduced at the rally here by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who voiced confidence the Republicans still will be in the saddle when Congress meets in January.

Mr. Eisenhower was flanked on the speakers platform by a group of Republican congressional leaders and Colorado G.O.P. candidates.

His speech last night was in much the same pattern as the one he made in Hollywood Bowl. As on that occasion marking the start of his harder hitting tactics, the President jabbed repeatedly at the Democrats without one mentioning individuals or the opposition party by name.

In fact, throughout his speech he deleted from his prepared text several mentions of a "Republican" Congress and talked of just "Congress" in reviewing the record. Aids could offer no explanation for that—which was something he did in Los Angeles, too.

'We're Backing Ike' Signs.

"We're Backing Ike" signs popped up all over the auditorium when the Chief Executive walked to the rostrum to start his address, which the White House said was carried

PRESIDENT'S TALK RUNS OVERTIME; HE IS CUT OFF AIR

DENVER, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower was cut off the air both on television and radio, when his speech to a Republican rally here last night ran overtime.

The nationwide audience missed three paragraphs of the President's address and also missed a standing ovation given him at the conclusion of the talk by 5500 persons who jammed the new wing of Denver's city auditorium.

Time for the President's speech was purchased by the Republican national committee. In New York, a spokesman for Columbia Broadcasting System said the cutoff at the end of a paid political program was in line with long standing procedure. The cutoff occurred between 30 and 45 seconds before the President completed his talk.

It was uncertain whether the President himself knew he was cut short. Robert Montgomery, motion picture and television actor and producer who is a special White House adviser on television, had frantically signaled the Chief Executive to speed up. Montgomery held up a sign "please speed up," but apparently it didn't catch the President's eye.

Mr. Eisenhower might have completed the speech in time had he not been interrupted so frequently by applause. A reporter counted 42 times the President had to halt momentarily.

CHURCHILL AMAZES AUDIENCE BY DRINKING GLASS OF WATER

Just to 'Show You That I Can,' Says Brandy-Loving British Prime Minister.

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, known throughout Britain for his love of brandy, called for a glass of water today midway in his speech before the Conservative party convention.

After drinking it on the rostrum, he wisecracked to his audience:

"I only do it to show you that I can."

Delegates roared with laughter.

G.O.P. LEADERS ASK FOR SUPPORT OF INDEPENDENTS

Party Confronted by Apparently Gloomy Reports — Eisenhower Leads With Appeal.

DENVER, Oct. 9 (AP)—Republican leaders beamed urgent appeals today to independents and Democrats to rally behind their drive for a Republican-controlled Congress.

Confronted from within their own ranks with an apparently gloomy state-by-state roundup of Republican chances, party leaders who conferred with President Eisenhower yesterday were reported to have decided the only way they can win this year's election is to interest in their cause the independent enthusiasts credited with electing Mr. Eisenhower in 1952.

Their thinking evidently was represented in the President's assertion in a televised-radio speech last night that "the members of our party cannot carry the battle alone."

"We must enlist the spirited support of friends and neighbors, regardless of party, who believe in our principles and objectives," Mr. Eisenhower declared. "To this cause all Americans, regardless of party, can give their enthusiastic support."

Ferguson's View.

Echoing this viewpoint, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in an interview he believes the results on Nov. 2 may turn on the ability of Republicans to stir independent voters into action to keep Congress Republican, as a means of completing the Eisenhower legislative program.

"The independents and Democrats who voted for Eisenhower must be made to understand

More Thousands of Birds Die, No Satisfactory Explanation

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 9 (AP)—Thousands of birds of many species were found dead yesterday at or near airports or other lighted spots in Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Kansas and Tennessee, victims of some strange and deadly change in environment.

Similar deaths have occurred earlier at Jefferson City, Mo., New York City, Allentown, Pa., and Winston-Salem, N.C.

Attempts at explanation of the phenomena were vague and not too satisfactory. Poisoning, sudden chilling of the upper atmosphere by weather changes and blinding lights were variously blamed.

A report from Charleston, S.C., told of myriads of migrating birds dashing themselves to death against radio and television towers, high buildings and other structures last night.

At least 45 different species were found littering the ground in the area of Savannah, Ga., and the nearby Hunter Air Force Base. Some 13 species were identified at Birmingham, Ala., where at least a truck load of dead birds were swept up at the municipal airport.

Noxious fumes apparently killed 500 to 1000 birds at the Smoky Hill Air Force Base at Salina, Kan., yesterday. A biologist performed autopsies on several of the birds and said he found that all suffered hemorrhages, indicating asphyxiation. Some theorized that fumes from planes collected 3000 to 4000 feet above the air base at the bottom of a stabilized air mass. The air acted as a blanket, holding down air gases.

About 100 migratory birds, apparently blinded by beams of a spotlight shining toward the sky at the Knoxville (Tenn.) municipal airport, were killed Thursday night by flying into runways.

Dead or battered at Savannah were indigo buntings, orioles, rails, ducks, marsh hens, wrens, titmice, blue herons, woodcocks, catbirds and rose-breasted grosbeaks. At Birmingham were sparrows, orioles, goldfinches, thrushes, meadow larks and a large specimen of water bird similar to a coot.

Similar deaths of birds occurred at the big Robins Air Force Base near Macon, Ga., and at an airport and a television tower in Montgomery, Ala.

TEN SURVIVORS OF CAPSIZED SHIP PICKED UP OFF VIRGINIA COAST

Others Reported Scattered Over Wide Area, Making Rescue Difficult — One Body Is Recovered.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 9 (AP)—The Coast Guard reported early this afternoon that 10 survivors had been rescued of the 48-man crew of the sunken ore freighter Mormackite. One body had been recovered.

Coast Guard officials feared for the lives of some of the men still in the water, because they were so weak and widely scattered.

Meanwhile, several vessels were in the area helping with rescue operations or were converging on the scene.

Comdr. John McCubbin, executive officer of the Coast Guard Air station at Elizabeth City, N.C., asked and was granted permission to land his seaplane—described as a "dangerous" operation—in an effort to speed the rescue of the rapidly weakening men.

Sank on Thursday.

It was estimated the 6000-ton Mormackite had capsized and sunk early Thursday in high winds and heavy seas.

The pilot of a Coast Guard land plane returned to his base at Elizabeth City and reported that he had seen 15 to 20 men in the water. He said he dropped a raft, but the men, all in life jackets, were too weak to climb aboard.

The Diane and the Henry L. Benning reported they had arrived on the scene and were helping in the search for the survivors.

At 12:18 p.m. the Maritime Trader reported it had picked up two survivors, both in satisfactory condition. They were identified as Manuel Roman, a wiper, and Pedro Dedro de Jesus, a wiper.

At 12:36 p.m. the Greek freighter Macedonia reported it had picked up three additional survivors, making eight for the Macedonia. The latest were Eldredge Lemell, an electrician, Thomas Leamy, an ordinary seaman, and Henry Chari, a messman.

Seas 'Moderating.'

The Coast Guard said the seas had moderated and were "slight."

One of the survivors, the first picked up is Michael Hernandez, chief steward of the Mormackite.

Other survivors were listed as Shed Sullivan Jr., an oiler; John Davis, a deckman; Charles Williams, an ordinary seaman, and Tadeodel Valle, an able seaman.

The Coast Guard said the Macedonia, en route from Philadelphia to Puerto Ordaz, Venezuela, had asked to be relieved of its survivors as soon as possible so it could continue on its way.

The Mormackite was carrying no passengers. Bound from Victoria, Brazil, to Baltimore, it was last heard from Wednesday at 8 p.m. The owner, the Moore-McCormick Line, reported the ship overdue at Cape Henry yesterday afternoon and the Coast Guard began an immediate search.

Shortly after 10 a.m. today the Navy dispatched two blimps from the Navy air facility at Weeksville, N.C.

Before daylight the Macedonia had heard men's voices and had put a boat overside, but nothing was found. It was later that one of the planes sighted Hernandez and "considerable" wreckage in the water.

Three Coast Guard cutters from Norfolk, the Cherokee, Marion and Chincoteague, searched through the night for the missing ship. Twelve planes took off at daylight to join in the hunt, six from Norfolk, five from Elizabeth City, N.C., and one from Floyd Bennett Field, N.Y.

Albert Chrystal, vice president of the Moore-McCormack Line, said the freighter crew list would not be made public until all possible survivors had been rescued.

By the United Press.

The Mormackite apparently was caught in the same storm which led to the sinking of the 40-foot yacht Able Lady Thursday night. The destroyer Laffey rammed the Able Lady while trying to give it a tow 30 miles off Cape Henry.

Dr. and Mrs. William P. Locke of Hyde Park, N.Y., Dr. William G. Thompson, of Rhinebeck, N.Y., and Miss Ann Marlowe of New York City were rescued from the icy water by sailors aboard the Laffey.

Dr. Locke said winds at that time were 60 miles per hour and waves were 15 feet high.

Norwegian Ship Being Abandoned After Fire.

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands, Oct. 9 (AP)—The crew of the 4721-ton Norwegian steamer Emma Bakke was reported abandoning ship today after it caught fire near Cape Verde Islands in the Atlantic.

A message from the Panamanian ship Poukoulet reported the crew was being taken aboard the Argentine vessel Corrientes.

SECURITY AGENCY EX-AID IS CHARGED WITH VIOLATING ESPIONAGE LAW

FBI Arrests Recently Fired Research Analyst for Super-Secret Unit on Count of Taking Classified Data.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents today arrested a recently discharged employe of the National Security Agency on charges that he took classified defense information "with reason to believe" it would be "used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified the man as Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr., 40 years old, former New Orleans physics teacher who since 1941 had been a research analyst for the super-secret federal agency.

The National Security Agency, a branch of the Defense Department, is a little known operation described by a Pentagon source as "more secret even than the Central Intelligence Agency."

Its work is so secret, in fact, that its nature has never been officially disclosed. It is known, however, to be concerned with codes, communications, intelligence and other highly hush-hush activities.

Arraignment to Be Today

A complaint filed before United States Commissioner Earl C. Fletcher of Alexandria, Va., charged that Petersen from March 1, 1948, to about Dec. 31, 1952, while an employe of the agency, obtained classified documents and national defense information "with intent or reason to believe that the information was to be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation."

Government legal authorities said the offense charged is a violation of the espionage laws.

The complaint made no mention of any transmittal of the classified documents. FBI officials refused to identify the "foreign nation."

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Within an hour after the FBI announced his arrest, Petersen was arraigned before Fletcher, who set bond at $25,000 and ordered Petersen held for a federal grand jury session beginning Dec. 6. Petersen waived the preliminary hearing to which he was entitled.

No clue to the exact nature of his alleged offense was disclosed at the brief arraignment procedure.

Because of the nature of today's proceedings, Petersen was not asked to make any plea.

Dismissed Oct. 1.

The FBI said Petersen was dismissed by the security agency Oct. 1. The complaint said that since 1941, Petersen was employed by the agency and by its predecessors, the Army Security Agency and the Armed Forces Security Agency, both in Arlington.

The FBI said Petersen was born in New Orleans in 1914 and is a graduate of Loyola University, New Orleans, and St. Louis University, where he received a master of science degree in 1938.

(Petersen attended St. Louis University from September 1936 to June 1938, when he was graduated with his master's degree.)

The FBI said that before entering government service, Petersen taught physics at Loyola University at New Orleans and Ursuline College, also in New Orleans.

Tries to Break Codes.

The National Security Agency runs a communications monitoring network to pick up messages sent by other nations and break their code. The Defense Department will only say that the agency is a "facility concerned with specialized research and training activities."

No mention of the agency is made in the Federal Budget, the federal section of the Washington telephone directory or the Pentagon's own telephone directory.

One of the few times the agency has come into the news was more than a year ago when it was announced that the Defense Department had started a $30,000,000 building program to house the agency at Fort Meade, Md.

The agency now has headquarters at Arlington Hall, a former girls' school, in nearby Virginia. Reports have placed the agency's employment at from 3000 to 7000 persons within the United States and more overseas.

27 DOGS DIE IN KANSAS TOWN; POISONER SOUGHT

CHERRYVALE, Kan., Oct. 9 (AP)—Twenty-seven dogs have died in the last two days in this southeast Kansas town of 3000 and rewards totaling $700 have been offered for a solution to the mystery.

Authorities said examinations showed tvidence of a mercuric solution in some of the dead animals but others showed no signs of poisoning. Stomach specimens have been sent to the University of Kansas for analysis.

Churchill Says U.S. Withdrawal Would Put Europe Under Reds

Warns West to Avoid Pushing America Into Isolationism — Spikes Retirement Rumors.

By TOM OCHILTREE

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today warned the Western world—including Britain's left-wing Socialists—to avoid pushing the United States into a policy of isolationism which he said would condemn all Europe to Russian conquest.

The 79-year-old statesman, addressing the Conservative party's annual conference, pledged himself to work "While I have life and strength" for a system of peaceful co-existence with the Soviet Union based on Western strength and unity. His promise appeared to spike rumors that he intended soon to retire.

Churchill said the Russians could readily overrun the whole of Europe but for America's superior strength in atom and hydrogen bombs.

"That superiority, while it is maintained, will be a decisive deterrent against a Communist aggression," he said.

Emphasizing that the West must deal with the Russians from a position of strength and unity, he urged the free world to extend the hand of friendship to the West German people.

Of the United States he said: "There is no other case of a nation arriving at the summit of world power, seeking no territorial gain, but earnestly resolved to use her strength and wealth in the cause of progress and freedom.

"Had this conception been visible to the American governments 50 years ago we all, themselves included, might have escaped the two fearful world wars which have brought such misery upon our generation...

"For America to withdraw into isolation would condemn all Europe to Russian Communist subjugation and our famous and beloved island to death and ruin...

"There is already in the United States no little talk of a return

HURRICANE MOVES WEST IN CARIBBEAN SOUTH OF FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 9 (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, its 125-mile winds still too turbulent for hurricane hunter planes to penetrate, inched forward on a course slightly north of west in the Caribbean sea some 900 miles south-southeast of Florida today.

A Navy hurricane hunter plane from Jacksonville kept watch by radar but did not attempt to pierce the tropical storm.

B. D. Mitchell, a photographer's mate from Syracuse, N.Y., suffered a dislocated shoulder yesterday inside the storm. He was one of 10 crewmen aboard a hurricane hunter plane which advised no further penetration by other aircraft because of the storm's violence.

Hazel, centered 315 miles southeast of Kingston, Jamaica, moved toward the west or west-northwest at only eight miles an hour.

The Miami Weather Bureau said it was expected to continue on that course and at about the same forward pace for another 12 hours.

"This is a very dangerors hurricane and all shipping in the central Caribbean should exercise extreme caution," said the bureau.

OOPS! NEW YORK DEMOCRATS MAKE KING-SIZE ERROR

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—It was a banner day for Republican wags.

Getting into the campaign swing of things, the Onondaga county Democratic committee yesterday broke out a cloth streamer 60 feet wide and stretched it across a street in the heart of the business district. It read:

"For Governor Averell Harriman

"Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for Lt. Gov."

A few hours later, down came the banner. When it went back up, the name of Roosevelt, who is running for attorney general, had been covered with a cloth strip bearing the name of George B. De Luca, the candidate for lieutenant governor.

It was a "sign painter's mistake," said red-faced Democrats.

Mexican Highways Blocked.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—The communications ministry said yesterday virtually every major highway in Mexico is impassable in part because of rains and storms. This includes sections of the Pan American highway, and the major tourist routes from El Paso and Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City.

FLAMES SWEEP PLAYDIUM IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Fire Breaks Out While Safe Burglar Is at Work, Spreads to Linoleum Firm.

A fire which broke out while a safe burglar was at work in the manager's office today swept through front rooms of the Playdium, 349 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, and spread next door to second-floor storerooms of the Schuck Linoleum Co.

James Hendrickson, a watchman, said he was in the rear of the large two-story building when he smelled smoke at 6:15 a.m. He directed another employe to phone the fire department while he made an investigation.

Noting that the smoke was coming from a suite of offices over a cocktail lounge, Hendrickson ran to the front door and threw it open in anticipation of the arrival of firemen.

As he walked back toward the rear of the building, the watchman said he heard a man running downstairs from the direction of the offices. The man burst through a doorway of the cocktail lounge and escaped through the open front door as Hendrickson fired one shot at him, Hendrickson said.

Police later found that two doors leading from the lounge to the manager's office had been broken open. The combination had been broken from the safe but about $2000 in bills, slightly scorched, were still in an inside drawer.

Officers speculated that the burglar had been interrupted by the fire or might have started it himself.

Firemen, arriving less than a minute after the escape of the intruder, found flames shooting out of upstairs windows and encountered difficulty bringing the fast-spreading fire under control. An explosion which blew out windows was attributed to back draft.

The offices and cocktail lounge were badly damaged and water from firemen's hoses covered 20 bowling alleys in the rear. Assistant Fire Chief William Eckells estimated the Playdium's damage at $50,000. Glen Kennison, manager of the building, said if the alleys were warped

Boy Tackles Fleeing Man, Holds Him Till Police Come

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 9 (INS)—Springfield police said three teen-age boys on the way home from a high school football game last night gave police, and a woman in distress, a helping hand. The help enabled a charge of attempted robbery to be placed against Franklin Holmes, of Bethany.

Blanche Shryrock said she was near the business district walking home, when she turned to find a man whom she identified as Holmes standing with both arms spread, ready to grab her.

She screamed. A passing motorist stopped and gave chase on foot. Holmes fled around the side of a nearby house, with the motorist in pursuit.

The three boys saw the action. When Holmes raced around the house to what he thought was freedom, he met a flying tackle thrown at him in the dark by the oldest of the youngsters, Ken Lehman, 16 years old.

Lehman, in the struggle, bruised a knee. But he came up with a firm grip on the fugitive and warned: "If you move, I'll hit you."

Jim Barber, 13, and Jim McKee, 15, the other boys, moved up as reinforcements. A moment later, the panting motorist arrived to help hold the prisoner until police arrived.

The parents were worried when they saw their sons coming home in a police car, but were relieved to find they were heroes. One officer commented: "This is one time I enjoyed taking a youngster home to his parents."

EXPECTING 'HARD FIGHT' WHEN HE OFFERS TREATIES IN FINAL FORM

Premier Halts Debate on Preliminary Drafts and Demands Outright Vote of Confidence.

PARIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Premier Mendes-France predicted today the National Assembly will put its final approval within 60 days on the London decisions to rearm West German, but only after "a hard fight."

Mendes-France made the statement in an interview with Malcolm Forbes, a Republican State Senator from New Jersey.

The Premier has already asked that the Assembly give him a vote of confidence on Tuesday which would approve in general the decisions taken at the nine-nation London conference. He told the Assembly early today he would stake the life of his government on this vote.

Mendes-France wants backing for the additional agreements yet to be negotiated before the Assembly will be asked to ratify the London decisions in their final form. It is this action he says will come about 60 days hence.

Plans Visit to United States.

Mendes-France plans to go to the United States next month to visit President Eisenhower. He told Forbes, who also is editor and publisher of Forbes Magazine of Business, that a vote on the agreements to be worked out in connection with the London conference can be expected after he returns.

Mendes-France, referring to yesterday's debate in the Assembly, told Forbes that if a vote had been taken then, "I think there would have been about 240 for it, 220 against it and 180 abstaining. The debate was very difficult for us. The substance was not attacked, but many deputies don't like me and they hit at the lesser points of the agreements which are not at all to France's liking."

The Premier canceled today his weekly fireside chat. He will go to his Normandy constituency of Louviers tomorrow to deliver a speech he failed to make last week because he had to stay at the London conference. An aid said the speech would deal with the relationship between voters and elected officials.

Halts Debate.

Halting what threatened to become an all-night debate, Mendes-France told the Assembly last midnight it must either agree to the nine-nation plan or get a new government. He warned deputies that if they threw him out they might have to face new national elections.

The London agreements would permit West German rearmament as part of an expanded Brussels treaty organization and would give the West Germans full membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance. They were drafted as a substitute for the French-rejected European Defense Community Plan.

Takes Tough Line.

Mendes-France took a tough line with the Assembly, which has held up German rearmament since 1950.

He told the deputies he would accept no resolution except simple indorsement of the London agreements and his own speeches in the debate. The issue, he said, was one of confidence in his government.

Acknowledging justification for French fears of German rearmament, the Premier said the seven-nation European alliance proposed in the London agreements would give France more security than even EDC had offered.

In his 80-minute plea for national unity, Mendes-France appealed for the support of those who had favored the EDC plan. Many EDC proponents have expressed reservations about the new defense scheme.

"It is a law of life," the Premier said, "that nature does not move in jumps. The unification of a continent is something that takes a long time. We made progress toward building a united Europe at London."

Deputies Lukewarm.

Although some of Mendes-France's arguments hit home, the deputies showed little enthusiasm. Most of them were obviously depressed at the thought of rearmament of Germany, which has invaded France three times since 1870.

In making the issue a matter of confidence, Mendes-France won two days' time to rally public opinion. French parliamentary procedure requires one full calendar day between a request for a vote of confidence and the balloting. There can be no discussion Tuesday except

FRENCH FORCES QUIT HANOI DAY IN ADVANCE, REDS ENTER SUBURBS

Tricolor Comes Down in Ceremony Honoring 2 Heroes Who Conquered City in Last Century.

By JOHN RODERICK

HANOI, Indochina, Oct. 8 (AP) (delayed) — The French pulled out of Hanoi tonight, in advance of Communist-led Vietminh occupation forces.

The tricolor of France, which had flown over the city for most of 71 years, was lowered for the last time.

The Vietminh, with whom the French fought a bitter seven-year war, started edging toward the city at dawn. By midafternoon they were in possession of Bac Mai, the big military airport on the outskirts. At nightfall they were in the suburbs.

Tomorrow, the red gold-starred Vietminh flag will fly over Hanoi under terms of the July 21 Geneva armistice agreement, which turned over the northern half of Viet Nam to the Reds.

France said farewell to its rich colonial prize under a slanting rain and leaden skies.

Farewell Ceremony.

As the blue, white and red French standard dipped slowly to the earth in a simple ceremony at Stade Magin, two platoons of Algerian Spahis four miles away fired a farewell round over the grave of Capt. Henri Riviere.

Riviere and Ens. Francis Garnier were the conquerors of Hanoi in the closing years of the last century. Garnier, who first took Hanoi, died in 1873 at the hands of the Chinese Black Pavilion society, which coveted the city for the Chinese emperor. Riviere, who rewon the area for the French after Garnier's death, fell 10 years later in the city's defense.

The French are moving to the port of Haiphong, 65 miles east of Hanoi, which they are entitled to hold until next May.

There are very few troops from mainland France involved in the withdrawal. Most of them are Africans and Foreign Legionnaires, including many Italians and Germans.

So far there have been few outward signs of Viet Namese emotion at the Vietminh arrival. A Vietminh flag flies from a tailor shop across the street from the railway station. Judging from the amount of red and gold cloth sold in the past few days, it seems apparent that thousands of Vietminh flags will be broken out soon after they arrive.

French Section Lifeless.

In contrast to the Rue Paul Bert, the French quarter's main street, the Viet Namese areas appear to be doing business as usual, with a thousand curious commodities ranging from betel nut to buttons exhibited for sale.

The French sector had the empty quality of an abandoned stage set, unreal in its lifelessness.

Only the Metropole Hotel, headquarters of the Polish, Canadian and Indian members of the international control commission overseeing the armistice, bustled with activity. It is the central meeting place for newsmen and the few Frenchmen who are staying behind. Tomorrow, a Vietminh hotel keeper will take over the building from its French manager.

The cost of living has soared in the last few days. An ordinary meal costs between $5 and $10, a glass of orange juice $3.

So far, none of the 40 American, British, French, German, Swiss and Australian correspondents here have received any formal assurances they will be welcome after the Vietminh arrive, or that they will be able to leave when they wish. The international commission is busy trying to arrange these details.

PLANT FURNACE EXPLODES JUST AFTER MOLOTOV VISIT

BERLIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—A West German newspaper said today a furnace exploded at the huge J. V. Stalin Foundry in Stalinstadt yesterday just after a visit by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The Hamburg Bildzeitung said five workers were injured seriously and many others suffered minor injuries in the blast. It said there were rumors the explosion was set off by Western underground agents operating in Stalinstadt, on the East German-Polish border.

Molotov arrived in Communist-ruled East Germany earlier this week to help celebrate the fifth anniversary of the Soviet-aligned republic.

YUGOSLAV SAYS RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA ARE BETTER

OSLO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Relations between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia have improved "considerably" in the last year, Yugoslav Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj told a news conference here yesterday.

Kardelj said a Soviet trade delegation visited his country a month ago, signing contracts with Yugoslav firms.

"We regard this as a proof that the Soviet blockade of Yugoslavia has been lifted," the vice premier added. Kardelj is visiting Norway as a guest of the Norwegian Labor party.

for brief statements explaining party positions.

A weekend of intense political maneuvers was in prospect. Leaders of all Assembly factions are expected to meet and weigh the advantages of supporting the government, taking a stand against it or just not voting. If the vote goes against the Premier, he will automatically be out of office and France once again will be in the throes of a political crisis.

Negative Trend.

Mendes-France was forced into putting the issue to a confidence vote when the trend of the debate indicated he might otherwise find it difficult to obtain a sizable majority.

He wanted strong support from the Assembly with the idea this would strengthen his bargaining position both at home and when he resumes talks with France's allies to fill in details of the proposed defense organization.

At the start of the debate, observers believed he would almost certainly command a majority but as the evening wore on his margin appeared to grow smaller and smaller. Although few deputies except the Communists were determined to vote against him, there was a strong current in the Assembly in favor of not voting at all.

Restrictive Conditions.

Several factions — including the strongly pro-EDC Popular Republican movement—supported motions which, in effect, would call for restrictions on any German general staff. Under the London accords, the proposed German national army and general staff would become part of an Allied command. The old EDC plan called for enlistment of German troops in an international European army.

Mendes-France was reported resolutely opposed to tying any conditions to the Allied negotiations later this month on further details of the plan.

By the United Press.

The Socialists called a meeting for Monday to decide whether they will support Mendes-France in the confidence vote.

They want a clause in the London agreement guaranteeing that troops raised under the pact will be "pooled" thus barring the Germans from reforming their general staff.

Socialist support can mean life or death for Mendes-France's 4-month-old government.

YUGOSLAV BOARD APPROVES TRIESTE PACT AS 'TRIUMPH'

BELGRADE, Oct. 9 (UP)—Parliament's foreign affairs commission voted unanimously yesterday to approve the Trieste agreement.

The commission made its decision after acting Foreign Secretary Ales Bebler described the pact as "one of our greatest foreign policy triumphs."

The Federal Executive Council, which is equivalent to a cabinet, approved the agreement yesterday. But all the council's actions are subject to eventual ratification by Parliament.

BABY BORN IN TAXICAB, FATHER IS THE DRIVER

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Taxicab driver James Kramer's first passenger yesterday told him to step on the gas. It was his wife and she was about to have a baby.

Kramer had just left for work when his wife shouted out of a window:

"Jimmy, come back! I think it's time!"

When they pulled up at South Side Hospital Kramer got out of the cab with an 8-pound 12-ounce baby girl—their first child. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Fire Wrecks Refractory.

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 9 (AP) — Fire today destroyed about four-fifths of the plant of Corundite Refractories, Inc. Manager Earle Custer estimated the loss, including structure, machinery and raw materials, at $500,000. He said three-fourths of the company's 125 employes would be out of work.

Bidault Said to Have Injected New Element in Secrets Inquiry

Top French Military Officers, Members of Laniel Cabinet Testify — Present Ministers Also to Be Heard.

PARIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Former Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was reported today to have brought "certain rather important elements" to the military magistrate investigating France's defense secrets scandal.

No details were available on Bidault's testimony, which lasted less than half an hour.

Top Military Officers.

The magistrate, Maj. Jean de Resseguier, yesterday heard three of France's highest military officers—Marshal Alphonse Juin, Gen. Pierre Koenig, a former Defense Minister and Gen. Jean Ganveal, chief of the president's military staff. He is scheduled to hear 11 ministers of Premier Mendes-France's government this afternoon. Among them are Minister of Interior Francois Mitterand, Finance Minister Edgar Faure and Defense Minister Emmanuel Temple.

All had access to the meetings of the top secret Defense Council when information allegedly was fed to the Communists. Three weeks of testimony have disclosed one top leak and pointed to another possibly more important.

"Charles"—former Police Inspector Charles Delarue, alias Charles Cartier—was questioned on a trip he was reported to have made to the United States last spring in the company of John Dides, the chief police inspector who was suspended after agents found unauthorized documents in his possession.

Investigators were trying to learn the reasons for the trip and who gave Delarue a passport bearing the name Charles Cartier.

At the time the passport was delivered, Delarue was wanted for escaping from prison where he was serving an 18-year sentence for World War II collaboration with the Germans.

Named by Baranes.

Delarue was named by Andre Baranes, the Communist journalist who confessed he was a Red agent, as a member of the chain through which the Communists got vital secrets from the National Defense Council.

A former French Defense Ministry code clerk, Mms. Lucienne Mitivier-Lasseron, meanwhile sued the Ministry of Defense for $3342 indemnity for loss of her job.

She charged that as far back as 1952 she told her superiors confidential documents and telegrams bound for Indochina were being copied and taken from the ministry. She said "a mysterious woman" frequently entered the code room and took copies of telegrams.

When she complained of this, Mme. Mitivier-Lasseron said, she was transferred to another job.

The four key figures in the case will be brought together Monday for the first time since they were charged with endangering the security of the states.

They are Jean Mons, former permanent secretary general of the Defense Ministry; his personal secretary, Rene Turpin; the latter's friend, Roger Labrusse, and Baranes.

Mons is charged with negligence in connection with the leaks. Turpin and Labrusse are accused of passing information to Baranes.

EX-NAZIS REQUEST M'CARTHY'S HELP AS HIS 'ALLIES'

HAMBURG, Germany, Oct. 9 (AP)—An association of ex-Nazis has sent an open letter to Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep.), of Wisconsin, asking him to help end the "defamation of Germany" and get the "American Morgenthau boys out" of the country.

(The name of Henry Morgenthau, former Secretary of the Treasury, was connected with a plan to subject Germany to an agricultural, rather than an industrial future.)

Karl Ludwig Strieder, Hamburg state chairman of "the association of those damaged by de-Nazification" asked the Senator to regard the Nazis as his "allies, forerunners in battle, and prophets."

Political sources say the group has about 30,000 members.

The letter said German ex-Nazis approve of the "fighting aims" of the Senator, and invited McCarthy to join representatives of his group in conferences either in West Germany or in the United States.

RUSSIAN ARMY COMMANDER IN EAST GERMANY PROMOTED

BERLIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Andrei A. Grechko, commander-in-chief of Soviet occupation forces in East Germany, has been promoted from colonel general to general of the army, it was disclosed last night.

His promotion was disclosed with publication of a telegram signed with the new rank. The telegram congratulated the East German government on its fifth anniversary.

6 U.S. Warships Reach Japan.

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (UP) — The United States cruisers Toledo and Helena arrived at Yokosuka naval base south of Tokyo Friday from the United States, the Navy disclosed today. They were accompanied to Japan by four destroyers—the Ozbourn, Frank Knox, Hollister and Arnold J. Isbell.

MAGSAYSAY HIKES PRICE IN TALKS ON JAP REPARATIONS

MANILA, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Ramon Magsaysay stepped into the Philippines-Japan reparations negotiations tonight by scrapping an agreement negotiated by his Vice President and making it clear his country would seek more than $400,000,000 in payment.

Magsaysay's official position was made known in a press release.

Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, concurrently Foreign Secretary, had agreed with Japanese Minister Katsumi Ohno on $400,000,000 as the maximum Japan could pay.

Magsaysay supported the findings of a special committee he had sent to Japan. It reported that country could pay more.

UNIDENTIFIED AIRCRAFT DETECTED OVER ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 9 (UP) — Alaska Air Command spokesmen confirmed yesterday that "unidentified aircraft have been detected over Alaska," both by sighting of vapor trails and by radar plots, the Anchorage Daily News reported.

The spokesmen were quoted, however, "We have no knowledge of these aircraft being of Soviet origin," and "this headquarters has no knowledge of any Soviet flights over Alaska."

"They could have been the result of great circle flights of Scandinavian aircraft to and from Japan" and the radar plots "could have been a result of bush pilot activity in the northern Alaska region not recorded on flight plans." Alaskan Air Command added it "has no information on Russian aircraft powered by diesel engines.

Ceylon-China Trade Pact.

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ceylon and Communist China yesterday signed in Peiping their third annual contract to trade Ceylon's rubber for China's rice. A communique broadcast by Peiping radio said Red China will buy 50,000 metric tons of rubber from Ceylon and Ceylon will purchase 270,000 metric tons of rice.

PACT OPPOSED BY WEST REICH LABOR CONGRESS

Delegates Follow Socialist Line in Voting Against Rearming Proposal.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 9 (AP)—The West German Trade Union Federation, representing 6,000,000 workers, today voted to oppose the London agreement on the rearmament of West Germany.

A resolution adopted by 398 of the 400 delegates present said:

"We reject the rearmament of Germany as agreed upon during the nine-power conference in London as long as the possibilities for negotiations enabling the peaceful reunification of Germany have not yet been fully exploited."

The resolution was presented at the final session of the biennial congress by the federation's foreign policy committee.

The lower house of the West German parliament voted overwhelmingly Thursday to support the London agreement and Chancellor Adenauer's pro-Western policy.

The federation resolution described the agreement as "a preparation for a powerful political treaty system which seriously endangers not only the easing of international tension but also the possibility of reuniting Germany.

"The danger looms of creating a state dominated by the military and of ending efforts of the German workers' movement to build up political, social and economic democracy," it said.

The resolution followed the arguments presented by West Germany's powerful Socialist party, whose 151 deputies in the lower house of Parliament voted solidly against the London agreement in Thursday's balloting.

The federation also voted to fight for higher wages and the five-day week. Most Germans are now in a 48-hour week, as is the bulk of European labor.

The resolution charged that West German productivity has boomed but wages have not kept pace.

OXNAM ASSAILS USING FORCE TO BAR INTEGRATION

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9 (AP) — A Methodist bishop said yesterday that resorting to violence in refusing to obey the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation is "subversive."

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, addressing the Methodist Church's National Conference on Family Life, said the reaction to the court's ruling that Negroes and whites cannot be segregated in the nation's schools was "heartening beyond expression."

"But," he continued, "there are those among us who advocate disobedience to the law, who stand ready to use force to prohibit its execution."

After commenting that "surely a man has the unsegregated right to earn his living upon the basis of his character and his capacity, not upon the basis of his color," the bishop said those ready to use violence against the decision "apparently do not know that disobedience of the law leads to anarchy."

"Resort to violence and refusal to obey the law is subversive," he continued, "and does more to undermine democratic government that any traitor Communist can do."

ARREST OF EIGHT BRAZILIANS FOR KILLING MAJOR SOUGHT

RIO DE JANERIO, Oct. 9 (UP) —Civil Judge Costa Carvalho had under advisement today a prosecutor's formal request to arrest eight men for the killing of an Air Force major while attempting to assassinate a newspaper editor.

The formal indictments were filed yesterday by Prosecuting Attorney N. Araujo Jorge and included in the defendants the name of Benjamin Vargas, brother of the late President Getulio Vargas. Araujo asked for their preventive arrest.

Air Force Maj. Ruben Vaz was killed Aug. 5 by bullets intended for editor-publisher Carlos LaCerda, outspoken Vargas critic. The ensuing crisis led to attempts by the military to oust President Vargas and to his subsequent suicide.

Call-Bulletin's 100th Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9 (AP) —The Call-Bulletin began its centennial year today. The newspaper was founded by James King of William. It first was called the Daily Bulletin, and later a rival paper, the Morning Call, appeared. William Randolph Hearst purchased the Call in 1913, and bought the Bulletin in 1929.

Southeast Asia Chinese People Discounted as Red Fifth Column

British Commissioner General for Area Says 10,000,000 Living There Are Mostly on the Fence Politically.

By GEORGE H. HALL
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—Fears of a massive Communist fifth column in Southeast Asia composed of the so-called "overseas Chinese" are discounted for the present by Malcolm MacDonald, British Commissioner General for that area of the world and one of the West's best-informed experts on Asiatic affairs.

There are an estimated 10,000,000 Chinese or persons of Chinese descent who have settled in Southeast Asia. Including both rich and poor, they dominate the commercial life of many Asian cities. They are merchants and money-lenders, thrifty and industrious, usually disliked by the natives of the coutries in which they live, and are possessed of a great loyalty to China.

It is this loyalty that has aroused speculation in the West that these Chinese, many of them influential because of their wealth and the closely-knit Chinese organizations they direct, might aid Red Chinese infiltration and eventual domination of Southeast Asia. There is a question, however, whether the loyalty is to China, the ancestral homeland, or to a transient government. Many authorities contend it is the former.

MacDonald, son of the late British Labor Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, told an audience at the National Press Club yesterday he thought about 5 per cent of the overseas Chinese are Communists, 5 per cent are loyal to Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and "90 per cent are sitting on the fence waiting to see who will win."

Important in Indonesia.

The feeling of Red China toward the overseas Chinese is not clear. Communist China's constitution says the people's republic "protects the proper rights and interests of Chinese residents abroad." Mao Tse-tung, Chinese chief of state, has declared, however, that he would be willing to make no claim on the overseas Chinese.

The Chinese problem is an important one in many Southeast Asia communities, and particularly, at the moment, in Indonesia, where potential voters have begun to register in preparation for the young republic's first election, scheduled for early next year. The eligibility of the Chinese to vote is uncertain.

In Indonesia, where the Communists have a strong and sometimes controlling voice in the non-Communist government, fears have been expressed recently that the government planned to wipe out anti-Communist elements among the Chinese, estimated to number between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000.

MacDonald foresaw a long fight for Asia between the Communists and the free countries. He said "we are now moving into the third round of what may well be a classic 20-round contest."

Reds Won in Viet Nam.

The first round, MacDonald said, lasted from 1945 until 1948 and was a political struggle. The Communists lost that round and the democracies won. The second phase lasted from 1948 until the present and was predominantly military. The Communists tried force-of-arms in Burma, the Philippines, Malaya, Indonesia and elsewhere and were thrown back, but achieved a partial but important victory when they drove the French out of North Viet Nam.

In the third phase, just beginning, MacDonald said, the Communist weapons are likely to be economic and military, although Communist armed bands will try to recapture some of the strength they may have lost, in the hope that a larger shooting war will break out.

MacDonald continued:

"The situation is extremely dangerous. The Vietminh-Communists —with friendly support from Russia and China — are strongly entrenched in North Viet Nam. They are in a position to attempt infiltratiop into the weaker next-door states of Laos and Cambodia, and into the southern part of Viet Nam.

Elections to Be Held.

"Elections are to be held in all those countries during the next 20 months, and the Communists and fellow-travelers will take a full part in them. If they were ever to spread their control over these territories, they could then put increased pressure on Thailand and Burma across the frontiers, while endeavoring to extend their influence further afield. . . .

"If economic conditions for the Southeast Asian peoples were to become difficult, they could have successes. A great deal will depend on economic conditions. For example, a large part of the population of some of these countries is dependent on rubber production. That is why we keep asking our American friends to do everything that they reasonably can—consistent with their own national security —to help to sustain the natural rubber industry.

"The Communists can be stopped in Southeast Asia. We in the west can help greatly to prevent further Communist advances, and to maintain the freedom of the peoples there if we give their governments the support they need."

HONDURAS ELECTS PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS SUNDAY

The bitterest campaign in the country's history ended yesterday. President Juan Manuel Galvez ordered all armed forces to remain in their barracks.

The possibility of violence arose because the dominant Nationalist party was split for the first time in 20 years, causing fears that the results of the popular vote might be inconclusive. This might throw the election into the one-house Congress, where the Nationalists hold a majority. Such a development could be the signal for a revolution, political observers said.

Gen. Tiburcio Carias Andino, 78-year-old former dictator who ruled from 1933 to 1949, is the candidate of the regular Nationalist party organization.

HEMINGWAY TOP CANDIDATE FOR NOBEL LITERARY PRIZE

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 9 (AP)— Literary sources in Stockholm said today American novelist Ernest Hemingway is the top candidate for this year's Nobel prize for literature, with Icelandic writer Halldor Laxness running a close second.

Hemingway trailed Winston Churchill in the contest for last year's prize. The 1954 literary award amounts to 181,646 crowns ($35,066), the biggest in the 54-year history of the Nobel foundation.

The Greek writer Niko Kazantzakis, author of "Zorba, the Greek," was described as the dark horse in case of a dead heat between the American and the Icelander. The 18-member Swedish academy, which picks the literary prize winners, met this week with a list of about 30 candidates.

GROMYKO URGES 'NORMAL TRADE' TO CUT U.S. SURPLUS

MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told two United States Congressmen yesterday the United States could get rid of its agricultural surpluses if it had "normal trade relations" with all countries of the world.

Gromyko met Representatives O. Clark Fisher (Dem.), Texas, and Laurie C. Battle, (Dem.), Alabama, at a cocktail party at the United States embassy here. The two Representatives arrived in Moscow Wednesday on an unofficial visit.

Gromyko told the Congressmen American insistence on selling what it wanted to get rid of instead of what Russia wanted, such as industrial goods, was preventing United States-Soviet trade relations. He did not expand on this statement.

(Gromyko said the Soviet Union now favors "effective inspection" by an international atomic weapon control organ as part of a disarmament treaty, the United Press reported. It said he re-emphasized that the Soviets had dropped their demand for a bar on atomic weapons before they negotiate a disarmament agreement with the West.)

BOLIVIAN CABINET RESIGNS

LA PAZ, Oct. 9 (AP) — The Bolivian Cabinet resigned yesterday giving President Victor Paz Estenssoro a free hand to reorganize his Government.

The mass resignation followed the withdrawal from the Cabinet yesterday of Juan Lechin, Minister of Mines and Petroleum who quit under pressure from the mining union.

M'CARTHY NAMES JAMES JULIANA TO HEAD STAFF

Replacement for Carr Was Responsible for Cropping Photo of Schine, Stevens.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)— Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, has named James N. Juliana, acting executive director of his Permanent Investigations subcommittee staff.

Juliana testified in the Army-McCarthy hearings last spring that he had ordered cropping of the famous photograph of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Pvt. G. David Schine.

Juliana succeeds Francis P. Carr as the subcommittee's staff chief. Carr, one of the principals in the stormy dispute between the Army and McCarthy, has resigned effective Oct. 31 to join a trucking firm with headquarters in New York.

McCarthy said yesterday he will submit Juliana's appointment to the subcommittee for formal approval at its first meeting after the Senate reconvenes on Nov. 8 to consider censure recommendations against McCarthy.

The Wisconsin Republican did not mention in his statement telegrams sent to him yesterday by the subcommittee's three Democratic members. Senators Henry M. Jackson of Washington, John L. McClellan of Arkansas and Stuart Symington of Missouri told McCarthy that they did not approve of Juliana's appointment at this time. They asked that action on his appointment be held up for subcommittee consideration in November.

He testified at the sixth session of the marathon Army-McCarthy investigation that it was his idea to crop the photograph showing Stevens and Schine standing together beside an airplane at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

He said he had no "malicious intent," however, and was not trying to trick or deceive the subcommittee. The uncropped photo showed Stevens, Schine, an Army officer and the sleeve of a fourth person.

IF YOU WANT TO SEE DULLES, GO TO AIRPORT, AID QUIPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (INS) —At a State Department news briefing a German correspondent asked spokesman Henry Suydam when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would have his next news conference.

When Suydam replied he did not know, the reporter complained "it's been so long since I've seen the secretary I hardly remember what he looks like."

Suydam's answer was greeted with roars of laughter. Suydam retorted: "You don't frequent the airport." Dulles has flown over 150,000 miles since becoming Secretary of State.

CAPEHART SAYS MORE WILL BE INDICTED IN FHA FUND SCANDALS

Recesses Inquiry to Nov. 9—Powell's Conduct to Be Presented to Grand Jury in Capital for Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Chairman Homer E. Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, said today he expects "a lot more" indictments to result from the Senate Banking committee's investigation of postwar housing financed with Government-insured loans.

The committee recessed four days of hearings here late yesterday, but Capehart ordered subpenas for five witnesses to appear at a hearing Nov. 9. He emphasized the investigation is not concluded.

Earlier, Capehart had indicated hearings were over except for persons who wished to testify because they thought they were injured in previous testimony.

A special Federal grand jury in Washington has been instructed by Attorney General Herbert Brownell to "inquire into bribery and other criminal conduct in the Federal housing program," and grand juries also have been convened in other cities.

Daily Indictments.

Capehart said indictments are showing up almost daily and added, "there should be a lot more."

Brownell announced the District of Columbia grand jury would inquire specifically into the conduct of Clyde L. Powell, ousted last April as assistant Federal Housing Administration commissioner in charge of the rental housing program.

Powell, three times a witness before the Senate committee, refused to answer questions. He claimed constitutional protection against possible self-incrimination.

The committee received testimony that Powell, a former St. Louisian, had demanded and got $10,000 to increase an FHA commitment on a Washington apartment project loan and that, in a 10-year period, he had banked $138,000 more than his net federal salary.

Will Seek More Funds.

Capehart said the banking committee could "go on for a year with hearings like we've had." He told reporters he would ask the Senate for authority and funds to continue the investigation all next year. So far, he said, the committee has received $225,000.

Capehart said that although the public hearings are in recess, his staff will look into "some other irregularities." He said work would be done also on an interim report to the Senate.

Three of the witnesses to be summoned to the Nov. 9 hearing are Robert McCormack of nearby Arlington, Va., Louis Lesser, a Beverly Hills (Calif.) builder, and Rocco De Grazia, described by Capehart as a "reputed gambler" in the Chicago area.

The committee heard yesterday that McCormack was paid $27,500 in fees for bringing clients interested in defense housing projects to a Washington lawyer. The committee wants information about a cashier's check Powell allegedly sent to De Grazia.

Capehart said the committee had tried without success to question McCormack, Lesser and De Grazia at the hearings ended yesterday.

Two Lawyers Recalled.

The committee also directed two attorneys to return Nov. 9 after unsuccessful efforts yesterday to clear up questions about large sums which passed through their hands.

They are Arthur M. Chaite of Washington who did work for Ian Woodner, a New York and Washington builder, and Abraham Traub of Brooklyn, whose clients included 15 builders of big Government-insured apartment projects in New York.

Chaite had testified previously he received $66,000 from Woodner over a period of several years. But the committee said yesterday an audit of Woodner's books by the General Accounting Office, disclosed that $155,000 had been listed as paid to Chaite. The committee demanded an explanation of the apparent $90,000 discrepancy.

In many cases, Chaite said he had no recollection of why the checks were drawn.

ILLINOIS COLLISION FATAL TO ST. LOUISAN

His Auto Swerves Across Center Line, Sideswipes Truck.

R. B. Davis, 3037 Lawton boulevard, was killed today when the automobile he was driving swerved across the center line and sideswiped a truck on U.S. Highway 66 four miles north of Edwardsville, Illinois police reported. Davis, a Negro, was 26 years old.

Driver of the truck was Harry Gardner, Burnettsville, Ind., who drove onto the shoulder of the highway, where it turned over, as he attempted to avoid an accident, police said. He suffered minor injuries.

James Davis, 428 Montrose avenue, brother of R. B. Davis and a passenger in his car, suffered minor injuries.

Colonel G. Dawson, leader of a three-piece hillbilly band, was killed today when the car he was driving went out of control in the 2900 block of St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, and struck a utility pole. Witnesses told police the automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Two passengers in the automobile were seriously injured. They were: Charles Burger, 3920A Easton avenue, and Miss Opal Hooker, 4165 Westminster place.

Police said Dawson's band played at an inn in East St. Louis and in a tavern in St. Louis.

George F. Rauth, 1521 East College avenue, suffered fractures of both legs last night when was struck by an automobile as he was crossing North Broadway in the 5200 block.

George F. Rauth, 53, of 1521 East College avenue, died today at Homer G. Phillips Hospital of injuries suffered last night when he was struck by an automobile as he was crossing North Broadway in the 5200 block.

Driver of the car was Robert S. Beins, 9200 Riverwood drive, Jennings, police reported. Beins said he did not see Rauth in time to avoid striking him.

BELGIUM GIVES U.N. TAPESTRY, YARN TOTALS 94,000 MILES

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 9—A tapestry with 94,000 miles of yarn, believed to be the largest ever woven, was presented to the United Nations yesterday by Belgium.

The huge work, measuring 43½ feet by 28½ feet, weighs 300 pounds and was designed to fit a section of the north wall of the delegates' entrance to the General Assembly building.

Its predominant colors are blues and golds. In the center of the design doves of peace approach a fountain of good will. A heroic size female figure representing both Mother Earth and the United Nations is seen stopping a fight between groups of men.

Peter Colfs, of Antwerp, the designer who won a nation-wide contest among more than 100 artists, placed typical countryside and city scenes from all continents around the border.

Delegate Fernand van Langenhove, who gave the tapestry to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, said it was chosen as Belgium's gift because tapestry-weaving in his country was an ancient art and tradition.

Gaspard de Wit, the master weaver of the tapestry, said it took him and 39 other workers 14 months to make it.

MERCHANT SLUGGED, ROBBED OF $200 BY 2 ARMED MEN

Fred Horst, co-owner of Schulz Feed Co., was slugged and injured seriously yesterday by one of two armed men who held him up in his store at 6523 Manchester avenue.

tered. They drew pistols and one struck Horst on the head with his weapon, knocking the merchant to the floor.

The robbers stole a wallet containing about $200 from Horst's pocket, he said, and then fled. Horst was taken to City Hospital.

'Boss' Crump 'Little Better.'

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 9 (AP)—The condition of E. H. Crump was described as "a little better" today but the 80-year-old Memphis political leader still was seriously ill at his home. He is in an oxygen tent part of the time.

FLAMES SWEEP PLAYDIUM IN EAST ST. LOUIS

by water the cost of replacing them would be about $100,000.

Other Firms Damaged.

The flames quickly ate into the adjoining Schuck Linoleum Co., 345 Collinsville. Owner Paul Abt estimated damage to his building and stock at $10,000. Some damage also was caused at the B & P Office Supply Co., 343 Collinsville.

Eight pieces of equipment responded to the alarm and the fire was brought under control after an hour and a half. Busses using Collinsville avenue were rerouted as was motor traffic on St. Louis and Illinois avenues.

The Playdium is leased by Terry Moore, manager of the Philadelphia National League ball club, and his brother, Frank Moore, professional golfer, both of St. Louis. The building originally was erected as a vaudeville and motion picture theater. It was first known as the Lyric Theater and later as the Orpheum.

G.O.P. CANDIDATE ASSAILS CITY RULE BY DEMOCRATS

The Democrats' administration of St. Louis's municipal government has been "inefficient and corrupt" William C. Lochmoeller, Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney, charged last night. He spoke at a meeting of the Tenth Ward Republican Organization.

"Time after time, evidences of corruption on the part of Democrats have been uncovered. Who knows how much undisclosed skullduggery has been going on? None of us is so naive as to think that, with so much already having been discovered, there isn't other Democrat corruption that has been successfully concealed," he said.

In support of his charge, Lochmoeller cited the voting irregularities in the August primary election, which are under investigation by the circuit court grand jury, and the pending indictments against two members of the Board of Aldermen for allegedly soliciting and receiving bribes.

NEWS STORY REPORTS WRONG DAMAGE SUIT DEFENDANT

A news item in yesterday's Post-Dispatch erroneously reported that Wilson-Keith Co., 4140 Chippewa street, was named as a defendant in two suits totaling $100,000 for damages. Instead they were brought against Laclede Gas Co. and Universal Match Corp.

Mrs. Blanchie Madden, Negro, 1711 Papin street, asked $15,000 for the death of her husband, Roosevelt Madden, as a result of the fire and explosion at Wilson-Keith Co. last June 10. Suit for $85,000 was filed by Miss Bette M. Block, 6047 Westminster place, for personal injuries.

TWO ROB STORE OF $250

A total of $250 was stolen yesterday by two men who held up a food shop operated by Max Newman at 2701 Gamble street, police reported. The robbers, both Negroes, were armed with revolvers. They ordered Newman and his wife to lie on the floor and took the money from his pockets.

CARL HUNT IS HELD IN BANK ROBBERY

Notorious Fence Charged With Participation in Pevely (Mo.) Holdup.

Carl Hunt, notorious fence and former convict, was held today on a federal information charging him with participation in the $40,173 robbery of the Bank of Pevely last June 27.

Hunt, on bond in two felony convictions in the state courts, appeared before United States Commissioner Edwin J. Bean, who issued the information at the request of Assistant United States Attorney Herbert H. Freer. He was turned over to the United States Marshal and locked up at Police Headquarters.

Two other former convicts, Robert M. Hickman, 56 years old, and Robert T. Weaver, 47, are charged in the Pevely robbery, which was committed by two men clad in overalls. The overalls and a stolen automobile used by the robbers were found later on a country road. Hunt's fingerprints were discovered in the automobile, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported.

Lie Detector Test Indication.

St. Louis police also received information linking Hunt with the robbery. A report that some of the stolen cash was hidden in his apartment at 2417A Hadley street led to a search of the premises last Thursday. The money was not found but a lie detector test indicated that Hunt was being untruthful when he said he had no knowledge of the bank holdup, police said.

Hickman, who had been living in a trailer camp near the Meramec river, is held in City Jail in default of $50,000 bond. Weaver was at liberty on bond in the $11,997 holdup early this year of a Public Service Co. dispatcher when he was arrested in Evansville, Ind., last month several hours after a bank there was robbed of $10,322. He is in federal custody at Evansville.

Hunt was found guilty of automobile theft by a circuit court jury last May 19, and his punishment was fixed at five years in the penitentiary. The penalty was in addition to a sentence of two years for receiving stolen property received in circuit court last March.

Record of 40 Arrests.

Hunt, 36 years old, has a record of more than 40 arrests for investigation in crimes including violation of liquor laws, the Mann Act, automobile theft and receiving stolen property. He served a federal prison sentence for selling liquor which did not bear the proper stamps.

In 1951 large quantities of stolen goods, including weapons and ammunition, were recovered from his home.

He formerly operated the Glass Slipper, a night club at 2411 Hadley street. Renewal of the license for sale of liquor by the drink in the establishment was refused by the excise commissioner last June because of Hunt's record.

Indonesia Naval Ship Contract.

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—Indonesia has given an Italian shipyard a $12,800,000 contract to build two destroyers and two escort vessels for its fledgling navy.

Mile in Air Is Four Feet Shorter Than It Was Nine Days Ago

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Few American pilots may be aware of it, but the nautical mile by which they now are flying is about four feet shorter than it used to be.

United States aviation switched from the statute mile (5280 feet) to the nautical mile nine days ago and so far no difficulties have been reported.

For many years, the Navy, the Coast Guard and some other agencies operated with a nautical mile 6080.20 feet long.

But last July 1, a change was made officially to an international standard nautical mile of 6076.10333 feet.

A National Bureau of Standards official called the change in the length of the nautical mile "purely academic." He said it doesn't affect "the calibration of any navigation instrument, nor any map or chart, nor any navigation procedure."

Both the old and the new distances were arbitrary figures. The nautical mile, by definition, is one minute, or one 21,600th, of the earth's circumference. There are 60 minutes in a degree and 360 degrees in the circle which is the circumference. But since the earth is not a perfect sphere, there is no exact measure of its circumference.

In addition to the United States figure of 6080.20 feet, there was a British standard of 6080 feet and a French mile of 6076.20 feet. The figure which the United States has just adopted was determined in 1929 at an international conference on weights and measure and is the equivalent of 1852 meetrs. the equivalent of 1852 meters.

A Bureau of Standards official the new unit primarily in the interest of good international relationships. He said he did not know whether it had been adopted also by the British and by the Russians, who also had rejected the 1929 standard at the time it was fixed.

MISSOURI AFL BACKS KARSTEN, MRS. SULLIVAN

Failure to Indorse Buder Viewed as Increasing Curtis's Chances of Re-election.

United States Representatives Frank M. Karsten and Mrs. Leonor K. Sullivan, St. Louis Democratic incumbents, were indorsed yesterday by Missouri's Labor League for Political Education for re-election in the Nov. 2 general election.

The league, the AFL state political action group, also reaffirmed its indorsement of Paul W. Preisler, nonpartisan candidate for Congress in the Second District.

Failure of the league to back Eugene H. Buder, the Democratic nominee in the Second District race, is viewed as increasing the chances of the Republican incumbent, Representative Thomas B. Curtis of Webster Groves, for re-election.

Won Right to Run.

Preisler, who won the right to run as a nonpartisan candidate for Congress under a decision of the Missouri Supreme Court, is an attorney and research associate in bio-chemistry at the Washington University School of Medicine.

The AFL political action group did not comment on its reasons for backing Preisler. Other union leaders have said Buder, a Clayton attorney, was unacceptable to labor because he had engaged in litigation adverse to unions. Buder has vigorously denied he is against labor.

Indorsement of Karsten, the First District incumbent, and of Mrs. Sullivan in the Third District race was expected, as both had labor backing in their previous campaigns.

Consistent Support.

In supporting Karsten, the Missouri L.L.P.E. declared he "has consistently, not only through his vote but through active participation, fought for legislation in the interest of workers in his district." It said Karsten supported all economic measures in their behalf, including rent control for St. Louis and salary increases for postal workers.

Bill Bangert, Karsten's Republican oponent, complained in a letter to the AFL Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday that "someone" is attempting to infer he is opposed to labor.

"I want to assure you," he said, "I have every intention to protect all of labor's rights and to foster a better position in society for labor's bulwark of working men and women."

BUDER SAYS G.O.P. PLAYS CITY WORKER AGAINST FARM

The Republican Administration "is playing the workers in the city against the workers on the farm," Eugene H. Buder, Democratic nominee for Congress from the Second District, said last night at a Democratic rally at Ballwin.

Asserting that farm income has fallen from 7 per cent of the national income in 1953 to 5½ per cent this year, Buder said: "City people are expected to approve of this cut on the theory that they will pay less for food. But farm prices have been declining steadily while food prices have been going up, and this gap probably will keep on spreading. The Republicans won't even try to find out what is causing this gap.

"City people have an interest in what happens to the farmer, but that interest is not to grind him down. It is to build him up so that he can buy the products made in city factories. More distress on the farm is only going to add to unemployment in the city."

GETS 4 MONTHS, FINED $225 ON DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE

Robert Milton Stagner, 5300 block of Vernon avenue, was sentenced to four months in the workhouse and fined $225 yesterday by Police Judge Morris Rosenthal when he was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and careless driving.

Stagner, a laborer employed by the city's traffic division, was arrested April 10 on Belt avenue near Cabanne avenue by an off-duty policeman, Patrolman Paul Kramer. The officer said he saw Stagner's automobile strike a man in the 5400 block of Delmar boulevard. The injured man, Robert Jackwony, 5450 Delmar, suffered a broken leg.

At the time of his arrest police said Stagner admitted having had six to eight bottles of beer. Three vehicles were sideswiped. A warrant has been issued by the Circuit Attorney's office charging Stagner with feloniously leaving the scene of an accident.

QUEEN ELIZABETH LIFTS DIVORCE BAR AT ASCOT

LONDON, Oct. 9 (INS)—Queen Elizabeth II yesterday removed the barrier against "guilty" parties in divorce cases from entering the royal enclosure at the Ascot races—high point of the social season.

The size of the enclosure will be doubled to handle the expected increase in attendance.

NEGRO APPOINTED JUDGE

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 9 (AP)—Michigan's circuit court bench is going to have its first Negro judge.

He is Wade H. McCree Jr., 34-year-old Detroit lawyer. McCree was appointed by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams last night to the second highest judiciary in the state. Only the state supreme court is higher.

$32,076 CLAIM AGAINST KNETZER ESTATE DENIED

Jury Rules Against Investor Who Gave Funds to Edwardsville Confidence Man.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 9 (UP)—A United States district court jury last night denied the $32,076 claim of Ralph W. Riley, former Boonville (Mo.) implement dealer, against the estate of the late Robert L. Knetzer, Edwardsville auto salesman and confidence man.

Riley had argued he gave Knetzer the money for investment in Knetzer's schemes to make money from oil, lumber, Christmas trees and gold. Riley said Knetzer instead used the money to replace missing assets in his bankrupt estate.

Knetzer sold new-used cars and tractors far under market prices from 1946-48 but went broke when he couldn't make deliveries to hundreds of depositors who placed orders for vehicles.

He was finally jailed in 1950 when the United States district court determined he was withholding $250,000 in assets. During the next two years he was freed numerous times on his promise to deliver the $250,000. He eventually turned over $175,000 to the court.

Before Knetzer's death in 1953 while he was appealing a conviction for concealing assets, it was established he got much of the $175,000 from lenders who sought to share in his get-rich-quick schemes.

But some lenders also thought Knetzer would repay them from hidden funds if he could free himself of court claims.

Judge J. Leroy Adair told the jury of seven men and five women they should decide whether Riley knew Knetzer was turning the money over to the court or was deceived as he claimed.

The jury's denial of Riley's claim kept intact the assets of about $350,000 which several hundred creditors, claiming more than a million dollars, will share from the Knetzer estate.

U.S. REGRETS READ AT FUNERAL FOR H-BOMB VICTIM

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (AP)—United States Ambassador John M. Allison expressed hope that "no such accident should happen again" in a message read today at funeral services for the Japanese fisherman who died following exposure to H-bomb radiation.

Allison's message was read at services for Aikichi Kuboyama, 40 years old, who died Sept. 23 after being dusted by atomic ashes last March.

The services were held at the fishing port of Yaizu, Kuboyama's home. Earlier services had been in Tokyo following his death and cremation.

Kuboyama was one of 23 fishermen aboard the Lucky Dragon, 80 miles from the center of a hydrogen bomb blast at Bikini.

The Ambassador's message was read by Minister J. Graham Parsons of the American embassy in Tokyo.

SUIT TO CLOSE CLAYTON NURSERY SCHOOL DISMISSED

A petition for an injunction to bar operation of a nursery school by Mrs. Sally Neiger at her home, 7112 Wydown boulevard, Clayton, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones at Clayton yesterday.

In arguments on the motion to dismiss the suit, Mrs. Neiger's lawyer contended that the plaintiff, Miss Constance McLaughlin, 7130 Wydown, could not bring suit because she was not the owner of record of the property in which she lived, and that the suit had been outlawed by passing of the statutory limit of five years. He said Mrs. Neiger had been operating the school for seven years.

Miss McLaughlin's petition contended operation of the school violated a subdivision restriction prohibiting businesses in the neighborhood. In addition to Mrs. Neiger the suit named the owners of the property at 7112 Wydown and three agents for Claverach Park subdivision as defendants.

TODAY IS DEADLINE FOR NEW VOTERS IN ST. LOUIS TO REGISTER

TODAY is the last day on which new voters in St. Louis may register for the Nov. 2 general election. The office of the Board of Election Commissioners, 208 South Twelfth boulevard, will remain open until 5 p.m.

Registrants must be citizens of the United States, residents of the city for 60 days and of the state for a year by the date of the election, and mut be 21 years old by Nov. 3.

Today also is the last day for transfer of registrations by persons who have moved since they last voted. Persons who move from one address to another after today will have until Oct. 23 to transfer their registrations in person at the election office.

9432 LANDLORDS WARNED TO CLEAN UP IN BROOKLYN

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—A total of 9432 landlords of 11,107 Brooklyn buildings appeared before Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh yesterday for a "clean up or else" warning.

Magistrate Murtagh repeated the warning 27 times to groups of about 450 landlords. He told the landlords they were all charged with violations of the city's multiple-dwelling law. He said that within a week they must hire contractors to make necessary repairs and alterations.

The work must be done by March 31, when the department would re-inspect the premises, Murtagh said.

DETECTIVE SHOOTS MAN FLEEING FROM QUESTIONING

A man who gave his name as James Williams, 23 years old, was shot in the right arm early today by Detective Sgt. Frank O'Neill after he fled when O'Neill sought to question him in the burglary of the rooming houses.

Williams, a Negro, who gave an address in the 4000 block of Kennerly avenue, was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital. Residents of a rooming house at 3721 Westminster place had reported earlier that a prowler took a box of dresses and $25 from an unoccupied room.

A short time later a prowler took a purse containing $1 from a room at 3687 Olive street. Frank Miller, who lives at the Westminster place address, accosted Williams at Spring and Olive streets and hailed O'Neill. Williams dropped the box of dresses in an altercation with Miller, police said.

GROCERY OPERATOR CHARGED WITH TAKING RACE BETS

Mrs. Lulu Martha Kirby, 8 Parkland place, was arrested yesterday and charged with setting up and keeping a common gaming house at the Handy Grocery Store, 1012 Hamilton boulevard, which she operates.

Police gambling squad members led by Sgt. Robert Matteson confiscated $150 worth of betting tabs and scratch sheets and betting forms. Mrs. Kirby admitted taking bets, police said. The establishment was under police surveillance for several weeks.

DAVID HOGAN FUNERAL HELD

Funeral services for David Hogan, an industrial relations counselor, who died yesterday of a heart ailment at Missouri Baptist Hospital, were held today at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. Burial is to be in Campbellsville, Ky.

Mr. Hogan, 74 years old, lived with a brother, former Circuit Judge Granville Hogan on U.S. Highway 67, Florissant. He is also survived by another brother, Dr. John Hogan of Twin Lakes, Wis.

SCHOOL BOARD STUDYING PLANS FOR HOME RULE

Legislative Committee Is Looking for a New Way to Obtain Unit Control for System.

A shift of tactics in obtaining unit control for the St. Louis public school system was indicated yesterday as the legislative committee of the Board of Education began to study the possibility of obtaining home rule authority from the state legislature.

As envisaged, home rule would theoretically permit the board to determine its own type of organization.

Citing continued failure to get authorization for unit control from the legislature, committee member H. M. Stolar suggested investigation of alternative authority and a study of laws governing other school systems.

Kansas City System Cited.

Discussion centered on the Kansas City system, under which, it was said, the Board of Education is allowed to select its own organization, unit control or otherwise, without authority from the legislature.

Stolar reasoned that if the Kansas City system would benefit St. Louis, the legislature would find it harder to turn down a request for such authority here, since the other major city in the state already is operating under a home rule plan.

"The problem is rushing to Jefferson City each time we need some little thing," he said. "Responsibility should be in the community."

Oscar A. Ehrhardt, chairman of the Board of Education, agreed that a change to home rule was "worthy of investigation," but urged further study of the effects.

Not Just for a Change.

"I don't want change for changes sake," he said. "I would point out that some statutes are not without their merits."

The committee then authorized Mervyn Wiethaupt, secretary-treasurer of the board, to study other school systems and the statutory provisions governing them. Wiethaupt said his survey would include systems in the 20 largest cities in the country, with a view of determining the best aspects of those systems that might be applicable to St. Louis.

Number One Problem.

The Public Schools Advisory Committee said yesterday that inadequate physical facilities for a growing number of school children is the No. 1 problem faced by St. Louis schools.

Alfred Schindler, chairman of the group, which is taking constructive steps to support and improve public education, said only two other cities in the United States crowd as many children into one room as is done in St. Louis.

As a result, he said, St. Louis children are receiving eighth grade certificates without adequate grounding in elementary subjects. Two thirds of 3000 eighth grade graduates tested last year were substandard in reading and literature and three fourths were substandard in composition and spelling, he said.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Hold That Temperature!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

"The temperature in St. Louis is now 71 . . . 76 . . . 74 . . . 72 . . ."

A small thing, the morning temperature as it comes from the radio each work-day morning. Yet how effectively it could guide us in selecting comfortable clothes for the new day if only we knew which radio station had the right temperature. None of them ever seem to agree.

Of course, there are those loyal listeners who keep the radio dial at one spot. They can go to work secure in the knowledge that the temperature is 74, or 70, or whatever the man said. They start the new day unburdened by doubts. But I'm the nervous type. I keep changing the dial.

Visiting other cities, the problem is less complex. The hotel telephone operator tells you, "Good morning. It is 9:45 and the temperature is 72." Ah, 72 degrees. No one calls later to say the temperature is 75 or 69. Your knowledge is specific . . . inflexible . . . unyielding . . . until you go outside and realize you were tricked into wearing a light suit instead of a heavy one, or vice versa. Hotel telephone operators seem to know less about temperature readings than radio announcers.

Why not a man-to-man conference of all St. Louis radio station executives with their thermometers? Let them meet at one spot—the riverfront would be a good one. Read the temperatures. Any thermometers which deviate in the slightest from the temperatures recorded by the majority may promptly be thrown to the catfish. Or just throw them all in the river. Who cares what the radio temperature is, anyway? I don't. I bought my own thermometer and threw away the radio. ROLAND L. MEYER JR.

The High Cost of Juice

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your comment on savings possible in the White House if it could only buy electrical juice from some such Government subsidized power house as TVA is surely a joke to intelligent people.

For we all know that the TVA authority, erected originally to harness power and now operating largely on steam power and giving jobs to even more bureaucrats, has two direct subsidies.

It pays no profit or income tax and it also pays no interest on its appropriations from Congress. But even in 1954 a lot of people are ignorant of the economic facts of life, and I am not surprised to see your newspaper cater to that crowd of uninformed.

FRANKLIN R. HYDE,
Pierre, S. Dak.

Dead as a Dodo

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Though not easy at best, Republican National Chairman Hall's task of attributing G.O.P. reverses in Maine to purely "local" issues would have been much, much easier had no less a dignitary than the Vice President not previously declared that the Maine election would constitute a true test of the Grand Old Party's national popularity.

But, bad as this Nixon statement was from the point of view of Mr. Hall whose labors it rendered infinitely more difficult, I seriously doubt that it disturbs Mr. Hall nearly as much as another of our hotspur-like Vice President's rash pre-election statements.

Mr. Nixon, it will be remembered, has also declared that the Republican party will be as "dead as the dodo bird" if it doesn't retain control of Congress in the forthcoming election and, from all indications, there is at least a strong possibility that it won't.

Imagine the embarrassing predicament of the Republican National Chairman on the morning of Nov. 3 if the Democrats did happen to regain control of Congress. At the inevitable news conference some enterprising reporter is bound to ask the obvious question worded something like this:

"Mr. Hall, is it true, now that your party has lost control of Congress, that, as Vice President Nixon declared it would be if you did, that the Republican party is now actually 'as dead as the dodo bird'?"

CHARLES CUNNINGHAM.

A Warning of Trouble?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The adults who are back of the unrest that is being promoted among high school students in Washington, Baltimore and Milford are playing right into the hands of our enemies.

Every law abiding American citizen must accept the law of our land.

In the city of St. Louis we have a minority group that is already at work to destroy the fine efforts that have been made. They have been putting their literature of hate on our streets. All people of St. Louis must be on the alert to prevent them from causing us trouble.

BERTHA RHODA.

An Unpalatable Drink?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I recently returned from Milwaukee where they have fluoridation of the water, which was very unpalatable, to say the least.

I hope that in some way this stuff may still be kept out of our good St. Louis drinking water. J.L.B.

Those G.M. Contracts

The dispute between Senator Jackson of Washington and Secretary of Defense Wilson over General Motors' defense contracts comes down to a question of what the facts are.

Senator Jackson says G.M., of which Mr. Wilson was president before becoming a Cabinet member, is receiving the preponderance of defense contracts because of Wilson policy. Senator Douglas of Illinois, supporting his Northwestern colleague, blasts a "shocking drift of defense contracts to General Motors."

Secretary Wilson says commitments for all these contracts were made in the Truman Administration and his department is only following through on them.

In either case, the large question remains: Is it in the national interest for G.M.'s contracts to be increased $1,700,000,000 during the first 18 months of the Eisenhower Administration while new defense contracts to all other automobile producers are declining by $395,000,000?

More particularly, is this present trend in defense contracts a good thing for the country as a whole at a time when G.M. and Ford are engaged in a battle for first place and Chrysler and the independent producers are fighting for their lives in a dangerously contracting market? Ford and G.M. are occupying some 84 per cent of the market, Chrysler is down to 12 per cent, and the independents' market has been more than halved, to about 4 per cent.

One of the consequences has been unemployment in the labor forces of some of the independents. Another is a pay cut at Studebaker.

Still another is a wave of mergers: Willys and Kaiser, Nash and Hudson, Packard and Studebaker.

A policy of spreading more of the defense contracts among the distressed independents might have the effect of maintaining wages and employment. It might help preserve factories and labor forces which are parts of the nation's defense plant.

Chrysler, for instance, has just received a $160,600,000 Army contract for Patton M-48 medium tanks, on which it was low bidder, $7,600,000 under G.M. This business should help Chrysler in its strenuous efforts to make a comeback after seeing its markets severely reduced.

It may restore employment as close to home as Granite City, where 2000 employes of General Steel Castings Corp., a Chrysler subcontractor, were laid off a year ago when tank production was concentrated in G.M.

The entire situation with respect to the automotive industry and defense contracts could bear an impartial investigation to determine, not only what is being done now, but also what may best be done in the future.

Egypt, the Suez and Israel

Israel's future may depend to a large extent on what action the United Nations Security Council takes on Egypt's interference with Israeli shipping in the Suez Canal as exemplified last month in the seizure of a small Israeli freighter, the Bat Galim. Although the Israeli-Arabian war ended in 1948, the Jewish state's relations with the entire Arab bloc, and particularly Egypt, have been becoming increasingly tense during 1954. In short, Israel is economically blockaded.

A trump card played against Israel is harassment that practically denies her any use of the Suez Canal. Israel has to use the 14,000-mile detour by way of the Cape of Good Hope and Gibraltar. She has to get her oil from Venezuela or Soviet Russia instead of the nearby fields of the Middle East. Countries beyond Suez, particularly Thailand, Burma, Ethiopia, the Union of South Africa and British East Africa, have expressed a willingness to accept large amounts of all kinds of Israeli goods.

The Security Council called on Egypt in September 1951, to drop the canal restrictions against Israeli but Cairo took no heed. Israel has had no other recourse but to trade more and more with Russia. She also has been carrying on talks over cultural relations with Russia and has reactivated the Israel-Soviet Friendship League. The respective diplomatic missions in Moscow and Tel Aviv have been raised to embassy rank.

Thus Egypt's recalcitrance is hurting not only the struggling young state of Israel but also the entire Western alliance. In the interests of fairness and as a means of keeping Russia from stirring up trouble in the Middle East, the Security Council should see that Israel gets the same treatment that other nations get in use of the Suez Canal.

Till After the Election

Postponement of the Senate-House hearings on the Dixon-Yates contract until after the Nov. 2 elections can hardly fail to lend color to charges that the Republicans are afraid of the effect a full disclosure of the facts would have on their chances at the polls.

Representative Cole of New York, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, and Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, who will conduct the hearings—both of them Republicans—apparently sought to lessen this effect by saying that Democrats as well as Republicans asked for the postponement.

It has been clear enough all along that there would be difficulties in getting the 18-member committee together in Washington before the elections. The nine Representatives and four of the nine Senators on the committee are candidates in November. Understandably they would be loath to absent themselves from their campaigns at any time in the crucial final weeks. But Chairman Cole was assuredly aware of this phase of the matter, and he said less than three weeks ago that the hearings were not to be postponed until after the elections.

As we have said, the hearings should not start until all the properly interested parties have received copies of the proposed contract and had opportunity to study and analyze it and prepare their testimony. There has, however, been nothing to prevent AEC from making these copies available at whatever time was necessary to allow an ample interval before the scheduled start of hearings. Now that AEC says it has approved the contract's terms, what possible reason remains for keeping private any longer this important piece of public business? Should the contract not be made public forthwith?

It is an open question, which only the voters will decide, whether Republican hopes at the ballot boxes will suffer less from the protracted secrecy over the contract's terms than they might from the hearings themselves. And the Administration has been extraordinarily secretive about this proposal to force the TVA to buy high-cost private power from a private syndicate with the Atomic Energy Commission acting as broker.

One thing at least is clear. The postponement has taken the wind out of the sails of the Budget Bureau's attempt to have the joint committee waive Congress's stipulation that such contracts must lie before the committee for 30 days. If the matter is not too pressing to be deferred a month for candidates to run for office, it is not too pressing for the joint committee to take a month if necessary to hear all the witnesses who have a right to be heard. The hearings should bring out all the facts that are pertinent to a conclusion, and reach a considered judgment whether the contract should be permitted or disallowed.

Second Try at Lattimore

When United States District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl threw out the key counts of the perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore, Government lawyers said they would take the case all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary to get the indictment reinstated.

As the first step, Attorney General Brownell's department filed an appeal in the Circuit Court of Appeals. This court, however, upheld Judge Youngdahl on the key issues by a vote of 6 to 1. The circuit judges agreed with him that the basic count was "void for vagueness." Now the Justice Department, instead of taking the appeal on to the Supreme Court, has gone back to the grand jury and obtained a new indictment.

The count which the courts threw out charged that Mr. Lattimore had lied when he denied having been a Communist "sympathizer" or a "promoter" of Communist causes.

The Circuit Court of Appeals held that the term "sympathizer" is "not of sufficiently certain meaning to sustain a charge of perjury." Judge Youngdahl had held that a jury could not determine whether a person was a Communist "sympathizer" without resorting to speculation, and he added: "It is fundamental that a jury should not be asked to determine an issue which can be decided only on conjecture."

The new indictment which the Justice Department has obtained charges that Mr. Lattimore lied when he denied being a "follower of the Communist line" and a "promoter of Communist interests."

Thus the question that will now have to be decided by the courts is whether the term "follower of the Communist line" has a more definite meaning than "Communist sympathizer"—whether a jury can determine that a man is a follower of the Communist line without indulging in the speculation and conjecture which are necessary to find him a sympathizer.

How the courts will decide remains to be seen, but to laymen "follower of the Communist line" appears quite as "nebulous and indefinite," in Judge Youngdahl's phrase, as "Communist sympathizer."

How can it be proved that a man is a "follower of the line"? If you speak against illiteracy and the Soviet Union also speaks against illiteracy, the reason could be, not that you are following the Soviet line, but that you just happen to be against illiteracy. Even if you consistently and chronically expressed opinions which were also held by Communists, how could it be proved that you got the opinions from the Communists, instead of from your own mind?

Such are the strange and remarkable issues to which the Lattimore case has now reduced itself. Four and a half years ago, Mr. Lattimore was accused by Senator McCarthy of being the top Soviet agent in this country. He has been defending himself against this and lesser charges ever since, and must now undertake a strenuous legal effort to prove that his opinions were his own.

What would happen to justice, we wonder, if the defendant in a case like this did not have the resources and the friends that would enable him to continue a long and costly legal battle?

In a Full Light

One factor in the school situation at Milford, Del., which enabled opponents of racial integration to force a return to segregation was a lack of public information in advance of the change.

This is made clear by the detailed account of events at Milford in Southern School News, the Nashville, Tenn., publication which reports developments in education arising from the Supreme Court opinion on segregation.

The Milford board of education apparently jumped into desegregation with no prior public announcement that anything was going to happen. The board had once talked of forming a committee to study the problem, but the committee was never appointed. When integration took place suddenly, without notice, many citizens apparently were easy targets for the inciters of mob spirit who organized a "revolt."

There is a useful lesson here for the St. Louis school board and the authorities of every other community which is ending school segregation in conformity with the Supreme Court opinion. Each step in the process should be thoroughly explained in advance, both to the general public and to the parents of children at each affected school. The fewer the surprises as the program unfolds, the less opportunity there will be for spreaders of false rumors to do their evil work.

G.O.P. Fiasco in Nevada

Nevada will hold an election next month to choose a successor to the late Senator McCarran.

The state supreme court, composed of two Republicans and one Democrat, says that is the law. Certainly it is sound public policy. To let Nevada be represented from January 1955 until January 1957 by an appointed Senator, when it is possible and practical to let the people choose their own Senator for that period at a regular election, would do violence to a basic principle of popular government.

Nevada Republicans under the leadership of Gov. Charles Russell made a vain attempt to avoid an election—presumably because they fear they cannot win it. Now that the Supreme Court has ruled against them, the country learns that they were counseled to make the fight by "White House legal advisers."

According to the United Press, two high state Republican sources quote Gov. Russell as having told a G.O.P. meeting that the unnamed White House aids advised him that Nevada law was on the Republican side, and that a successor to McCarran should not be left to a vote. Reporters also overheard the statement, according to the United Press.

Who were those White House legal advisers? Nobody should be more interested in the answer to that question than President Eisenhower. For they not only proved to be wrong about Nevada law. They also did the President a great disservice politically. They put him in the position of seizing upon legal technicalities to bolster the Republican strength in the Senate during the next two years—a position which we are confident the President would not choose to take of his own initiative.

To be caught crawling through a legal loophole is bad enough. It is much worse when the loophole turns out not to be there.

Wanted, 150,000 Airmen

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Enlistments in big buildup following outbreak in Korea expiring, only one in four re-enlisting; others going to private industry at double service pay; new techniques require long training, and the lack of it is impairing our Air Force.

Paul D. Davis in the Providence Journal

The United States Air Force is heading into its most critical year since the start of the Korean War.

Its No. 1 problem will be to replace the thousands of skilled technicians who are expected to return to civilian life between now and next July 1.

Around the Pentagon this manpower replacement problem is referred to as the "two-billion-dollar headache."

At an average training cost of $14,000 a man, that will be the eventual bill for replacing the approximately 150,000 airmen who are expected to accept their discharge papers during this fiscal year.

The problem of training replacements is not a new one.

What makes it so acute this year is the fact that this is the fourth year of the tremendous Air Force buildup that followed the outbreak of fighting in Korea, and four years is the length of the basic Air Force enlistment.

The enlistments of almost 200,000 airmen will terminate this year, and surveys indicate that only about 50,000 of these men intend to re-enlist.

The Air Force in a very real sense is a victim of its rapid technological progress.

In the race to maintain a qualitative edge over the Russians, it has been forced to develop and put into use an ever more complex array of aircraft, radar and other electronic equipment.

The result has been that the men who operate, repair and maintain this equipment have had to undergo longer and more expensive training periods.

Training demands for a few critical specialties have now reached the point where it takes a full four-year enlistment to bring a man to top proficiency in his job.

An electronics maintenance man, for instance, begins his Air Force career with a 36-week radar maintenance course. Add in his 11 weeks of basic training, plus time "in the pipeline," and his first year is used up.

After he finishes school, it takes him 12 to 18 months of on-the-job experience to earn a skilled rating. Then he goes to advanced school for a 19-week course.

After another year on the job, he will reach top proficiency. And at that point he becomes eligible for discharge.

Fully as time-consuming is the job of training repairmen for the electronic fire-control systems in modern jet fighters and bombers. It takes at least two years to train a good jet mechanic.

The Air Force, of course, makes every effort to persuade these skilled men to re-enlist.

In doing so, however, it runs up against a basic law of economics: The men can make a lot more money in civilian industry than in service.

Under the Air Force career program, the highest rank an airman can hope to attain in his first enlistment is staff sergeant. His base pay at that rank is $152 a month. With various service benefits, this is the equivalent of about $300 a month in civilian life.

But a skilled technician can command a salary at least twice as large in civilian industry. And industry doesn't sit back and wait for him to make his choice.

Many companies run aggressive recruiting campaigns aimed directly at technicians in the Air Force and the other services.

Under these conditions, it takes an inordinate love of military life or a high degree of patriotism to persuade a man to stay in uniform.

Brig. Gen. Richard H. Carmichael, deputy director of personnel, procurement and training, told of a survey that was made recently of the 75 crew chiefs in the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing, a front-line unit now stationed in Okinawa after taking part in the Korean conflict.

The crew chief is the man responsible for keeping the plane assigned to him in fighting condition. Under normal conditions a man would not become a crew chief until he had achieved the rank of technical sergeant or master sergeant during his second or third enlistment.

The survey of the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing disclosed that not one of its 75 crew chiefs had reached these top non-commissioned grades, or even the third grade of staff sergeant. Only six were airmen first class; 50 were airmen second class, and 19 were airmen third class, which is the equivalent of private first class.

"To the Air Force that spells trouble—lack of experience on the line," Gen. Carmichael said.

"It means that every one of those crew chiefs has been in service less than four years. It's the most dramatic illustration of the problem we face."

Secretary of the Air Force Talbott has brought Gen. Carmichael and other men experienced in the command of troops to Washington in recent months in the belief that they will know better than anyone else what steps must be taken to raise the re-enlistment rate.

"There are some healthy signs of improvement, but they're spotty," Gen. Carmichael said. "The problem has been brought as never before to the attention of the men themselves. A lot of effort is being made here at the top to remove minor irritants. The re-enlistment bonus law just enacted by Congress may be a big help, but it's too early to tell yet."

An Official Fish, the Troupikatibull

From the Huron (S.D.) Daily Plainsman

Gov. Sigurd Anderson has notified the ardent anglers of the state that it is up to them to nominate an official state fish. The state fish has been the idea of a national sporting magazine.

The publisher of this magazine wrote the governor that maybe South Dakotans would like to nominate the yellow perch as a good state fish.

The Governor had a good comment. Said he:

"Many people will prefer the bullhead and others to the perch. Black Hills fishermen will be partial to trout and those in northeastern South Dakota will support wall-eyed or northern pike. We have many supporters for the Missouri River catfish, but I don't expect much support for carp."

We expect that the Governor should be deluged with nominations of the various species.

Here is our suggestion.

Have the State Fish Hatchery breed a special kind of fish to be the official fish of South Dakota.

It will have the fighting quality of a northern pike, the eating deliciouness of a wall-eyed pike, the beauty of a trout, the prolific fertility of a bullhead and perch and the size of a good Missouri River catfish.

We will name this fish the Troupikatibull.

A new lure will have to be devised to attract it and a new heavy test line will have to be developed to hold it.

Actually, we are somewhat puzzled as to why the State Fish Hatchery hasn't been working on development of a Troupikatibull for some time.

Poet's Harvest

THE COLLECTED POEMS OF WALLACE STEVENS. (Alfred A. Knopf, New York, 534 pgs., $7.50.)

Babette Deutsch in the New York Herald Tribune.

Chance and propriety have agreed that this book should open with a poem called "Earthy Anecdote" and that the lines on the last page, about a bird's cry heard at sunrise of a March morning, should declare: "It was like—a new knowledge of reality." This stout resplendent volume is a collection of earthy anecdotes that, individually and together, give us a new knowledge of reality. To do that, as Wallace Stevens has been insisting for the better part of 75 years, is the poet's job. No one has ever done it quite in his fashion, and no man alive does it more refreshingly than he.

The liveliness of his interest, the depth of his concern, the intensity and sublety of his connoisseurship are alike directed to what the imagination can make of our physical, factual pluriverse. "Piece the world together, boys, but not with your hands," he enjoins us. And proceeds to show us the how of it. He considers a snow man, a mountain, two pears on a dish, a man reading, a woman looking at a vase of flowers, particulars peculiar to a certain occasion in Florida, in Hartford. Speaking of these, delighting in their suggestiveness, communicating his own quiet exhilaration, he presents the quality of a given hour, the genius of a place, the scene and its habitants, the climates and weathers of the soul. As a result, the reader enjoys the liberating experience of a traveler: he is allowed to make the exotic to some degree his own; he learns to clothe with becoming strangeness what is native and intimate. Even the various aspects of earth and air, water and fire are made to provide sensuous pleasures hitherto unrecognized.

Wallace Stevens

It is all a matter of words. Occasionally it is a matter of non-words. Some of Stevens's most celebrated poems are composed in traditional metrics or in free cadences to which we have long been accustomed. They are saved from monotony by his fine ear and by the fact that his vocabulary is singularly personal. It moves between colloquial speech and what he calls "the poet's gibberish," this last a dazzling medley of allusive, witty, half-foreign resonances and purely aural titillations. He has been called a poet's poet, and so he is.

It is a tribute to Wallace Stevens's craftsmanship that this collection contains unchanged the work of the last four decades and that the omissions are few. In addition to the contents of his half-dozen previously published volumes, he has included 25 recent poems which play variations, more somber than usual, upon his favorite motifs.

The Power of Law

THE STORY OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE, by Dumas Malone. (Oxford University Press, $10.)

As Professor Malone correctly points out in this handsome tribute to our Constitution, Lenin and Stalin lie embalmed in Moscow as an example of the power of men, while a copy of the American Constitution is preserved in Washington as an example of the power of law. It is a document Lenin and Stalin would never have approved of, since it laid down that man was not made for the State but the State for man, and that government and every other form of public control was a means to well-being, not an end in itself. In this book the story of how that document came to be written and signed, and who the men were who signed it, is succinctly told by a noted historian and illustrated with many pictures of the persons and places involved.

LUTHERANS APPROVE EVANGELISM PLAN

Convention Allocates $500,000 After Plea for 'Bigger Heart, Firmer Will.'

TORONTO, Oct. 9 (UP)—The United Lutheran Church of America approved an extensive program of church-wide evangelism yesterday after delegates to the group's nineteenth biennial convention were told they needed a "bigger heart and firmer will."

Following an hour's debate delegates voted $500,000 to implement the plan, despite opposition by some who wanted to cut down the appropriation.

The motion carried, however, after the Rev. Ralph Robinson, Spring Cove, Pa., warned delegates they would "jeopardize the souls of millions" if they didn't appropriate enough money to carry out the program.

The Rev. Dr. Oscar Carlson, Baltimore, Md., told the convention the evangelistic campaign, scheduled for 1956 and 1957, was urgently needed. He said the church needed "a bigger heart and firmer will" and added:

"We stand at the bottom of North American churches in our effort and efficiency in evangelism. There are unchurched millions in our countries."

The convention took up debate on evangelism after voting down a constitutional amendment giving its executive board power to act for the church between biennial conventions.

The decision, a blow at the convention move to centralize power in the church in place of the present loose federation of synods, was by a vote of 291 to 257. It was possible it might be altered later today when the rest of a constitutional amendment re-defining the executive board's duties is debated.

JAMES MELLOW FUNERAL HELD AT GERMANTOWN, PA.

Funeral services for James H. Mellow, 74 years old, retired missionary for the China Inland Mission, a non-denominational mission board, and a former St. Louisan, were held at Germantown, Pa., his home, with burial in Hillside Cemetery there Thursday, it was learned here yesterday.

Mr. Mellow, who died Monday of cancer at his home, became a missionary in 1904 and served mostly in China until 1951, when he returned to this country. He had only two furloughs during his career, one during World War II when he worked with the Hebrew Mission here. He was a member of Memorial Presbyterian Church here before entering mission work..

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Frances Mellow of Germantown; three sons, the Rev. Mr. Paul A. Mellow, McClure, Ill.; Clifford Mellow, House Springs, Mo., and Theodore J. Mellow, Cleveland, O., and two sisters, Mrs. Albert W. Huegerich, 3643 Botanical avenue, and Mrs. Edward L. Stevens, 3711 Hartford avenue.

THE REV. EDWIN C. NESBIT DIES IN WHITE PLAINS, N.Y.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin C. Nesbit, pastor emeritus of Tyler Place Presbyterian Church and a minister for 46 years before retiring in 1950, died last night in a hospital at White Plains, N.Y. He lived at 2924 Allen avenue.

Dr. Nesbit was pastor of Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church from 1925 until he became associate pastor of the Tyler Place church in 1946, when the two churches merged. He was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1904 and received an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Westminster College at Fulton, Mo., in 1931. Dr. Nesbit was visiting his daughter at White Plains at the time of his death.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Lou Nesbit; a son, William Nesbit, and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Laybourne. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, 2109 South Spring avenue, with burial at New Concord, O.

FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY FOR ROBERT O. LITZSINGER

Funeral services for Robert O. Litzsinger, member of an old St. Louis county family, will be Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Jay B. Smith undertaking establishment, 7456 Manchester avenue, Maplewood, with burial in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Litzsinger, 60 years old, died Thursday after a long illness at the State Federal Soldiers Home at St. James, Mo., where he had lived following his retirement five years ago. He was a road and driveway contractor here.

Surviving are a son, John R. Litzsinger, and two daughters, Mrs. Alice Hamilton and Mrs. Mary King.

ANASTASIA KLEINSCHNITTGER FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD

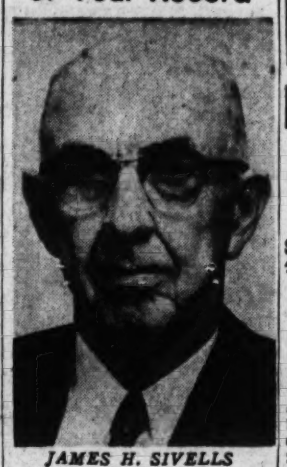

Funeral services for Mrs. Anastasia Kleinschnittger were held today at St. Phillip's Catholic Church, East St. Louis, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Mrs. Kleinschnittger, who lived at 865 North Eighty-first street, East St. Louis, died Thursday at St. Mary's Hospital of cancer. She was 72 years old and the widow of Frank L. Kleinschnittger. Surviving are two sons and a daughter living in East St. Louis, Frank J. Jr., and Gilbert Kleinschnittger and Mrs. Frank Burrelsman, and a second daughter, Mrs. George Londa of Ferguson.

37-Year Record

JAMES H. SIVELLS

CLERK OF CHURCH IN COUNTY NAMED FOR 37TH TERM

James H. Sivells of 618 Oakwood avenue, Webster Groves, has been named clerk of the congregation of Webster Groves Christian Church for his thirty-seventh consecutive term.

He took the position in 1917, a year after he became a member of the then young and struggling church. For many years he kept all membership records, until the present roll of 1043 members was shifted to a staff secretary.

As clerk Sivells serves as the formal link between the congregation and the church board of directors. His busiest terms have come in the last few years in connection with the $600,000 building program of his church.

Sivells retired in 1952 after 45 years with the railway mail service of the Post Office. He and his wife live in the house they first occupied 40 years ago.

AFFTON PASTOR TO TAKE 60 HEIFERS TO GERMANY

The Rev. Elmer H. Dickbernd, pastor of Eden Evangelical and Reformed Church, Affton, will sail from New York Wednesday with a shipment of 60 heifers for distribution among refugee farmers in West Germany. The livestock is being shipped by Heifer Project, Inc., an interdenominational relief agency.

The 50-year-old minister says he will have no difficulty as caretaker of the cattle, because he was born and reared on a farm at Old Monroe, Mo.

The other seagoing cowboy on the S.S. American Importer will be Svend Olesen of Buellton, Calif.

The Rev. Mr. Dickbernd will survey relief problems in Germany for the Commission on World Service of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. He will visit Osnabruck, Westphalia, where his grandfather and great-grandfather lived before coming to the United States in 1859. He will come home Dec. 1.

METHODISTS OPEN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

St. Louis Group Includes 217 Churches, 85,000 Members—Bishop Holt Presides.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The St. Louis Annual Conference of the Methodist Church began its 1954 meeting today at Grace Methodist Church, Skinker and Waterman boulevards.

The conference includes 217 churches in St. Louis, St. Louis county, and a tier of counties in eastern Missouri. They have a total membership of about 85,000.

There are 257,263 Methodists in Missouri, the area office of the church at Moberly, Mo, reports. They are members of three conferences in the state—Missouri, Southwest Missouri, and St. Louis. The Missouri Conference met at Columbia Sept. 25, and the Southwest Missouri Conference met last week at Kansas City.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, who has been resident bishop of the St. Louis area since 1944, presides over the three Missouri conferences. He will preach at conference sessions at Grace Church tomorrow at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, Tex., president of the National Council of Churches, will preach the sermon at Grace Church at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the service of ordination of candidates for the Methodist ministry. He will also preach at St. John's Methodist Church at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow. The conference service of holy communion will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow, with Bishop Holt presiding. This service will follow the order used at First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill., Aug. 22, when Bishop Holt celebrated communion for the second assembly of the World Council of Churches.

The conference preacher at all three Missouri conferences this year is the Rev. Dr. John Robert Nelson of Geneva, Switzerland, secretary of the commission on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches. He will preach at Grace Church at 4 and 8 p.m. both Monday and Tuesday. The Rev. Dr. Nelson will also preach at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow at Centenary Methodist Church, Sixteenth and Pine streets.

The meaning of a Methodist annual conference is described by the Rev. Dr. Albea Godbold of St. John's Methodist Church who is attending his twenty-ninth annual conference since entering the Methodist ministry. He writes in the last issue of St. John's Tower:

"Methodist preachers often say that the Methodist ministry is the greatest brotherhood on earth. There is something deeply moving about the opening session of the conference when the preachers sing Charles Wesley's conference hymn:

'And are we yet alive,
And see each other's face?
Glory and praise to Jesus give
For His redeeming grace.'

"The last question asked by the bishop in every annual conference is: 'Where are the preachers stationed for the ensuing year?' He then reads the appointments, pronounces the benediction, and the preachers go to their assignments."

Bishop Holt will read the ministerial appointments just before adjournment of the St. Louis Conference Wednesday afternoon. Three of the six district superintendents of the St. Louis Conference will be replaced, as they have reached the six-year limit set by church law. They are the Rev. John L. Taylor of the Cape Girardeau district, the Rev. E. H. Orear, Farmington, who is retiring, and the Rev. Galen C. Fain of Rolla.

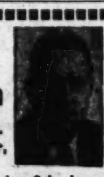

The Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow is superintendent of the St. Louis district.

CHURCH RAISES $90,000 IN YEAR, ENLARGES SCHOOL

The Rev. Dr. W. A. Harrell of Nashville, Tenn., will dedicate the new educational building of Southwest Baptist Church, Scanlan avenue and Watson road, at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. He is secretary of the department of church architecture of the Sunday School Board, Southern Baptist Convention.

The new building, which cost $252,000, is the first unit completed in a long-range $1,500,000 building program of Southwest Church. The next unit will be a new sanctuary.

When the Rev. J. Edwin Hewlett became pastor of the church 10 years ago, the church had 636 members, a Sunday school of 572, and total gifts in 1944 were $15,000. Today the church has 1100 members, a Sunday school enrollment of about the same number, and last year the congregation gave for all church purposes a total of $90,844.

The new building will accommodate 600 persons in Sunday school departments and classes. The proposed expansion program will provide for a Sunday school of 1650 members and a sanctuary seating 1600 persons.

DEACONESS SISTERHOOD SEEKS MORE TRAINEES

An appeal to young women of Protestant churches to enter the Deaconess Sisterhood and make it a career was issued at the recent national Evangelical and Reformed Deaconess conference at Deaconess Hospital.

Sister Superior Frieda Ziegler of Deaconess Hospital said, "we resolved to make it a prime consideration to study new fields of Christian service, and to try to interest more young women between the ages of 18 and 35 in joining the sisterhood."

Many more sisters are needed in hospitals, children's and old folks' homes and for foreign medical missionary and parish service, Sister Frieda said. Deaconess Hospital is the national Motherhouse for the order which conducts a training school here.

'Post-Evanston' Conference To Reach Churches and Schools

Visiting Team Next Week Will Include Francis B. Sayre, Charles Taft, Bishop of Finland, Mrs. Wyker.

A "post-Evanston" conference will be conducted in greater St. Louis Wednesday and Thursday by the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Seven men and women from the United States and foreign countries who were delegates to the August assembly of the World Council of Churches will speak in churches and schools. In speeches and discussion sessions they will interpret the meaning and importance of the Evanston meeting.

The visiting team will include the Rev. Rajah Bhushanam Manikam, secretary of the National Christian Council of India, and Mrs. Manikam; Bishop Elis Gideon Gulin of Finland; Francis B. Sayre of Washington, D.C., diplomat, member of American delegation to United Nations, and an Episcopal Church leader; the Rev. Philip Potter of Haiti, chairman of the Youth Department committee of the World Council; Mrs. James D. Wyker of Mount Vernon, O., president of United Church Women, and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, O., Episcopal Church layman and former president of the old Federal Council of Churches.

Bishop Gulin (Lutheran) will address the Ministerial Alliance at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Second Presbyterian Church, 4501 Westminster place. At noon that day, the Rev. Mr. Potter will speak at Lindenwood College, and Mrs. Wyker will address the Christ Church Cathedral Men's Club at Bishop Tuttle Memorial, 1210 Locust street.

At 2 p.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Wyker and Mrs. Manikam will speak at a meeting of United Church Women at Church of St. Michael and St. George, 6345 Wydown boulevard, and Bishop Gulin and the Rev. Mr. Manikam will speak at Eden Seminary.

At 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sayre will make an address on "The Crisis of Western Civilization" at Church of St. Michael and St. George. At the same hour the other visitors will fill the following engagements: The Rev. Mr. Manikam at St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, 4967 Forest Park avenue; Mrs. Wyker at Webster Groves Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Manikam at Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church, 2831 North Kingshighway; Bishop Gulin at Wayman Temple, Kingshighway and Cabanne avenue.

Thursday morning members of the team will speak at several schools in the city and county.

Taft will address the Rotary Club meeting at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the Statler Hotel.

The Rev. Mr. Potter will address the Washington University Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. at noon Thursday.

FRANCISCANS PLAN VISIT TO SHRINE

Marian Year Pilgrimage to Eureka Will Be Conducted Tomorrow Afternoon.

A Marian year pilgrimage will be conducted tomorrow to the shrine of Our Lady of Czestochowa, near Eureka, Mo. The program has been arranged by the Franciscan Missionary Brothers of St. Joseph's Hill Infirmary, Eureka, who conduct the shrine. It will be the fourth and final Marian year pilgrimage to the shrine.

The Rev. Rufinus Glauber, O.F.M., of St. Anthony's Monastery, 3140 Meramec street, St. Louis, will give the principal address at 4 p.m.

The blessing of pilgrims will take place at 1:30 p.m. Stations of the cross at 2 p.m. will be led by the Rev. Juniper Freitag, O.F.M., followed by the recitation of the Franciscan Crown Rosary.

Benediction and blessing of the sick will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. by the Rev. Christian Widhalm, O.F.M.

The Rev. Conan Mitchell, O.F.M., is pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Eureka.

Sponsors of the pilgrimage are members of the Third Order of St. Francis, a layman's order founded in 1221 by St. Francis of Assisi. It is part of the Franciscan order which includes 30,000 Franciscan priests, 12,000 Franciscan brothers, and 70,000 Franciscan Sisters. The Third Order of lay people has a membership of 4,000,000 throughout the world.

Back Runs 60 Yards For Score

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (AP)—Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs joined football's giant killer list after stunning previously undefeated Southern California 20-7 in an intersectional battle last night at Los Angeles.

Quarterback Ronnie Clinkscale, a 175-pound senior directing the Split T offense, provided the spark that ignited the unpredictable but explosive T.C.U. club. He streaked 60 yards for a touchdown the first time he carried the ball.

Then after U.S.C. had tied the count, Clinkscale took the kickoff 58 yards to set up the second T.C.U. touchdown and he tallied the third on a four-yard jaunt around end.

The T.C.U. upset topped a slim slate last night battles that also saw Miami of Florida snap to life in the final period to beat Holy Cross 26-20; Presbyterian upset Davidson 10-7, and Denver came from behind to beat Montana 19-13.

Gave Oklahoma Scare.

"We knew all the time we had a good ball club," said Coach Abe Martin of T.C.U.'s Southwest Conference entry. The Horned Frogs had thrown a surprise into Oklahoma's Sooners, rated No. 1 in the Associated Press poll before losing 21-16, but then lost 20-13 to an Arkansas team they were supposed to whip.

Southern California, winner of three straight and Ranked No. 9 in the poll, thus went into the game favored by a couple of touchdowns. But the Trojans never headed the Texans as an alert pass defense nipped scoring threats on three occasions.

Coach Jess Hill of U.S.C. summed things up: "They've got speed and they're very mobile and they made no mistakes. We made a lot of yards, especially in the second half, but we also made a lot of mistakes."

Clinkscale's opening dash went straight through center near the end of the first quarter, as he ziped through the line and was gone. Harold Pollard added the first of his two conversions and the Texans held a 7-0 lead.

But by the end of the quarter, U.S.C. had evened things. The first play after the kickoff, Quarterback Jim Contralto hit end Leon Clarke on a 67-yard pass play to the T.C.U. five. After two running plays lost three yards, Contralto passed for a touchdown to another end, Chuck Leimbach. Then Sam Tsagalakis converted to make it 7-7.

Clinkscale on the Run.

Clinkscale took the kickoff and blazed back 58 yards to the Trojan 36. Six plays later, just 50 seconds into the second quarter, halfback Jim Swink burst through center, cut to his right and scored on a run of 18 yards.

The Horned Frogs, who intercepted five U.S.C. passes during the game, nipped a threat with two minutes left in the half after Trojan Lindon Crow galloped 44 yards to the nine. Ray Taylor intercepted a pass in the end zone and ran it out to the T.C.U. 35 as the half ended.

In the third period as Southern California controlled the ball, Crow and Armis Dandoy battered 41 yards to the T.C.U. 22. That hope went glimmering as linebacker Joe Williams intercepted a pass on the two.

On the final play of the period, tackle Ray Hill pounced on a U.S.C. fumble at the Trojan 39. Clinkscale moved the T.C.U. offense into high again and in seven plays he had the third touchdown.

Striving desperately with time running short, the Trojans drove again from their own 35 to the T.C.U. 17. This time it was Texan Halfback Gerald Redus who intercepted a pass on the seven.

Win on 66-Yard March.

Miami, the 20-point favorite, had its troubles with Holy Cross and only a 66-yard march for a last-period touchdown saved the Hurricanes. Quarterback Bobofiglio raced the final 36 yards for the score.

Presbyterian upset Davidson by the unusual method of turning two early safeties and one touchdown into 10 points. End Bobby Jackson accounted for both safeties, smashing through Davidson's defenses twice in the first period.

Denver had to come from behind a two-touchdown deficit to stop Montana. Rusty Fairly's passing and running clicked in the second half, however, and the Pioneers tallied two touchdowns in the third period and the winning one—a 19-yard pass from Fairly to Larry Ross—in final quarter.

At this stage of the season, the first bowl game went into the records. Maryland State College routed North Carolina A and T. 34-13, in the annual Fish Bowl game at Norfolk, Va. The winners took a 27-0 halftime lead.

Game Rated as Toss-Up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (UP)—National leader Oklahoma, minus star quarterback Gene Calame, was rated no better than a toss-up against Texas today in one of the day's outstanding football games, while in another one, Purdue was a seven-point choice over Duke chiefly on the strength of soph standout Lennie Dawson.

The Sooners might have been favored over the Longhorns were it not for the absence of the brilliant Calame, who suffered a broken shoulder against Texas Christian and will be out of action for some time. Texas has been beaten by only one team, Notre Dame, 21-0, in three games thus far.

Purdue, which spurted into national prominence with a 27-14 upset over Notre Dame last week, may be hard put to preserve its high ranking against a rugged and durable Duke team, which trampled Pennsylvania, 52-0, and nipped Tennessee, 7-6. Duke's chances will depend largely upon whether it can stop Dawson, the new Boilermaker sensation who has tossed eight touchdown passes in two games.

Wisconsin is a 13-point favorite over Rice in the nationally-televised intersectional game over ABC-TV beginning at 1:30 p.m. (St. Louis time over KWK-TV.) The Badgers, who upset Michigan State, 6-0, are unbeaten in two games and so is Rice.

In other top intersectional tussles, Stanford, already looking toward the Rose Bowl, and Navy meet for the first time in history and are rated even; similarly, Southern Methodist and Missouri are rated on a par despite the fact that the Mustangs walloped the Tigers the past five years; Notre Dame is a 20-point choice to bounce back off its Purdue defeat and defeat Pittsburgh, while Alabama is a top-heavy choice over Tulsa, beaten in three straight games.

In the Big Ten, Ohio State tries for its second league victory in a game against Illinois while Iowa also seeks its second league triumph against Michigan. Michigan State (0-2) faces Indiana (0-1) and Minnesota tangles with Northwestern in the first league game for each.

Illinois Hopes Line Shuffle Revives Rushing Offense In Ohio State Game Today

By Robert Morrison
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 9—Unfortunately for Illinois, Ohio State seemed to be ready for the Big Ten football game that will entertain a near-capacity crowd of some 70,000 here today.

The Buckeyes of Woody Hayes, six-point favorites to gain their second conference triumph, looked quite capable when they went through their paces on the scene at Memorial Stadium.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio's touchdown threat at halfback who has scored four times in victories over Indiana and California, Bobby Watkins and the rest of the Columbus crew were ready to sail.

Big, eager and ambitious while Purdue, Iowa and Wisconsin are rating the greatest early attention in the league, Ohio made a contrast with the Illinois team of Ray Eliot, who seems likely to continue personnel shifting right up to game time.

Illinois is not expected to have the services of the sophomore halfback flash Abe Woodson, and Eliot is to open the game with a new sophomore quarterback, Hiles Stout, two changes at end, out one new starter at tackle (it would be two except for the fact that one of his choices is too severely injured to play).

The shuffle has been caused by the failure of the line particularly and the team in general to show any prospects of living up to pre-season heraldry as it was defeated by Penn State and Stanford.

The new alignment may help revive the Illinois rushing offense which last week managed a net gain of only 50 yards, 38 of them by J. C. Caroline. How Illinois will fare against an Ohio team that shut out an improved Indiana offense remains to be seen, however.

The Ohio defense is quite different from a year ago when Caroline and company smashed the Buckeyes at Columbus, 41-20. One of the new stalwarts in the Ohio line-backing is sophomore fullback, 192-pound Hubert Bobo. He also is an excellent blocker in the Ohio offense that has produced an average 25 points, 240-yard-rushing and 76-yards-passing per game.

Dave Leggett is quarterbacking the Bucks but it is also notable that the four-year standout, John Borton, a fine passer, is ready to return to action following sufficient recovery from a hand injury.

Things are adding up against the Illini but loyal followers are hoping against hope that this will be the game in which they find themselves.

Colonels Win, Take 3-2 Lead Over Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Oct. 9 (UP)—In one of the wildest games in the history of the junior world series, the Louisville Colonels of the American Association defeated the Syracuse Chiefs 14-9 last night to take a 3-2 lead in the series.

Behind, 14-2, going into the ninth the Chiefs drove winning pitcher Ike Delock to cover with a six-hit attack, aided by two errors, and staged a seven-run last-gasp rally.

The Colonels set what is believed to be a record for a single game in this competition by smacking two grand-slam home runs—one by Norm Zauchin in the four-run third and one by Pete Daley in the eight-run seventh.

Seven of Louisville's hits were for extra bases—three homers, including one by Bob Broome and three doubles and a triple. Nine walks were mixed in and this combination was fatal medicine for the Chiefs. Jack Sanford, first of five Syracuse pitchers was tagged with the loss.

Marty Keough, Colonel outfielder, hit two doubles and had three hits to boost his series mark to .388—exceeded only by Syracuse's Marv Blaylock's .411.

Redlegs Sell Drews.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 9 (UP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs today sold righthand pitcher Karl Drews to Oakland in the Pacific Coast League for an undisclosed sum. The 34-year-old pitcher, who came to Cincinnati from the Philadelphia Phillies, appeared in 22 games and won four and lost four.

Crippled Mizzou to Depend On Young 'Uns Against S.M.U., Will Use Almost New Lineup

By Bob Broeg
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 9—Don Faurot could see nothing to tickle his funny bone in the crippled condition of his University of Missouri football varsity, but at least two of his assistants were able to smile and wisecrack about today's inter-conference game with Southern Methodist at Memorial Stadium.

"We might have an injured team, but at least it's not tired," said one line coach, Harry Smith, to another, Huston Betty, who smiled back at the grinning party of the first part.

The reference was to last year's game with S.M.U. at Dallas, where a Missouri team, which had scored impressive victories over Purdue and Colorado in its first three contests, played lifelessly. Its zip had been left in the rarefied Rocky Mountain atmosphere at Boulder.

The 20-7 setback at the hands of S.M.U. was followed by an even more draggy performance in a 13-7 upset at the hands of Iowa State, leading to a coaching conclusion that the Tigers had hit a slump through overwork and too strenuous conditioning.

The same couldn't be true now, as Coaches Smith and Betty observed, because few of the Tigers have played enough to be tired. Wholesale injuries have dropped veterans to sick bay and brought sophomores and non-lettered juniors prominently into the picture.

Whether the young 'uns can make up in spirit what they lack in experience and perhaps in ability, too, is a serious question to Faurot and assistants who don't smile, podnuh, when they talk about the tough-as-a-boot Texans. S.M.U. has won four straight from Mizzou, scoring an even 100 points to only 14 for the Tigers.

"We've got confidence in the desire of kids like Bill Rice, Carl Osterloh, Sonny Stringer, Jimmy Hunter, Chuck Mehrer and other sophomores who'll have to play a lot of football in this game, Faurot said, summing it up when he added:

"But it's a lot to ask 'em to cope with experience, speed and size of an S.M.U. team good enough to collect 341 yards and 20 first downs against Georgia Tech, always one of the best defensively."

Looking at it another way, Ol' Mizzou will open a new home season with a new electric scoreboard at a new starting hour (1:30) with, as a result of the miseries and mayhem suffered in just two weeks, practically a new lineup.

Lord Steward Wins.

BATAVIA DOWNS, N.Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Lord Steward, 7-year-old gelding owned by Ralph H. Kroening, of Milwaukee, won the $7500 Peter Provenzano mile memorial trot last night to bring his earnings to $60,412.50 for the year. Lord Steward trotted the mile in 2:05 3-5 and returned $3.40 as the odds-on favorite.

Smith Kayoes Hal Johnson in Second Round

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9 (UP)—Boardwalk Billy Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., a hungry fighter for 13 years, dreamed of gold and a championship fight today after his one-punch second round knockout of number one lightheavyweight contender Harold Johnson of Philadelphia.

"I'm sitting on top of the world," the 33-year-old Smith said in his dressing room. "I said before the fight that all I needed was a good crack at his chin."

While Smith moved in a happy daze, his manager, Sheriff Jerry Gormley of Atlantic county, N. J., said, "we'll take the champ Archie Moore. And don't forget there's Rocky Marciano too."

Smith, a guard at Gormley's prison at Mays Landing, N. J., put the "handcuffs" on his 26-year-old opponent with a piledriving right to the jaw that crumbled Johnson's knees and sat him on his pants for the full count at the Arena last night. Smith weighed 173½ and Johnson 174.

The sudden death blow startled a national television and radio audience because Smith, a 14-5 underdog, was supposed to be fodder for Johnson's trudge back toward another title shot at Moore. Johnson was tagged with a fourteenth round TKO by Moore last August.

What made Smith's coup more amazing was that it was achieved with full knowledge that a writ had been served on the promoters, attaching Smith's estimated $4000 purse. Smith went into the battle like a man without a care in the world.

He played a stalking game in the opening round as Johnson looked sharp with a jabbing attack. At the very end of the session, he gave an inkling of the lightning that was to strike within the next few minutes. He caught Johnson with a stunning right but it was high on the cheekbone.

Fast Track for St. Louis Derby Tonight; 11 Horses To Start in $10,000 Event

By Herman Wecke

Derby Day returns to the St. Louis district tonight when the St. Louis Derby will be revived at Cahokia Downs. It will be the first derby in the area since 1930, when the final Fairmount Derby was held. It also will be the first St. Louis Derby since 1905.

A field of 11 horses was named for the first derby ever run under the lights. It will be contested over the one mile and one-sixteenth route for a purse of $10,000 added. The race will be run over a fast track.

Top weight for the event and the probable public choice in the wagering is Two Fisted, the chestnut colt sent here from Chicago by Bernard W. Landy. The colt, trained by Elmer Kalensky, will pack 117 pounds and give from six to 14 pounds to his rivals.

Two Fisted has gone to the post 15 times this season and has won six times, finished second on three occasions and third once, for earnings of $25,310. In the $25,000 Illinois Owners Stake at Hawthorne last Saturday, the Landy color-bearer was beaten by H. J. Bianco's King, which negotiated the one mile and one-sixteenth in 1:43 3-5, just one-fifth of a second off the track record.

Bright Shoes an Entry.

Opposing Two Fisted will be Bright Shoes, owned by J. W. Wilson, and W. E. Britt's Aces Wired, which will carry 111 pounds; M. H. Van Berg's Endon and Mighty Epic from the Otto H. Pohlman stable, each of which gets in at 109 pounds. May Lee H and Lot-A-Filly, the Mrs. R. N. Amlung entry, will each carry 108; Golden Admiral, beaten in a sprint here, earlier in the week; Get Lost and Alsab Ace, each assigned 106, and Pondering, lightweighted at 103.

Cahokia's top riders, Clarence Meaux, who had three more firsts last night to give him 13 in the last three nights, and Howard Craig will have mounts in the race. Meaux will be up on Mighty Epic, while Craig will pilot Endon.

Aces Wired and Bright Shoes each have won four times this year, with earnings of $12,325 and $12,360 this season. Endon, taking three of 13 starts, has winnings of $15,860, while Alsab Ace, a 28-time starter, has two wins, seven places and two shows, with earnings of $12,320.

Several outstanding jockeys will fly here from Chicago to ride in the race. Among them will be Johnny Adams Jr., Bobby Permane, W. M. Cook, Tom O'Neill and Dave Erb. Mike Basile came from Detroit to ride Bright Shoes.

Winner to Get About $9750.

The winner will receive $6500, plus extras, which will make the total approximately $9750. The second place finisher will receive $2000, third $1000 and fourth $500.

In the last St. Louis Derby, held in 1905 the winner, Uncle Charley, drew down $10,685. That race was held over the real derby distance of one mile and one half.

Last night Meaux won with Wild Wing ($7.20); Ted Yochum ($19.60) and Klimie ($16) to give him 71 firsts for the meeting. . . . Howard Craig won with Ula to give him 57 wins. . . . The 4886 fans present wagered $237,598. . . . The double on Mals Boy and Jim Glendale paid $19 for $2.

Siegel to Do Passing for Bears Today

By Jack Rice
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff

DETROIT, Oct. 9—There was only one if-coming compromise to be made with an injury, and since good cheer usually tags along with good health, Washington University's football team had reason to believe all was right with its world upon arrival here this morning.

The Bears play Wayne here this afternoon. The game was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, St. Louis time, and Tailback Mel Siegel was scheduled to go for Washington then, too. Siegel may have his limits, though.

Siegel kept company with a leg injury this week but the affair wasn't too serious. The Bears held a practice yesterday evening before they went to the railroad station, and Coach Carl Snavely thought the whole pattern encouraging, from players' motions to morale.

"Siegel moves well enough to do the passing job for us," said Snavely, "But we may have to relieve him as much as possible of running." Back Jim Burst, a good part of the offense, moves well enough after an interlude with a groin injury, Snavely decided.

He also decided there was cause to give optimism an inning. Wayne is the Bears' best chance yet to learn something about themselves other than the fact they are in good enough condition to have run for 110 points in their first two games.

"I'd been pretty much discouraged during the week, but at the end they seem to have a much better grasp of what we're trying to do," said Snavely.

Washington is undefeated to date, and may go untied for some time on one count. Included in the muster for this trip was Marjie Susman, girl drum-beater. Miss Susman, former sports columnist for the university newspaper, graduated to the more unique position of girl athletic publicist.

Missouri Valley Routs Central Eleven, 66-0

MARSHALL, Mo., Oct. 9 (AP)—Missouri Valley College overwhelmed Central of Fayette, 66-0, last night in their opening M.C.A.U. Conference football game.

Valley recovered a Central fumble on the opening kick-off and on the first scrimmage Billie O. Smith went 24 yards for the first of his three touchdowns. He made another on a 74-yard punt return.

It was the third victory of the season against one loss for Missouri Valley.

Officers Elected By Normandie Club

Lawrence F. Graham, president; H. B. Caywood, vice president; David I. Zucher, treasurer, and T. W. Johnson, secretary; Ralph R. Beals, Emil Miles, Robert E. Mohan and John Cain.

Winner Disqualified.

YONKERS, N.Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Prospectus, owned by K. F. Lunman of Adams, N.Y., won the $5000 junior free-for-all trot at Yonkers race way when Betty Astra was disqualified after finishing first.

Betty Astra, owned and driven by Ray Garrity, was found guilty of cutting in too sharply on the favored and leading Gene Mac while making the stretch turn. Gene Mac was forced to break stride, allowing Prospectus to come on and finish second with Willie S. third.

Clint Hodgins, driver of Gene Mac, lodged the claim of foul and the stewards agreed. Prospectus, handled by Stanley Dancer, paid $15.80, $5.70 and $3.50. Willie S. was placed second and Apprpo third. The time for the mile was 2.05.2.

PREP PARADE

He Danced, but Gave Ball Room

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Boys Town defender JIM THOMPSON went high into the air in a ballet-like pose in an effort to break up this St. Louis U. High pass, but DAVE VIZE managed to catch the ball. George Werley was the passer. Boys Town won the game at Oakland Stadium, 20-12.

Beaumont Beats Southwest High, 1953 Champion

By Harold Tuthill

A champion drank the bitter draught of defeat for the first time in two seasons of league play last night when Southwest, Public High football king a year ago, lost to Beaumont, 20-0, at the Public Schools Stadium.

A crowd of about 1200 saw the '54 edition of the Steers rocked for an opening quarter touchdown by the burly Beaumont Bluejackets and the former champions, who had a 9-0 record on their regular season record last year, were on the way to their third loss in four games this fall.

McKinley, co-champion with Beaumont two years ago, will open its league campaign against Soldan-Blewett at the stadium this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Beaumont needed a little help from Southwest to set up its first quarter touchdown. Jim Kenny's Longhorns had possession of the ball after recovering a Beaumont fumble at the Bluejacket 38. Then Joe Mowry faded back to pass, the ball was knocked out of his hands and 208-pound John Schwiete picked up the fumble and ran to the Southwest 20 where he was caught by Bill Hof.

Irvin Obermark's Jackets moved to the 13 from where Leo DeVere tallied. Bob Dyer placekicked the first of his two successive conversions.

The Jackets struck again in the second quarter after a 31-yard run by Fred Henger put the ball on the Southwest 7. Henger later carried the ball over from about the two. Near the close of the quarter DeVere made a punt return of 38 yards to the Southwest 33, but the Longhorns eased the situation with an intercepted pass.

The game's final tally came in the third quarter when Beaumont moved from the Southwest 45 down to the 20 from where Bob Dobbins counted for the Jackets.

Southwest, which made its deepest penetration in the first quarter, to the Beaumont 38, advanced as far as midfield only once more. In the third quarter the Steers reached the 50-yard line and lost the ball when four passes failed.

Maplewood Is 18-6 Winner Over Ritenour

The second of last year's three co-champions of the Suburban League Big Six, Maplewood, opened its league campaign with a 20-0 victory over Ritenour last night. It was the third successive win for the up-and-coming Maplewood crew, which dropped its opener to Ladue.

This afternoon, Webster Groves, another of the defending co-champions, will play its first league game as host to Normandy at Memorial Field at 2 o'clock. Webster is unbeaten in three contests, while Normandy has lost one and been tied twice.

The third of the co-champs, University City, won a nonleague match at Decatur last night, 12-6. University City won a Big Six game from Ritenour a week ago.

Coach Bud Wallach's Maplewood team drove from its own territory to the Ritenour end zone for each of its three touchdowns. Rozell Parker completed a 73-yard march in the first quarter by scoring from the three. A 37-yard run by Warren Wideman wound up an advance of 65 yards with a second TD for Maplewood in the third quarter.

Ritenour moved 83 yards in the final period and Dick Hunt scored from the two, to make the score 12-6. Maplewood got that touchdown back, however, with a 53-yard drive climaxed by Ron Gulley's one-yard sneak into pay dirt. Near the end of the game, a pass from Allen Willman to Jerry McKinnis good for 33 yards moved Ritenour to the Maplewood two, but the Huskies lost possession on a fumble.

Boys Town Gambles Pay Off As Team Beats Junior Bills

By John J. Archibald

They build men at Boys Town, and the football-wise among the 8000 spectators at Oakland Stadium last night were impressed by the man-sized courage the young visitors displayed as they defeated St. Louis U. High, 20 to 12. In at least two crucial situations Coach Skip Palrang's team gambled against the odds and these proved to be turning points in the big intersectional game.

In the opening quarter, after St. Louis U. High had taken a 6-0 lead, the Cowboys found themselves back on their own six-yard line as the result of a holding penalty and a smeared ground play. The unwritten rules say you don't pass in such a situation—you run the ball a few times, then kick out of danger. Boys Town gambled on a pass play, however, and Bob Maddux fired the ball from within his end zone to a running Glen Hepburn. Hepburn caught it near the 35 and reached the Junior Billiken 44 before he was brought down. A half-dozen plays later Boys Town scored, took the lead with an extra point, and was never headed.

Cowboys Do It Again.

Again in the fourth quarter, the Cowboys staked much on their own ability when tradition said otherwise. It too paid off. With the score 14-12 in their favor, the visitors reached the St. Louis 44 on fourth down with three yards to go. They say you're supposed to kick in a spot like that, but Boys Town punched a hole in the Junior Billiken line instead and made a first down with inches to spare.

The Cowboys repeated their gamble on the St. Louis 45 and again made it. That drive turned out to be good for 64 yards in all, and brought the visitors an insurance touchdown. More important than that, it kept the Junior Bills from getting their hands on the ball until late in the final quarter.

Until that march, St. Louis had been fairly successful at bottling up the Boys Town ground offense, but the Cowboys had been similarly skillful against the Billiken attack.

St. Louis's opening offense was highlighted by a 27-yard pass play from George Werley to Dave Vize, but the Bills were held on the 18. Later in the initial quarter, however, St. Louis recovered a Boys Town fumble on the 15, and Carl Rossow scored on the next play with a wide run around his left end. The run for extra point was unsuccessful.

The Maddux-Hepburn pass came near the end of the period, and Boys Town went ahead, 7-6, early in the second quarter. A Billiken kick was blocked a few minutes later, Boys Town recovered on the four, and Maddux scored on a quarterback sneak from the two. Maddux kicked his second extra point to make the score 14-6.

Chance to Cheer.

St. Louis U. High rooters seemed to cheer their squad into a super effort midway in the third period. The place was in a frenzy as Pete Salsich bulled his way 15 yards on a punt return to put the ball on the Billiken 39. A few plays later, Werley passed to Tom Bourke for 40 yards and St. Louis was 15 away from a TD. The next three plays were stopped, but pass interference was called on the final try and St. Louis moved to the two-yard line. Roger Clark plunged over to make the score 14-12.

Boys Town got its big ground drive going after that, however, and with its successful gambles, removed all hope of a Billiken comeback. Among the Boys Town ball carriers was James Brown, whose hometown is St. Louis. Bob Rutledge capped the offensive by scoring from the 10 on a handoff from Maddux.

The loss was the first for St. Louis after three victories.

YOUTH CONFESSES KILLING BOY AND HIS BABY-SITTER

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 9 (AP)—"The boy around the corner" was arrested yesterday in connection with the killing two weeks ago of Lynn Ann Smith, 14 years old, and her four-year-old charge, Stephen Goldberg.

Police Chief Raymond P. Gallagher said Kenneth R. Chapin, 18, a high school spohomore who was a pall-bearer at the girl's funeral, admitted in a signed statement killing the teen-age girl and the boy.

Gallagher said Chapin, an electrician's son described by teachers and friends as a "good . . . quiet boy," offered no reason for the double killing.

He pleaded not guilty on arrangement today on two murder charges and was ordered held without bail for hearing Oct. 19.

Gallagher said the youth, a Boy Scout leader who had never before been in trouble with the police, chain-smoked cigarettes but otherwise was calm as he explained the killings and readily signed his statement.

Knife in His Room.

Then, Gallagher said, he told authorities where they could find the death knife (behind a chair in his room) and his blood-stained clothing hanging in a kitchen closet of his home.

The police chief said "there is no question of sex being a factor in this case. It definitely is not."

Gallagher said that the youth told questioners that he knew Lynn Ann well, as she and his own 14-year-old sister were chums.

The youth said he tapped on the window when he saw the girl inside, reading a book. She opened the door, and he stepped in carrying the knife in his hand. It had a 6½-inch blade and a heavy wooden handle.

Chapin told authorities he meant to "scare" the girl. Gallagher quoted the boy as saying that when the Smith girl saw the knife "she started to scream," and he began stabbing and beating her.

Then, Gallagher went on, the youth heard the young boy cry. He went to the child's bed and stabbed him and beat him with the wooden knife handle.

The bodies were found by the youngster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Goldberg, when they returned from a night movie. The girl had been stabbed 34 times. Her neck was broken. Stephen was stabbed 24 times. His skull was fractured.

Gallagher said young Chapin recalled every detail of the killings except how many times he stabbed the girl and the little boy.

After the killings, Gallagher quoted him as saying he went home, washed his clothes and cleaned the knife, hid them, and went to bed.

Thread Is Clue.

The police chief said Chapin's arrest came after a house-to-house check of the neighborhood around the Smith and Goldberg homes. He indicated that a piece of crochet thread, found in the Goldberg apartment, led to the Chapin home.

Earlier, police who described the thread as their best clue said it had been wrapped around the handle of the knife for a better grip.

Donald Gifford, principal of Springfield Technical High School, called Chapin "a good boy who never came before me for disciplinary action." Other teachers said he had not missed a school day since the killing on Sept. 25.

Gifford said the youth was repeating his sophomore year at the high school at the request of his parents "because he hadn't made the progress the family thought he should last year."

Goldberg, father of the dead boy, said: "I feel terribly sorry for his parents. I know what they must be going through. He has ruined three families."

Another Goldberg child, Robert, 6, saved his own life that terrible night by pulling the bed clothes over his head and keeping quiet in a back room of the apartment.

'Good Family.'

Goldberg, a wholesale meat dealer, said young Chapin's sister, Beverly, a good friend of the Smith girl, had sat with the Goldberg children many times. "You could tell she came from a good family by the little things she did," Goldberg said.

Neighborhood companions described Chapin as a "quiet boy" who traveled alone a great deal. They said his parents always insisted he be in the house by 8 p.m.

Stunned neighbors, meanwhile, were unanimous last night in their amazement and disbelief. Some of the reactions were:

"He was the only teen-ager I would have let into my house without a thought of my children's safety," said Mrs. Gerald Baxter.

"Night after night he played cards with my son and the rest of the gang, or watched television in our home. . . . Always a gentleman, always soft spoken," declared Mrs. Irving Lotterman.

Mrs. Orlando B. MacDonald, whose son was one of Chapin's close chums, said "winter and summer he always was doing something for his family or the neighbors, getting up at 5 a.m. to shovel snow from the sidewalks, or raking leaves and helping the men around their gardens."

'Nice, Likeable Kind.'

Said his minister, the Rev. Andrew J. Stanton of the Emanuel Congregational Church: "This, coming on top of the other tragedy, has just about crushed my spirits. He was such a nice, likeable kind, perhaps a bit too reticent and somewhat slow in school, but he appeared to be a decent boy."

Another neighbor, Mrs. L. J. Schnetzer, said "I still can't believe it. He was always such a nice boy and was active in the Boy Scouts."

Chapin's father told a reporter for the Boston Globe, in a copyrighted interview: "I can't understand any of this. My wife and I are taking this very bad, because, above all else, we firmly believe that our son is innocent. I pledge myself to fight this to the end. I'll never let my son down.

"Ken was so close to us that we would know, without any doubt, if any of these things were true. They aren't, and we will fight for him all the way."

CRAZED MAN KILLS WOMAN, TWO GIRLS

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—A psychopathic boarder beat and stomped a 65-year-old woman and two young girls to death in an East Harlem flat.

The triple killing was the first homicide in that particular precinct since Sept. 1 when 450 policemen were sent to the area in an experiment aimed at preventing crime. Police said these killings could not have been prevented no matter how strong the police force, because they occurred indoors.

Benito Rivera Malonado, 31, who came here from Puerto Rico 18 months ago, used a metal chair and his feet on his helpless victims and then tried to beat off police with a chair leg.

As he was dragged out of the four-room flat, he kept muttering: "Los Espiritus. Los Espiritus"—(The Spirits. The Spirits.)

He was charged with the murders of Sotera Cruze Torres, her granddaughter, Doris Rosrigues, 4, and a 15-year-old neighborhood girl, Ruth Lopez, a visitor to the four-room, fifth-floor flat.

Rivera, a nickel-plater, had been living in the flat for three months, paying $12 a week rent. No satisfactory explanation of why he killed the three could be obtained by police.

ARMY SELLS CHLORINE PLANT AT MUSCLE SHOALS, ALA.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Army yesterday announced the sale of the Government-owned chlorine plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., to the Diamond Alkali Co. of Cleveland. The sale price was $15,127,000 the Army said. The firm will take possession of the plant in about three weeks under terms of the sale.

The Muscle Shoals plant was constructed for the Government in 1950-1952 to meet a critical shortage of chlorine, but has since been declared surplus property. Its installation and equipment were designed to produce about 225 tons of chlorine and 250 tons of caustic soda daily.

The Armed Services Committees of the Senate and House authorized the Army early this year to put up the Government-owned plant for sale or lease. The arrangement gave the Monsanto Chemical Co. of St. Louis, which designed the plant, a 60-day option to purchase the plant, but that firm did not exercise its rights.

Peron's Birthday Party.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 9 (UP)—President Juan D. Peron's fifty-ninth birthday celebration carried into the early morning hours today. The President was guest of honor at a spring festival organized by the military circle, featuring several orchestras and a ballet corps.

HENNINGS HITS AT EISENHOWER'S USE OF RED ISSUE

Senator Says G.O.P. Is Taking Up Communist Theme in 'Apparent Desperation.'

It was "unworthy" of President Eisenhower to raise the "false issue of Communism" in his major campaign at Denver, Colo., last night, United States Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr. declared today.

Hennings, who was host at a breakfast meeting of St. Louis Democratic candidates and members of the Democratic City Committee at Hotel Jefferson, said that neither the Republican nor the Democratic party "has any monopoly on fighting Communism abroad or at home."

The senior Missouri Senator charged the Republicans with taking up the Communist theme in "apparent desperation, in view of the fact they are very likely to lose control of the House in the coming elections, and possibly the Senate too."

"This is a false issue," Hennings declared, "because the Democratic party established bipartisan foreign policy, strengthened the free nations of the world and did so much to stop the tide of Soviet imperialism.

"We are reminded that only a short time ago Senator Knowland, the President's own leader in the Senate, said the Democratic party was composed of Americans of unquestioned loyalty and patriotism.

"Everyone knows that neither of the great political parties tolerates Communist doctrines, and that as Americans we must rise above partisanship to maintain national security and the strength of our country.

"This is a false issue, and I believe it unworthy of the President who has had such strong support of Democrats in the carrying out of his foreign policy and the maintenance of our military establishment."

Hennings, who later spoke at a luncheon meeting of St. Louis county Democratic candidates and committee members, at the party's county campaign headquarters, 7807 Forsyth boulevard, Clayton, also assailed the President for saying in his speech that "a cold war of partisan politics" will develop if th eDemocrats win control of the next Congress.

"Despite what President Eisenhower said last night," the Democratic Senator declared, "the greater part and the best part of his program could not have been put into effect without the backing of the Democrats in the Senate and the House."

Hennings added that the Republican Administration has failed to see that government must serve all of the people, and "there can be no sound prosperity unless all segements of the people are prosperous."

The St. Louis Senator, who returned home last week to participate in the Missouri congressional campaigns, said he plans to visit every district in the state before the election. He also is scheduled to make several talks in Illinois in behalf of Senator Paul H. Douglas's campaign for re-election.

G.O.P. LEADERS ASK FOR SUPPORT OF INDEPENDENTS

that the change they asked for in 1952 is in danger now," Ferguson declared. "Many of them vote only in presidential years when their emotions are stirred.

"But they should realize that if they don't take part in this year's election, they will risk sacrificing what they voted for two years ago."

Similarly, Senator William F. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters he agrees that the G.O.P. "can't win without the help of the independent voters."

Knowland said that "to have Congress go into the hands of the opposition at this point would be to the detriment of the country and I think independents and Democrats who supported Eisenhower recognize that fact."

Clings to Prediction.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said he is convinced that "Democrats and independents are voting for Republicans for Congress this year because they want the Eisenhower program completed." Although Martin said he "clings to" his earlier predictions that the Republicans will gain up to 15 seats in a new closely-divided House, some other G.O.P. leaders were not so optimistic.

The Republican leaders who gathered with the President were said to have told Mr. Eisenhower they are confident of winning their own campaigns.

But Representative Charles Halleck of Indiana, the House majority leader, was said to have been blunt in declaring that if some new spark isn't given to the Republican campaign the House is likely to go Democratic.

A White House source said that there was discussion of critical Senate races, including those in Ohio, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Oregon and Idaho, with varying opinions as to whether the Republicans in those states could beat off their Democratic opponents.

There was apparently unanimous opinion among the leaders that the President ought to give more of the kind of Republican campaign speeches he offered the country last night.

Locale Stressed.

There was insistence in some quarters that the locale of his next speech — Michigan and Pennsylvania being mentioned prominently among states — might be quite important.

Text of Eisenhower's Address

DENVER, Oct. 9 (AP). Folowing is the text of President Eisenhower's campaign address last night:

MY good friends, over all of America—

Tonight, as I speak to my countrymen, I am privileged to address myself particularly to my fellow Republican workers, gathered here in Denver and in meetings throughout our land. To each of you—to your families, friends and political associates — I send my warmest greetings.

I am very happy that tonight Vice President Nixon, Speaker Joe Martin, and the other members of our able legislative team are here with us. Under the leadership of these men, the Republican Eighty-third Congress was led to its extraordinary success. They have my respect and admiration for the splendid service they have rendered the American people.

Tonight, in our meetings over America, we come together as members of the Republican party. In spirit we have also with us the great army of other Americans who since 1952 have fought with us for the great plans and programs for which the Republican party stands.

We assemble proud of our party's principles—proud of our party's record.

What are those principles and that record, and as Republicans, what is our goal?

Not political power for its own sake but advancing the good of 163,000,000 Americans, is our goal.

To that end, we are dedicated to the maximum of individual freedom, fostered by a government desiring not to dominate but only to serve—a government kept close to the hearthsides of America—a government liberal in dealing with the human concerns of our people, but conservative in spending their money. From Lincoln's day to this, these have been the fundamental aims of our historic party.

Republicans believe that such government will best preserve liberty and justice, and prosperity and happiness in our land.

Such a government will best promote an enduring peace in the world.

These are the convictions that unite us; this is the cause that inspires us to continued and dedicated effort.

Two years ago the people of our country showed their desire for this kind of government.

Remember election day 1952. In the early hours of morning, in thousands of precincts over America, our citizens eagerly lined up to vote long before the polls had opened.

Do you remember why Americans crowded to the polls on Nov. 4, 1952?

Let's think back.

Two years ago Americans wanted an end to the war in Korea—a war allowed to become futile, seemingly without end.

They wanted something done about our veterans, who suddenly found the country so poorly prepared that they themselves had once again to undergo the dangers of battle, while others remained at home who had never served.

They wanted a stop to the endless rise in taxes, taking more and more of the family income to support an overgrown Washington bureaucracy.

They wanted something done about inflation—to end the growing discouragement as day by day pensions and savings and the weekly pay check bought less and less at the corner store.

Americans were determined to eliminate penetration by the Communist conspiracy in our government and in our whole society. They did not consider it a red herring.

They wanted clean, honest government.

They were especially anxious to get rid of the antagonism between the Congress and the Executive which hamstrung the processes of our government.

All this was wanted two years ago, and you did something about it.

You remember the telephone brigades of two years ago. You remember the "get out the vote" campaigns. You remember the drive, the enthusiasm that, on Nov. 4, 1952, surged forth from our people.

And what happened? You got results.

The people of America got rid of the kind of government they did not want. They replaced it with the kind of government they did want.

In just 20 months, we have come far.

First of all, with the help of thousands of citizens from every walk of life and from every part of America, we devised a Republican program in keeping with the party's platform and the pledges made to America during the campaign. That program had but one purpose—to make America stronger and better, with growing prosperity and happiness for all of our people.

Let's take a quick look at what has happened to this program since its inception.

Two years ago, our people wanted the futile sacrifices in Korea stopped. Fourteen months ago, they were stopped.

Our people wanted clean government. They now have clean, honest, decent government again in Washington.

Two years ago, they wanted government spending and heavy taxes reduced.

In 20 months, this Administration and the Republican-led Congress cut our Government's costs by 11 billion dollars. And at last, we have had a tax cut. Taxes were cut by $7,400,000,000—the largest tax reduction in history. It brings benefits to every family in every American home.

At the same time, we smoked out 211,000 unnecessary positions on the federal payrolls, and we got rid of them.

Meanwhile, our Government has been returning to private citizens activities traditionally theirs.

It is stopping the roasting of coffee, baking of bread, making paint and clothes. It has stopped running a hotel. It stopped running a tug and barge business on our inland waterways — a business that was losing money. We sold it, by the way, at a good price.

Americans had many other goals in 1952.

We have today the strongest armed forces in our peacetime history. In building them we have saved vast funds. We have cut red tape and eliminated duplication and waste. And let me make this clear: our military strength does not consist of involuntarily recalled veterans who have already served our nation in war.

In 1952, our people also wanted a strong peacetime economy. For this our Republican-led Congress took many steps. It passed, for example, a new housing program. It passed an expanded highway program. It passed a new farm program to stop the seven-year decline in farmers' income—a program to promote lasting farm prosperity in an America no longer at war.

The Congress extended old age and survivor's insurance to 10,200,000 more Americans and raised their benefits. And, at last, these benefits include farmers who have been indirectly helping to pay the cost of the social security system all these years. The Congress extended coverage of unemployment compensation to 4,000,000 more Americans. It passed tax revisions to encourage small business and to eliminate inequities in the law.

Due to these and other measures, we have at last an economy whose strength is not sapped by the virus of inflation—an economy whose strength is not dependent upon the sacrifices of the battlefield.

Without the economic collapse so widely forecast by professional pessimists, our nation has moved from war to peace.

Nevertheless, I am keenly aware that, in some American localities, dislocations and hardships do exist. These are the inescapable aftermath of war and inflation. These problems we are striving constantly to ease. Especially in the localities concerned, as well as in the rest of the country, we are taking concrete action to foster strength in our economy.

There was something else, two years ago, that all of us especially wanted. We wanted subversives out of Government service.

This Administration and the Republican Congress are dealing decisively with the Communist menace. We are backing to the hilt the Department of Justice and the FBI. There is no vacillation nor inaction on the part of this Administration in dealing with those who, by force or violence, would overthrow the Government of the United States.

And abroad, we have an honest, forthright foreign policy concerned with deeds not words. Over the globe our friends know our devotion to freedom. They know that America joins with those who help themselves in the effort to preserve liberty and peace.

Two years ago, war was raging in Korea and Indochina. All Asia lay exposed to the steady advance of the Reds. Iran, with 60 per cent of the world's known petroleum reserves, was in deadly danger. Suez and Trieste posed constant threats to peace in the West. Europe had foundered on century-old differences, unable to build a position of reliable strength. Even in the Western Hemisphere, in Guatemala, Communist imperialism had ominously appeared.

You know of the events that have since occurred.

In London, a few days ago, an agreement of momentous significance will powerfully strengthen the defense of the West. Just this week, after almost a decade of anxious effort, Yugoslavia and Italy settled their differences over Trieste. For the first time in 20 years, there is no active battlefield anywhere in the world. For the first time, through the Manila pact and the Pacific charter, we have created solid understandings with friendly peoples of Asia, building strength in an area of critical weakness. And, at last, we are harnessing the atom to the work of peace.

As for nations which, despite our best efforts, are still unfriendly, they harbor no delusions about the determination and the growing strength of the free world.

Recently Communist imperialism discovered that the American republics mean business. First at Caracas, then in 10 short, determined days, the Communist beachhead in Guatemala was decisively repulsed.

In all of these ways, there has been progress of the most tremendous import to the peace and security of the Western world. Much of this progress is due to the richness and experience, imagination and determination of our distinguished Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

Fellow citizens, I have recited some of the advances made in many fields in a short 20 months. For the most part, they have grown out of a cordial partnership between the Administration and our Republican-led Congress.

This cordiality has been a welcome change from the bickering and the suspicion that for so long poisoned relations between the executive and legislative branches of our government. In laws passed, and in heightened respect for their government, this harmony has brought immense benefits to the American people.

Many things need to be done.

We must continue to foster the growth of a free economy to provide more jobs and higher living standards.

We must continue our efforts to cut the cost of government so we can cut taxes still more.

We must continue honest, efficient government in Washington.

We must continue each year to improve our peacetime farm program.

We must have a vast new highway program.

We must expand our foreign trade and American investment abroad. We must expand markets for America's farms and factories, if we are to keep prosperity in our land.

We must write into law a national water resources program.

We must help our people meet their critical health and medical needs, while repudiating once and for all the socialization of medicine.

We must find ways to encourage communities to provide the school houses they need and to improve opportunities for their school teachers.

We must build a new and effective reserve program for our armed forces.

We must begin to unravel the confused relations between the federal, state and local governments, and make still more improvements in the organization of the federal Government.

We must drive through partisan obstructions to achieve statehood for Hawaii, to lower the voting age in federal elections, and to make our promised changes in the labor-management laws.

We must continue our historic advances in the vital area of civil rights.

Now, my friends, a cold war of partisan politics between the Congress and the executive branch won't give us these goals.

This brings up a political fact of life.

You know perfectly well that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end up any place but in the ditch — especially when the drivers are set on going in different directions. You cannot have efficient federal government when the Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another.

In our system of government, progress is made when the leaders of the executive branch and the majority of the Congress are members of the same political party. The unsurpassed record of the Eighty-third Congress is shining evidence of this truth.

But history shows that when the executive and legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot. In these conditions, the public good goes begging while politics is played for politics' sake. Progress slows or stops. For partisan reasons, good laws are pigeonholed. For partisan reasons, bad laws are passed. Meanwhile, in the eyes of the world, we appear divided in council and uncertain in purpost.

These are the reasons — the compelling reasons—why the completion of your great program requires the election of a Republican-led Congress.

In our effort to keep the kind of government we want, you citizens are on the political front lines—the precincts of America. There you are as much a part of government as the sincere, hard-working men and women in Washington today who are trying to give you the kind of government you want.

As leaders and workers in your precincts, you know that the members of our party cannot carry this battle alone. We must enlist the spirited support of friends and neighbors, regardless of party, who believe in our principles and objectives. For the cause in which we believe is bigger than any political party. To this cause, all Americans, regardless of party, can give their enthusiastic support.

In this struggle, I know you will have the same determination—the same enthusiasm—the same drive—as you had two years ago. I know you will fight to win.

For only through your effort can our program continue to advance.

Only through your effort will we continue to have the kind of America all of us so earnestly desire.

Together we shall forge ahead in this great work we have so well begun, determined to keep America strong and secure—determined that this land of freedom, under Almighty God, will not rest until we see in the world a lasting peace with justice. Together we shall forge ahead to build in our America a steadily growing prosperity and happiness that will bring an ever brighter future for our people and for those who, after we are gone, must carry forward the banner of freedom.

That, my fellow countrymen, is our kind of America.

Working together with those millions who have made common cause with us in this effort, that is the kind of America we shall have.

ALL GUESTS ACCOUNTED FOR WHEN FIRE DESTROYS HOTEL

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Oct. 9 (UP)—All 27 guests who were staying at the Milam Hotel when it was destroyed by fire last night have ben accounted for, fire department chief dispatcher A. L. Morrison said today.

Fire Chief Eugene C. White earlier announced he believed everyone had escaped in the $500,000 fire, mut he was not able to check for sure because Olin Archer, the hotel manager, thought the hotel register had been destroyed in the fire.

The fire destroyed the downtown building housing the Milam and several other businesses. The fire was confined to one building, but it covered a third of a downtown block.

RUSSIA ACCUSED OF LYING ABOUT SHOT DOWN B-50

U.S. Sends Note Demanding $2,785,492—Challenges Moscow to Go to World Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The United States today accused Russia of having "willfully and knowingly" lied about the shooting down of an American B-50 bomber over the Sea of Japan in July 1953. It filed a formal damage claim for $2,785,492.

At the same time the United States challenged Russia—if the Communists deny liability for the damages—to join in taking the dispute to the International Court of Justice.

Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen delivered the 17-page American note to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow today.

In Washington, the State Department made the note public and announced that United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has been instructed to circulate the text among the members of the U.N. Security Council.

Second Appeal to U.N.

It was the second time that the United States resorted to this extraordinary procedure in pressing a campaign to get satisfaction from the Soviet Union for the destruction of American aircraft. The first instance was two weeks ago when Washington asked for $1,620,295 for a B-29 shot down off northern Japan in October 1952 with a crew of eight.

There have been a number of cases where Soviet fighters attacked United States planes near Russian borders.

The incident in today's formal diplomatic note occurred on July 29 last year and resulted in 16 American dead or missing.

The American account said the B-50 with 17 crewmen aboard was on a flight over the Sea of Japan and approached to with within 40 miles south of Cape Povorotny, which is in the region of Vladivostok. (See Page 2, Post-Dispatch Atlas Section of Sept. 12).

It charged that at least two Soviet jet fighters—"upon the deliberate and wilful orders of competent Soviet authorities"—attached the big plane without warning and destroyed it.

Crewman Rescued.

One of the crewmen, Capt: John E. Roche, the co-pilot, was rescued by American aircraft and naval vessels assisted by an Australian ship.

Three men died as a result of the attack, the Soviet Union was told, and 13 remained unaccounted for, despite a series of notes to Moscow asking for information about them and for the release of any who may have been rescued.

The note said 12 Soviet motor boats, an armed trawler and Russian planes were seen near where the B-50 crashed into the sea.

In previous exchanges of notes Russia contended that the American bomber had flown over Soviet territory near Vladivostok, that Russian fighters approached it to warn it away, that the B-50 opened fire on them. That one of them was seriously damaged in the ensuing fight and that the B-50 was last seen heading out to sea.

The new United States note said:

"The United States Government finds as a result of its investigations . . . the Soviet Government wilfully and knowingly made material misstatements of fact for the purpose of creating an untrue record and of misleading the United States Government."

U.S. REPORTS JULY LOSS OF $41,000,000 ON PRICE SUPPORTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Department of Agriculture reported yesterday it lost $41,000,000 in July on the sale of farm products acquired under the price support program.

It previously had reported that losses during the fiscal year ended June 30 amounted to a record high of $419,000,000.

As of July 31, the department still had $5,980,269,000 invested in commodities stored under support programs.

This was a decline of $25,000,000 from June 30. Officials said the Government's investment has increased since July 31, reflecting the movement of crops into the program from late summer and early farm harvests. However, no figures were available on the amount of the increase.

BONN TO PUSH BRUSSELS PACT ADMISSION OF TURKEY

BONN, Oct. 9 (UP) — West Germany and Turkey announced today they had agreed to press for admission of Turkey to the 1948 Brussels mutual defense and economic pact.

West Germany and Italy would become members of the Brussels treaty under the London nine-power conference agreement reached last Sunday.

The agreement was announced in a joint communique at the end of a six-day official visit to West Germany by Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes and Foreign Affairs Minister Fuat Koprulu.

QUEEN MOTHER ELIZABETH TO VISIT OTTAWA NOV. 12-17

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 9 (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth will visit Ottawa Nov. 12-17, the government announced today.

Arriving by air from Washington, the Queen Mother will be the guest of Governor-General Vincent Massey at Government House.

The Governor-General will give a state dinner Nov. 13, after which there will be an official reception. The Queen Mother will fly to New York Nov. 17 and sail for home the next day.

Man Who Killed Self Awarded $5000 for Unjust Jailing by Navy

Decorated Aerial Gunner With Honorable Discharge Re-enlisted but Went Home After Row With Officer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—The United States Court of Claims ruled yesterday that James Joseph Roberson of Marcus, Ia., who committed suicide three months ago, was unjustly imprisoned by the Navy and is entitled to the maximum allowable compensation of $5000.

Roberson, an Iowa farm boy, enlisted at the age of 18 and served as an aerial gunner in World War II. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, four Air Medals and a Navy unit citation for his deeds.

According to the Court of Claims finding Roberson re-enlisted in 1946 and was honorably discharged in December 1947. Just about the same time he signed for a third hitch but was told by an officer he had not complied with all regulations for re-enlistment.

After an argument, Roberson was ordered confined to quarters but instead went home to Iowa. Four months later the Navy tried and convicted him of drunkenness, disobeying an officer, desertion, breaking arrest and conduct prejudicial to the service.

He was sentenced to four years in prison, which was shortened to two years of which he served eight months and 19 days and was released on probation for restoration to duty.

Instead, however, he went home on the assumption that his 1947 honorable discharge was still valid. Nine months later he was rearrested, sent back to jail and served two months and 18 days until freed on a habeas corpus writ.

U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan, in Illinois, granted him a certificate of innocence. Roberson petitioned the Court of Claims for reimbursement for false imprisonment and loss of earnings.

The ruling yesterday held that the naval gunner had been validly discharged and the Navy had no right to court-martial him.

In its findings, the court of claims said that after his troubles with the Navy, young Roberson "seemed unable to settle down in one place" and was "reluctant to make friends." It added: "He seemed convinced that no one would want to associate with him if it were known that he had 'done time' (in a federal penitentiary). His earning power was impaired as a result of emotional disturbance and shock following such confinement. This damage is continuing in nature."

Last July Roberson, who would have been 30 this month, committed suicide near Sioux City, Ia., where he was living. His attorneys, Clarence G. Pechacek and Franklin E. Gill, said they will move to substitute a beneficiary for the court award. Roberson is survived by his wife and father.

PRESIDENT WARNS OF 'COLD WAR' IF DEMOCRATS WIN

by television and radio to 1,250,000 party workers at 26,500 rallies around the country.

There was a burst of applause when Mr. Eisenhower said that voters in 1952 were determined to "eliminate penetration by the Communist conspiracy in our Government," and another when he declared "they did not consider that menace a red herring."

The crowd cheered, too, when he said his Administration tolerates "no vacillation nor inaction . . . in dealing with those who, by force or violence, would overthrow the Government of the United States." Mr. Eisenhower said again that Republicans by themselves cannot win the November election battle. Appealing as he did in Los Angeles to independent voters and dissident Democrats, President Eisenhower declared:

"We must enlist the spirited support of friends and neighbors, regardless of party, who believe in our principles and objectives."

Praises Foreign Policy.

The President got one of his biggest hands of the evening when he praised the Administration's record in the foreign policy field and added:

"For the first time in 20 years there is no active battlefield anywhere in the world."

Speaking of what he termed other accomplishments of his Administration and the Republican-led Eighty-third Congress, the President said among other things that:

1. "Our people . . . now have a clean, honest government."

2. "Taxes have been cut $4,700,000,000—the largest reduction in history," and federal spending has been "cut . . . by 11 billion dollars."

3. "We smoked out 211,000 unnecessary positions on the federal payroll and got rid of them."

4. America today has "the strongest armed forces in our peacetime history," at less cost. The President added that "our military strength does not consist of involuntarily recalled veterans who have already served our nation in war."

5. "We at last have an economy whose strength is not spared by the virus of inflation — an economy whose strength is not dependent upon the sacrifices of the battlefield."

Some 'Dislocations.'

On the economic front, Mr. Eisenhower said he is keenly aware that in some localities "dislocations and hardships do exist"—an apparent reference to unemployment in some areas, and to the Democrats' criticism of the Administration on that score.

"These problems we are striving constantly to ease," the President said.

As for tasks remaining which he wants a new Republican-run Congress to tackle, the President said they include:

Encouragement of school construction.

Provision of a health and medical program without socialization of medicine.

"We must continue our historic advances in the vital area of civil rights," he said.

Senator Morse Calls President's Speech "Desperate Plea."

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 9 (AP)—Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.), Oregon, says President Eisenhower made a "desperate plea" for a Republican Congress by forecasting a "cold war of partisan politics" if the Democrats win congressional control in November.

Morse told a Democratic rally last night a change in congressional control would present no problem "unless the President declares that cold war."

CHURCHILL WARNS OF U.S. PULL-OUT FROM CONTINENT

to isolation and the policy is described as 'Fortress America.' We may, however, be sure that all the strongest, wisest forces over there, irrespective of party, will not allow the great republic to be turned from the path of right and duty. . ."

Assails Bevan.

"Six months ago, a politician who has held office in a British Cabinet and who one day aspires to become leader of the Labor party did not hesitate to tell the Americans to 'go it alone.'

Churchill looked hale and hearty despite his years. The convention gave him a five-minute ovation when Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden introduced him with these words:

"Throughout the world you are today acknowledged as the greatest man upon this earth. As such we proudly serve you. As such we all salute you and ask you to speak to us today."

Hopes for New Look.

Churchill said in his prepared speech:

"A year and a half ago, Stalin died. Ever since that event I have cherished the hope that there is a new outlook in Russia, a new hope of peaceful coexistence with the Russian nation and that it is our duty, patiently and daringly, to make sure whether there is such a change or not.

"It is certainly the interest of the Russian people who have experienced a terrible half century of war, revolution and famine, to have an easier and more prosperous generation with more food, more fun, and more friends.

"While I have life and strength I shall persevere in this though I feel with Mr. Eden that the Soviet attitude about Germany and Austria is not encouraging.

"But there is one risk that we must never run. Our policy is 'peace through strength.' We must never wittingly, or unwittingly run the risk of 'subjugation through weakness.'

"The conventional military forces of which the NATO powers dispose are, of course, much fewer than those of Russia and the Soviets have no need to fear their attack.

"In fact, there is no doubt that Soviet Russia could overrun the whole of Europe and make the life of the British Isles impossible, but for the fact that the United States possesses today that superiority in nuclear weapons which, while it is maintained, will be a decisive deterrent against a Communist aggression."

Addressing himself to nations, leaders and peoples everywhere Churchill said the world needs a breathing space, adding:

"This is not a time for violent ideological convulsions. The productive forces which are now working have only to be allowed to unfold and grow in a calm and healthy atmosphere to create material well-being for all to a degree never before within practical reach."

Churchill said there was a difference between the misdeeds or mistakes of people and the crimes committed in their names by dictators.

In an appeal for understanding for the German people, Churchill said.

"Naught but ruin awaits the world if the communities of scores of millions are taught and allow themselves to journey along dominated by feelings of hatred against other vast collections of bewildered mortals.

"Let the dictators whose wickedness wrought the fearful deeds . . . carry their awful record into history.

BIG DEMOCRATIC SWEEP PREDICTED BY STEVENSON

He Is Confident Party Will Win Both House, Senate by 'a Substantial Majority.'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (UP)—Adlai Stevenson today confidently foresaw a Democratic sweep to power in the Nov. 2 elections, saying "we will win both the House and Senate by a substantial majority."

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, accompanied by his son, Borden, arrived from Oklahoma City by plane last night to speak at tonight's Democratic rally in Hollywood bowl.

"The Republicans took it in '52, but it looks like they'll give it back to us this year," the jovial Democratic standard bearer told a cheering crowd that met him at International Airport.

A few hours before, in Oklahoma City, he told a press conference that the United States "could have had a more firm, positive and coherent" foreign policy if he had been elected President in 1952.

Stevenson said not only would foreign policy have been different, but also there would have been no "give away" of natural resources and a different tax policy.

He would not elaborate on his statement about foreign policy, but in past speeches Stevenson has criticized the Administration for its handling of the Communist threat.

When asked whether he would run for president again, Stevenson replied: "I really haven't the faintest idea whether I would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1956, and if I did know at this time, I don't believe I would tell you."

The Democratic leader was given an Indian headdress by Robert Goombi, Oklahoma Indian, and made an honorary chief of the Kiowa tribe. He also was given a deed to two square inches of Indian land near the American Indian exposition grounds at Anadarko, Okla.

When the former Illinois Governor stepped from the plane here last night, he was asked by reporters what he thought of Democratic chances in California.

"I don't know yet," he answered. "That's what I came here to find out."

LOVELORN STORK RESCUED IN ALPS BY SEARCH PARTY

ZURICH, Switzerland, Oct. 9 (UP)—An Alpine search party captured Long Legs, the lovelorn stork, today as he stood shivering on the shores of Lake Greifensee.

He will spend the winter in bereft bachelorhood as a guest of the Zurich zoo.

Other storks were winging south to winter in Egypt but Long Legs was waiting for his new mate. He did not know she had been killed when she flew into a wire the same day they met.

Then yesterday he disappeared, apparently with all hope gone. The people of Zurich doubted he could make it over the Alps this late in the season. A search party found him this morning and ornithologist Max Bloesch snared the bedraggled bird with a 50-foot noose.

'Dear Phoebe' Show Is Funny Nonsense

By John Crosby

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.

BACK in the '30s a young writer named Nathaniel West wrote a slim novel called "Miss Lonelyhearts" about a man who wrote an advice to the lovelorn column for a newspaper.

JOHN CROSBY

The idea of a man writing this kind of material is pretty funny to start out with, but West made the situation even more piquant because his Miss Lonelyhearts was an especially bitter and cynical young man who got himself into the most preposterous involvements with some of the people who wrote him those tear-stained letters. It was a sardonic, bitter book and also in parts a very funny one. West was killed in an automobile accident in 1940 when he was 36. A comparatively small segment of the reading public ever read him or even heard of him, but those who had formed a small but devoted cult.

★ ★ ★

THIS GROUP MAY BE interested in knowing there is on television a series on NBC-TV called "Dear Phoebe" (on KSD-TV at 8:30 p.m. Fridays) similar to "Miss Lonelyhearts" not only in its central situation, that of a man writing an advice to the lovelorn column, but also in the spirit of the proceedings. Of course the bitterness of West is a little too strong for popular consumption and it has been toned down a bit. Still, I think those who enjoyed "Miss Lonelyhearts" will get quite a kick out of "Dear Phoebe."

The city room of the Los Angeles Daily Blade, in which all this nonsense takes place, is a manic spot, the like of which has probably not been seen since the days of "The Front Page." Into it, one day, wanders a young ex-college instructor named Bill Hastings who is straightaway assigned the task of writing the advice to the lovelorn column under the name of Phoebe Goodheart. Hastings is played by Peter Lawford, a personable young Briton, whose mannerisms are a combination of Rex Harrison and Cary Grant, and who brings to the role just the mixture of arrogance and selfishness it must have to be at all believable.

WHILE HE IS PURSUING his feminine and highly unlikely chores, he pursues a young newspaper woman (Marcia Henderson) who has the highly masculine job of reporting the activities of football players and baseball players and such. There is also a waspish managing editor, Mr. Fosdick, who delights in making his staff as miserable as possible.

There is also a copy boy named Humphrey who is a masterpiece of adolescent superiority. These four—and everyone on "The Blade," for that matter—operate under the assumption that the world outside this particular city room is peopled entirely by squares, knaves or idiots or maybe a combination of all three.

★ ★ ★

THE PEOPLE they write about—a doltish football player or a hillbilly baseball player with a mind the size of a pea—are just so many pawns used in their stratagems against one another. Lawford prances through these shenanigans—capturing a kissing bandit or placing a hex on a ballplayer and wrecking his batting average—with great authority and debonair charm.

The dialogue is fast, furious and funny which it has to be to cover up some of the basic incredibility of the situations. "Dear Phoebe" is also immeasurably helped by a first rate cast in every part. The producer-writer is Alex Gottlieb and the director Don Weiss and they both do a bangup job.

Neighbor's Flowers

By Christopher Billopp

A NEIGHBOR'S flowers are of greater variety than one's own flowers. They look well fed. Their colors are more delicate. They do not suffer from disease.

A neighbor will be asked what he does to get such fine results. He will be questioned as to his soil and the fertilizer he uses and the dusts with which he dusts them and the sprays with which he sprays them. Inquiry will be made into how much he waters and works them.

With a smile, the neighbor will reply that he does nothing at all. If he is to be believed his soil is relatively poor, his seeds are nothing out of the ordinary. All he does is put them in the ground and they do the rest themselves.

The only conclusion is that if he has any trade secrets he will not reveal them, or else he is blessed with a green thumb.

Another valuable quality of a neighbor's flowers is that they are constantly in bloom. When one's own garden is producing no blooms at all, a neighbor's garden will be a riot of color.

It may happen that friends have been invited in and flower decorations are needed just when one's garden is producing nothing. In such case one is tempted to ask the neighbor for a few of his blooms. If he is a good neighbor he will respond at once, not with a few blooms but with a great many. These will make possible a number of flower arrangements which will provoke exclamations of wonder and delight from one's friends. They will ask however one managed to get such excellent results.

Under the circumstances, how could one be blamed for yielding to the temptation to smile appreciatively instead of confessing that flowers are not one's flowers at all?

DR. DOISY HONORED AT MEDICAL DINNER

Gets Award From Obstetricians in Surprise Ceremony.

Dr. Edward A. Doisy, director of the department of biochemistry at St. Louis University School of Medicine, was honored last night in a surprise ceremony at the annual dinner of the Central Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

The award, an inscribed gold clock, commemorated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the discovery of the first known female hormone, estrogen, by Dr. Doisy. Presentation was by Dr. Elwood Sharp of Detroit, clinical director of Parke-Davis Co., manufacturers of pharmaceuticals.

A co-winner of the Nobel Prize in physiology and medicine in 1943 for his work in isolating Vitamin K, Dr. Doisy first described estrogen in 1928. He also is distinguished service professor of biochemistry at the medical school.

In presenting the award, Dr. Sharp praised Dr. Doisy as "one of the greatest scientists of today." The dinner was held in the Gold Room of Hotel Jefferson.

Sessions of the three-day meeting, attended by about 500 obstetricians and gynecologists, will conclude today.

Dr. Paul Fletcher, 7345 Westmoreland avenue, University City, was elected vice president of the association yeesterday. Other new officers are: Dr. Harold L. Gainey of Kansas City, president-elect; Dr. Edward J. DeCosta of Chicago, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Herman Gardner of Houston, Tex., assistant secretary.

Dr. Frank McPhail of Great Falls, Mont., named president-elect last year, succeeded to the presidency this year.

PACIFIC INSTITUTE FAVORS U.N. SEAT FOR CHINA REDS

KYOTO, Japan, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Institute of Pacific Relations closed its two-week meeting yesterday with general agreement that Red China should be admitted to the United Nations as a means of easing cold war tension in Asia.

American delegates agreed in general with this stand but said the Communists first must prove peaceful intentions before United States public opinion would favor admission.

Prof. Harold H. Fisher, director of the Hoover Institute at Stanford University, was re-elected chairman of the Pacific Council, governing body of the institute.

MSGR. A.H. TOEBBEN NAMED CHAPLAIN OF NEW HOSPITAL

Msgr. Andrew H. Toebben, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, South Seventh street and Allen avenue, has been named chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital, Kirkwood. His new appointment was among several announeed yesterday by Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter.

Msgr. Toebben is succeeded as parish priest of SS. Peter and Paul by the Rev. Edward A. Bruemmer, former pastor of St. Joachim's Church, Old Mines, Mo. The Rev. Joseph E. Bartin was transferred from Sacred Heart Church, New Franklin, Mo., to the Old Mines parish. The Rev. Thomas D. Sullivan, assistant pastor of Christ the King Church, University City, becomes pastor at New Franklin.

The Rev. Ralph G. Kutz was named pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Martinsburg, Mo., also to have charge of Resurrection Church, Wellsville.

CANADIAN OFFICIAL AWARDED THE GUGGENHEIM MEDAL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (AP)—Clarence Decatur Howe, Canada's Minister of Trade and Commerce, last night became the first Canadian to win aviation's Guggenheim medal.

The medal—awarded for outstanding contributions to progress in aviation—was presented to Howe at a national meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers for his work in helping build Canada's airlines and aviation industry.

He was minister of transport in charge of civil aviation when Trans-Canada Air Lines, a government airline, first developed transdominion air service from 1936 to 1939. Later he was minister in charge of procurement of military aircraft.

PARK FEES SUSPENDED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 9 fees at seven state parks will be suspended for the season tomorrow, the State Conservation Department said yesterday.

Admissions are charged at Illinois Beach, Starved Rock, Mississippi Palisades, Matthiessen, White Pines, Pere Marquette and Grand Marais parks.

RETAIL SALES DOWN 1 PER CENT FROM YEAR AGO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Department of Commerce estimated yesterday that total sales of retail stores in September were unchanged from August, after taking account of seasonal factors, but were about 1 per cent less than in September 1953.

The advance estimate of retail sales during September by the Commerce Department said sales apparently totaled approximately 14 billion dollars.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported wholesale prices averaged one tenth of 1 per cent lower during the week ended Oct. 5. The bureau's index declined to 109.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

The bureau said that its farm product price index declined 1.4 per cent to a new low since the start in mid-1950 of the Korean war.

OLD SOLDIER REPAYS HOSPITAL FOR ONCE SAVING HIS LIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—A retired soldier in his 72st year has at last repaid a hospital for saving his life 49 years ago.

John Ratk, a Yugoslavian immigrant who spent most of his life serving in the United States Army, said today he has sent $1000 to St. Margaret's Hospital in Kansas City, Kan.

He said in 1905, just after his first hitch in the Army, he was severely injured in a freight train wreck near Kansas City and unconscious for three days. He credited the nuns at the hospital with pulling him through. The old soldier, who lives on Staten Island, said he had received a letter from the hospital acknowledging his gift as the "answer to a prayer."

ART ALLIANCE SHOW ON VIEW AT HOTEL

An exhibition of 22 oil paintings by members of the St. Louis chapter of the American Art Alliance was open to the public today at the Sheraton Hotel, where it will continue through Dec. 31.

Virginia Moberly Schlueter, winner of a number of recent prizes in open competitions, is represented by "Edge of Town," wintry in coloring but far from bleak, with its rich arbitrary tones and impressionist patches in shadows on horses, fences and snow. It is one of several landscapes that form the bulk of the show.

Among still-life paintings, Olga Stover's "Nanna and Nonno" is a picture within a picture and is so meticulously realistic in places as to deceive the eye. Almost a combination of both types of painting is Henry F. Whitt's "Driftwood," where weathered and grainy tree roots are flung up against a specular sky of placid blue.

Others taking part: Enid Hood, Helen Wineke, Leona Chappell, Helen Koch, Lillian Renshaw, Edward L. Karasek, Grace Koch Markman, Blanche Skrainka, Ruth Robinson, Lillian Thoele, Helen Bratton, Gustave and Hazel Goetsch.

"Great Periods of Etching," an exhibition chosen from the City Art Museum's extensive print collection by Miss Mary Powell, the museum's supervisor of education, opened yesterday in galleries U, V and W.

Emphasis in the Seventeenth Century is given to Rembrandt and Van Dyck, in the Eighteenth to Piranesi and Canaletto, in the Nineteenth to Whistler and Meryon and in the Twentieth to William Stanley Hayter and other abstractionists.

Miss Powell has selected Rembrandt's 100-guilder print, "Christ Healing the Sick," famous for its many-figured composition and its chiaroscuro, as the museum's Print of the Month. —H.D.

ARCHERS KILL EIGHT DEER IN MISSOURI FOR RECORD

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9—Eight deer have been killed in Missouri's current archery hunting season which lasts through October, the State Conservation Commission reported yesterday.

The archers have set a new record. The previous high was five in last year's 15-day season. The commission expects a total of 15 this year.

The eighth deer was an 85-pound doe killed at 40 yards by a veteran archer, Robert Reed of Festus, north of Bloomsdale yesterday. Gerald E. Marsh of near Yancy Mills, Mo., got the seventh deer with a homemade bow at 40 yards south of Newburg yesterday. Lon Stanton of Lake Ozark, hunting for the first time, shot the sixth deer Thursday along the Osage River below Bagnell dam.

68-YEAR-OLD OFFICE BOY LEAVES $150,000 ESTATE

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Relatives and friends of a 68-year-old office boy were surprised yesterday when they learned the amount of his estate, an estimated $150,000.

The wealth of John W. Nelson was disclosed by investigators for the Cook county coroner's office who had gone to his room searching for a cemetery lot deed.

They found bank books showing savings accounts totaling $16,000 and a key to a safe deposit in a Loop bank. In the bank box were 17 different stock issues valued at about $120,000, $6900 in cash, and $6300 in United States saving bonds. No will was found.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG U S PAT OFF

Friday and Saturday columns are devoted to teen-agers, who are invited to submit their questions to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

MAYBE you'll think this is a silly question but I've thought about it a lot. Do you think a teen-ager can be studious and popular at the same time? In my school, it always seems to be the ones who brag about never studying who are the most popular. Do boys really admire the girls like that? Some of my friends and I have been talking about it and we decided to write for your opinion. PEGGY.

There's a big difference, Peggy, in being a dull bookworm and a good student. There's no reason in the world why a well-adjusted, intelligent and attractive girl can't be a good student and still be gay and happy and have her share of dates and fun. The boys, I'm sure, hate to hear a girl show off her knowledge to the extent that everyone else seems dull in comparison, but they don't want any lightweights either. (The few who laugh at scholarship and ambition aren't worth wasting your time on, anyway.) My advice to you and your friends is to study hard, become active in school activities, be attractive and happy, make a point of being friendly to everyone you meet and you'll gain a far deeper brand of popularity than the shallow kind that laughs at anything serious.

Dear Martha:

PLEASE SUGGEST SOME IDEAS for a birthday present for a 16-year-old boy. We don't go steady but we date frequently and he gave me a nice present for my MARGIE.

What are his interests? Sports? How about a book on his favorite ballplayer? Music? A record album or a pair of tickets to an upcoming symphony concert? Is he a fastidious dresser? How about monogrammed white handkerchiefs or a scarf? Other suggestions are a billfold, key chain, scarf, magazine subscription.

If you're planning a party for the crowd, send for Martha Carr's leaflets on games. Available are Halloween parties, general party games, pen and pencil games, picnic games, scavenger hunts and other entertainments. Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

At the Movies

By Myles Standish

Executive Sweets

"WOMAN'S WORLD," a CinemaScope production at the ST. LOUIS THEATER about the picking of a general manager for a huge automobile company, is as sleek, plush and glossy as the Gifford car which it features. Yes, sir, there's plenty of purr under the hood, it's tuned up so it's smooth as a Cadillac salesman's approach, it's a flashy job; true, it has more body than soul, and the engine never picks up the power to match the smart accessories, but it offers an enjoyable and luxurious ride.

Now that we've disposed of the metaphors, we can settle down and analyze this as a combination of two influences. First, it's "Executive Suite," the struggle for power in a big business, tamed down into something mild, polite and charming and from the woman's angle, as if "Executive Suite" were being told in the impeccable colors and style of a Lincoln advertisement in a smart magazine, like, say, Harper's Bazaar. Second, it's a repetition of the Twentieth-Century Fox formula, so commercially successful in "Three Coins in the Fountain" and "How to Marry a Millionaire," of giving us an eye-filling CinemaScope travelogue of the more spectacular and beautiful facets of a great city, and weaving it together with an account of the loves and spats of three couples.

The city is New York, and the CinemaScope, in air shots of its massed buildings and closeups of its swanker aspects, makes it seem enchanting. The couples are Van Heflin and Arlene Dahl, Cornel Wilde and June Allyson, Fred MacMurray and Lauren Bacall. The three men are district managers for the Gifford company and are in New York with their wives as the guest of Mr. Gifford (Clifton Webb) so he can look over both the men and their wives as to their qualifications for the job of Mr. and Mrs. General Manager. The voluptuous red-head, Miss Dahl, is the type who doesn't hesitate to use her charms to try to push her husband ahead. Miss Allyson is an unpolished homey type from Kansas City who is very happy as she is, and hopes her husband, a nice, honest guy, doesn't get the job. Miss Bacall is the embittered kind, resentful that her husband has made her play second fiddle to his ambition, and about to leave him. With all of them the suave and kindly Mr. Gifford plays a cat-and-mouse game as he probes into their ideas and characters.

Director Jean Negulesco and writers Claude Binyon, Mary Loos and Richard Sale have done a smooth, urbane job, and kept the people human. Interest is kept pretty high throughout, even though you might find it hard to believe that the nature of the executive's wife would be so important as to throw a candidate out of the running, even though he was the best man otherwise.

Wealth Conquers All

Mark Twain's story commenting on the worship of great wealth, "The Million Pound Bank Note," has been made into a British film, "MAN WITH A MILLION," starring Gregory Peck, and is showing at LOEW'S STATE THEATER.

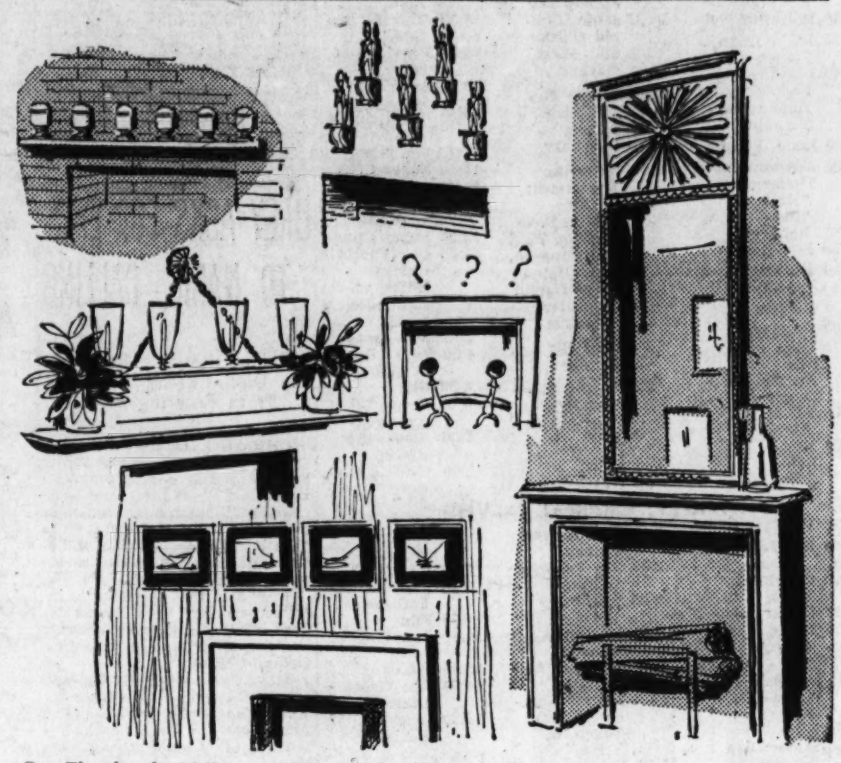

Two elderly wealthy brothers, on a bet, draw a million-pound bank note from the Bank of England and lend it to a penniless American, Henry Adams (Peck) on the stipulation he is to return it intact in one month. Mere possession of the note creates so much awe that Adams obtains unlimited credit at a swank tailor's and at a plush hotel, becomes a social lion among the nobility, his mere name becomes a power on the stock exchange, and he lives like the eccentric Yankee millionaire he is supposed to be, all with the expenditure of not one cent of his own, and of only 100 pounds cash the American Ambassador forces upon him for ready change.

This jocular and preposterous yarn is rather broadly done as to the antics of the people so ready to bow down to wealth, but is fairly amusing in its execution. Trouble is, having once made its point, the story has to keep making it, even if on a larger scale, so that in the end it is belaboring the obvious. To Peck's sturdy Henry Adams, Jane Griffiths is a charming romantic vis-a-vis as the niece of a Duchess who loves him for himself and not his wealth. But it is the spry octogenarian, A. E. Matthews, who gives the most incisive performance as a sly old duke who won't take a back seat to the Yankee upstart. Our old friend, Wilbur Evans of Muny Opera renown, plays the American ambassador.

Ideas for Fireplace Decoration

By Elizabeth Hillyer

URNS, figures, candlesticks, pictures, and mirrors—they're still good materials for arrangement over the fireplace. But new ideas for using them turn out different decorative effects than these same objects used to.

How about a change from the same old mantel arrangement that no one looks at anymore? As the fireplace becomes more and more a center of interest in winter time, try your hand at something new. Here are five sketches for inspiration.

★ ★ ★

A SINGLE OBJECT, or several repeats of the same or almost like objects, seems to be the trend here. The arrangements are simple, and none of them combine a number of unlike objects, or depend on pairs. Six objects stand in a row to be all the decoration needed at upper right. They might be urns or covered, footed jars. The five figures of a group stand on decorative brackets, two above three, at top center. Both ideas provide wonderful show-off space for the pride and joy items of the collector.

Decorative candle holders of all kinds come into favor as over-the-mantel decoration. Here the crystal-shaded candles hang from brass chains above the mantel, and plants at each end complete the design. The fact that nothing is rectangular in the urn, figure, and candle arrangements does much to make these designs different.

★ ★ ★

WHEN the inevitable rectangles of pictures and mirrors are used, they can look different, too. Pictures sketched are four instead of one, and they are grouped side-by-side instead of two above two. They add up to more width than the mantel, which creates an unusual effect of balance. Note that the mats are dark against the light chimney-facing to make the pictures stand out.

The size of a mirror makes all the difference in the way it looks over a mantel, and the sketch at right shows how handsome a mirror of unusual proportions can be. This mirror is very tall and slender. It starts at the mantel edge and reaches upward all the way to the ceiling, with bright gold decoration at the top.

Find out what's wrong with the room before you change it. Check it over with the help of Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet "What's Wrong With That Room?," which not only spots weak points, but tells how to correct them. Send 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please with your booklet request addressed to Miss Hillyer at the Post-Dispatch.

Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

On Leaving Window Screens in Place.

IF YOU are one of many who can find better things to do on a Saturday afternoon than taking down window screens, you have probably wondered just what would happen if the screens were left up all year around.

Well, the answer to that one depends on the type of screening and frames and the sort of winters you get in your neck of the woods.

Copper, aluminum and plastic screening don't rust so they won't be damaged by rain or snow. Iron screening does rust unless it's coated with paint. If you painted the screening before you hung the screens last spring, they are probably ready for another coat by now. As painting screens in a window is tough work, you had better take them down, clean them off, paint them and then store in a dry safe place for the winter.

With the other non-corrosive screening things are not quite as definite. If they are mounted in non-corrosive metal frames there is no reason why they can't be left up during the winter. The only thing you have to worry about is the possibility that a dead branch from a nearby tree or a piece of ice may be blown against the screening with such force as to tear the screening loose from the frame.

On the other hand, in a case like this the screening may save the window glass from being broken.

If the screening is mounted in wood frames, then you want to be sure that the frames are in first rate condition. All joints should be tight and the frames well protected with paint.

My Day

Time for Recreation

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

ON Tuesday in Washington I spent a day in which I was indulging myself purely in recreation. I was met on the arrival of my morning plane by Miss Charl Williams and Mrs. Lucille Klinge, president of the National Rural Education Association. After Mrs. Klinge left us, I took my bag to Mrs. Adolph Miller's home, saw my hostess for a few minutes, and then went to the National Gallery of Art. I had looked forward with great pleasure to this chance to see the gallery under the guidance of David Finley. For an hour and a half he and one of his co-workers showed me its treasures and told me stories which made them all doubly interesting.

Mrs. Roosevelt

What a storehouse of beauty the National Gallery has become. One should, of course, sit down in each room and slowly drink in one picture after the other, but all I can hope for is that sometime I will have time to go again in more leisurely fashion to just one room at a time. In any case I loved every minute of the hour and a half we spent and I further enjoyed having lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Finley and a few other friends.

★ ★ ★

IT WAS ALTOGETHER a delightful time except for the fact that Washington was having one of its warmest summer days. All of us felt the heat, particularly because it was so unseasonable. However, I returned for a pleasant, quiet hour with Mrs. Miller in her cool room. Then I prepared to go to the reception given by the Ambassador from Panama, H. E. Roberto Huertematte, at which he presented me with a decoration sent by President Jose Remon. President Remon had planned to give me this himself when he came to Hyde Park last year, but Anne and John had to receive him then as I was away on a trip.

I am deeply touched by the honor bestowed on me in the citation and charming speech made by the Ambassador. Everyone was most kind and I was glad to see again a few old friends and a great many acquaintances.

After an early dinner with some friends I went back to Mrs. Miller's to prepare for my early start Wednesday morning.

I SPENT the whole of Wednesday morning at the Rural Education Conference. It was their closing session and I was delighted to hear the speeches that were made after I had given my own greeting.

A number of people in the audience who had attended the first meeting of the group 10 years ago in the White House came up to shake hands at the end of the session. Then I went off with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rath for a delightful luncheon at which I gathered much information about the work of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, of which Mr. Rath is the director now. He told me of many interesting things in the preservation of historic sites. I think everyone should be glad that this organization was established.

Pleasant Surprise

A few chopped walnuts added to brussels sprouts served in a cheese sauce complements the flavor of the sprouts. Or sprinkle the chopped nut meats on top when serving. This dish has taste appeal, and the slight crunch of the nuts is a pleasant surprise.

They'll Do It Every Time

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

PERHAPS the outstanding mark of an expert is the ability to spot danger points almost at a glance and, having done so, to take logical precautions. Under this test, South in the following deal measured up admirably.

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠K10984 ♥Q7 ♦AKJ ♣J83
♠Q ♥KJ832 ♦965 ♣10942	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠A76532 ♥94 ♦7432 ♣6
	♠J ♥A1065 ♦Q108 ♣AKQ75

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	2♣	Pass
3♣	Pass	3♥	Pass
3N.T.	Pass	6♣	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's final bid was something of a gamble, but the fact that North had raised clubs directly on the second round made South feel that he would find at least a slightly better dummy than North could supply. Experts use the direct raise of partner's first response to show appreciably better than a minimum opening bid, and in that sense North was on doubtful ground in giving the immediate club raise.

West, naturally impressed by the opposing bidding, and having no great reason to hope for the defeat of the slam by simply standing pat, made the desperation lead of the spade queen. This choice should have had an excellent outcome but, due to a combination of fast and sound thinking on South's part, and a certain amount of naivette on East's, the lead was wasted.

South saw at a glance that (a) the lead was almost certainly a singleton, and (b) that if he covered the spade queen in dummy, a spade return by East would have to be ruffed with an honor, which might easily result in setting up a defensive trump trick. (Observe that this is exactly what would have transpired.) So South played the spade four from dummy at Trick 1—and East reacted as South hoped. Actually, there was some excuse for East. He did not know that South was about to follow suit with the jack—he felt that West had led the queen from Q-J—and so East let the queen hold. That was all South needed. He took West's diamond shift, drew the outstanding trumps, went to dummy with a diamond, and pushed the spade king through East's marked ace. The three spade tricks thus established took good care of South's three low hearts.

Tribute to Public Health Nurses

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

NEXT week has been designated "National Nurse Week." It is fitting to take time out to review the progress that has been made in the nursing profession in the past half century. Fifty years ago nurses in practice numbered 12,000—today that number has increased to approximately 370,000.

Because of the tremendous expansion of health services in our nation and the important role the nurse plays in these services a nursing career today offers unlimited opportunities. The professional nurse may select hospital duty, public health, school or industrial nursing. She may serve with our armed forces, do private practice nursing or go into the administrative or teaching field.

The Health Division takes this opportunity to pay special tribute to the public health nurse. Public health nursing is recognized as an essential part of almost every public health program. It is a specialized field of nursing that requires a broad training. The present day public health team consists of many kinds of workers—the physician, the educator, the nutritionist, the social worker, the sanitation and the laboratory worker. The nurse must be prepared to work effectively as a part of this team.

In the maternal/child health clinics, the tuberculosis and venereal diseases clinics the public health nurse works side by side with the physician. She is the welcome visitor in the homes of the families she serves—carrying a message of disease prevention and disease control. She helps mothers-to-be prepare for the coming baby.

The public health nurse goes into homes where tuberculosis or other contagious diseases are present and demonstrates to the homemaker proper isolation techniques to protect the well members of the family. She knows that regardless of the disease, each patient is an individual whose problems are quite different from those of another person with the same disease and the advice given him must be geared to his specific needs.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

Answer to Question 1.

NO, although northern states spend far more money for education than some southern states. Southern states are apparently making a more heroic effort to educate their children in proportion to their wealth than northern wealthy states. New York, New Jersey and California spend over $320 yearly per pupil; Mississippi, $102; Alabama, $112. But a leading educator told me that if Mississippi spent all its tax money plus 5 per cent yearly of its durable wealth, it could then only equal these states.

Answer to Question 2.

False. Randolph Van Nostrand of Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is quoted: "The new system (now called "Automation") won't displace people any more than did the steam engine or electric motor. It will raise our standard of living and create more jobs than ever, at higher levels of skill." This means young people must have more and higher education than ever.

Answer to Question 3.

Yes. Leslie Loomis of the Humane Society offers this one: "I want my mind and body trained so I can be of the fullest service. I want to be treated kindly just as I treat children and all in distress. I want my master to be my god and act the part. I want to be considered one of the family, for I will give my life to protect it." Rover isn't asking too much, is he?

UREY ASKS FOR END TO NAME-CALLING

Assails Pillorying Scientists as Discouraging Students From Entering Field.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (UP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, a leader in the wartime atomic energy program, urged last night that Americans abandon "Roman circus antics of pillorying scientists" and turn to "the less spectacular job of improving education in this country."

Urey said that referring to intellectuals by such terms as "egg-head" discourages superior students from choosing scientific fields of study.

The University of Chicago scientist spoke at a dinner at which he was presented the 1954 honor scroll of the American Institute of Chemists, Chicago chapter.

Urey said name-calling of intellectuals and "public hearings" for prominent scientists are destroying American education of scientists and engineers.

If the United States does not do a better job of training scientists and engineers, Urey said, "work which might be done in the United States may well be done in some other country—and that country might not be friendly to us."

By the Associated Press.

He said it is his belief that as a nation we "are in a more dangerous position than we have ever been in since the time of our own revolution. There is an implacable enemy to our way of life in the world today."

The scientist, a professor of chemistry at the University of Chicago, asserted that America was "the revolutionary idea" of the last century and took the position that our old revolutionary ideas "are superior to those which recently have come into prominence."

FRENCH SAY THEY KILLED 21 TUNISIAN GUERRILLAS

TUNIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—French sources said 21 nationalist guerrillas were killed in a fight with French security forces yesterday near Sidi Bou Zid in central Tunisia. Two members of the security force were reported wounded.

CATTLE HIGHER ON WEEK, HOGS, LAMBS ARE LOWER

Decreased supplies of cattle and calves found generally active selling and uneven gains in price in week ended Friday. High good and choice steers and heifers sold 50c to $1 higher, lower grades strong to 50c higher. Cows closed mostly 50c higher, bulls about steady except for uneven weakness on Canner to low Utility grades. Vealers and calves finished strong to $1 higher. Sharply decreased numbers of replacement steers found active selling at strong prices. Bulk of choice steers brought $23.50@25.75, a few loads of yearling and medium weights at the upper end of the choice grade $26 and prime 895-lb. steers $26.25. Commercial to high good steers went $18.50@22.50, moderate numbers high good and choice at $23. Prime 908-lb. mixed steers and heifers brought $26, majority choice heifers and mixed yearlings $22@24 with commercial and good $16.50@21. Utility and commercial cows bulked $9@12, few below $9.50 late.

Utility and commercial bulls brought $11@13, canner and cutter bulls $8@10.50. A few high choice and prime vealers claimed $23@24, good and choice $18@22, commercial and low good $13@17. Good and choice slaughter calves went at $17@19, commercial and good $13@16.

Barrows and gilts 180 lbs. up finished the week steady to 10c lower, lighter weights mostly 25c higher and sows steady to 50c higher. Top prices ranged from $19.95, lowest in 20 months, to $19.60 for limited numbers Monday. Sows topped at $18.50, late $18.25 down. For the week, bulk of 180 to 260 lbs. sold at $19@19.35, 270 to 315 lbs. $18.35@19.25; 150 to 170 lbs. $18.50@19.25; 260 to 400 lb. sows $17.25@18.50 and heavier sows $15.50@17.25.

Lambs finished the week unevenly steady to 50c lower, most decline on clips. Week's top was $20, paid late for approximately 100 mostly prime woolskins; several loads and lots choice to prime No. 1 and 2 skins $18.50@19.50. Over 80 per cent of all lambs, both shorn and woolskins, comprised choice and choice-to-prime grades from $18@19.50. A moderate percentage of feeders and low-grade killers, mostly utility grade, brought $15@17.50; main price $15 for feeders but not many present; packer throwouts of mostly cull grade $10@14, largely $12@13; several lots good and choice yearling wethers $16.50@17; deck utility to good $15; most slaughter ewes $3@4; aged bucks $3.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY STOCK YARDS.

CATTLE: For week. Good to choice steers and butcher yearlings bulked from $20.50 to $23.50; high choice and prime up to $26; medium and low good types $16@19; good to prime veals sold from $18 to a top of $25; good to choice slaughter calves $17@19.

HOGS: Bulk of the good 180 to 260-lb. sold Friday from $19@19.10; meat type Nos. 1 and 2 up to $19.25; light lights and pigs from $18 down; packing sows bulked from $15.75 for heavies up to $18.25 for choice lights.

EXCHANGES OPEN TUESDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Major security and commodity markets in this country will be open next Tuesday, Columbus day, Oct. 12, carrying out the new policy adopted last spring to eliminate closings on lesser holidays.

A few smaller commodity markets will close for the day, including the New York coffee and sugar exchange, the New York cocoa exchange, the New York commodity exchange and the New York wool exchange. The United States Department of Agriculture which distributes dairy, poultry and produce quotations, also will observe the day.

NEW JOBLESS PAY CLAIMS DOUBLE THOSE OF '52 WEEK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—The Department of Labor reported yesterday that unemployment insurance claims continued to decline during the last week in September and the first week in October.

New claims totaled 241,000 for the week ended Oct. 2, a drop of 4700 from the previous week and the lowest volume since the last week in October 1953. New claims totaled 190,800 in the comparable week last year and 123,623 in the corresponding week of 1952.

Continuing claims declined by 70,300 to 1,535,000 during the week ended Sept. 25, the lowest level since Dec. 19, 1953. They totaled 755,000 last week and 637,108 in 1952.

The department said 29 states reported declines in new claims and 40 states reported declines in continuing claims. Exhaustion of benefit rights, however, contributed to the decline in continuing claims.

BOARD AUTHORIZES DRAFTING OF NEW M.-K.-T. STOCK PLAN

Directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co. authorized officers of the line yesterday to draw up a definite plan to recapitalize the company's stock. The officers are to work with chairmen of preferred and common stockholder committees.

Donald V. Fraser, president, presented the outline of a plan at the directors' meeting. The completed plan is to be submitted at the next directors' meeting Nov. 4. Stockholder committees held a series of meetings in New York last month.

The board also authorized purchase of 500 boxcars and six passenger coaches at a total cost of about $4,500,000. Joseph T. Mahaney, executive vice president, was elected a director to fill the term of the late Robert D. Sanders of Jackson, Miss.

U.S. FIRM'S BID TO BUILD INDIA LOCOMOTIVES ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—The General Services Administration announced yesterday it has accepted an $8,910,000 bid from the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp., of Philadelphia, to build 50 steam locomotives and tenders for India.

The company was the only American firm to submit a bid. Its proposal was higher than any of the 11 foreign bids. A Japanese firm was low bidder.

Director Harold E. Stassen of the Foreign Operators' Administration announced several weeks ago that 50 of the 100 locomotives being purchased for India would be bought from an American firm.

WEEK OF SELECTIVITY ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Very Sharp Gains in Relatively Few Issues, Narrow Irregularity Elsewhere.

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (UP)—Utilities declined 59 cents on average this week to mar an otherwise higher share market. Industrials set a new high since Sept. 19, 1929, when they backed down 2 cents from that level in the Friday session. They closed with a gain on the week of 3.89 points. Rails gained 81 cents.

Trading increased to 10,787,563 shares with the daily total averaging 2,157,512 shares. A week ago sales were 9,494,030 shares, averaging 1,896,806 shares a day.

Tires, steels, metals, and aircrafts had wide gains. So did some of the issues in such groups as the machine tool, sulphur, chemical, mercantile, gold, copper, aluminum, soap, packing, farm implement, cement, airline, oil equipment, textile and coal.

Issues Behind Market.

Traders were trying to ferret out the issues behind the market and they also looked for special situations where a stock split might be lurking. They anticipated good earnings in steel and some higher dividends.

The net result of the selectivity was a series of very sharp gains in a relatively few issues, and narrow irregularity elsewhere.

Rohr Aircraft which was listed on Monday gave the stock community a new toy. They bid that issue up from its first stock exchange at 25 to 35. It closed the week at 32. Bendix Aviation rose 3½ points, Douglas 4⅛ points and Boeing Airplane 1½ points.

Goodyear stood out as a star performer. It gained 8¼ points on the week to close at 89½ amid split-up rumors. Firestone rose 3¼ points. Goodrich was higher for a time but it closed the week unchanged. Lee rose 4⅜.

Steel Rate Boosted.

In the steel section, Pittsburgh steel issues shot ahead when the company announced it will step up operations to 100 per cent of capacity next week. The common rose 3⅛ points and the preferreds more than 4 points each. Bethlehem Steel was up more than 3 points and so was U. S. Steel, while Youngstown Sheet gained nearly 3 points. Armco gained 4.

Other wire gainers included Ingersoll-Rand up 9½; Rohm & Haas up 23; Texas Pacific Land Trust, up 7¼; Cincinnati Milling up 5½; McGraw Electric up 6½; New York Dock up 4¾; U. S. Gypsum up 4¼; Reynolds Metals up 6¼; and Revere Copper & Brass up 4.

Du Pont was strong for a time, but it eased from the high and closed with a gain of 1½ points on the week. Allied Chemical lost nearly 2 points. Liquor issues yielded small amounts. Chrysler was down nearly 2 while General Motors rose nearly a point.

A total of 215 issues set new highs for the year and longer while only five made new lows.

There were 741 gains, 505 declines and 204 issues held unchanged out of a total of traded issues of 1450. There were 1451 issues traded in the week ended Sept. 24 and that was the largest since July 23 when 1458 issues traded.

Third Quarter Reports.

Market men said the news of market importance was favorable, but they held that the list could use a little rest at this point.

Good earnings reports are anticipated for the third quarter. These will soon be appearing. Higher dividends or extras are foreseen, in large numbers late in the year. Estimates place the over-all dividend total for 1954 at a record high.

Some disappointment was expressed over failure of the railroad average to rise along with industrials. Rails were firm at times and a sizeable group of the 20 used in the average closed higher with Kansas City Southern up 2½ on the week and Union Pacific up a point.

Oils had their strong spots and Tide Water Associated led the market in turnover with Armour second. Rohr Aircraft, the newcomer, was in third place, Royal Dutch fourth and U.S. Steel fifth. All but three of the 20 actives closed the week higher.

F. W. Woolworth Sales.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (INS)—F. W. Woolworth Co. announces sales of $55,191,297 for September, compared with $55,505,355 in the like month of 1953.

Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. needs one mechanical engineer to do design work on Radio Tube manufacturing equipment, and three electrical engineers, in their new modern Radio Tube Plant in Burlington, Iowa. A company representative will be available for interviews on October 9, 1954, between 9 and 12 a.m. and 1 and 5 p.m. For interviews call CE. 1-5267.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

EIGHTY miles an hour, 90, and the road was a straight flat ribbon in the moonlight. Ninety - five. A curve sign slammed at me. I pushed hard on the brakes and fought the wheel. The rear end skidded sickeningly on gravel and the tires made a horrible screaming. I fed gas again, let up on the brakes, and made the curve. Ahead the road was straight again. Seventy, 75, 80 and the motor wound up. Far behind I heard a faint banshee wail that sounded like a siren, but it could have been the blood singing in my ears. I laughed aloud. Maybe I was going crazy.

I pulled the auto off the highway and coasted to a stop, gunning the motor affectionately before I turned the key. It growled a response and died. In the restaurant I got a cup of coffee at the counter and carried it back to one of three phone booths in the rear. I placed the coffee on a small shelf, got out a handful of silver, lit a cigarette, and went to the telephone.

"This is Jim, honey."

"Where are you?"

"Somewhere on Route 20. How's everything?"

"Ralph's worse, Jim. I called the hospital, and they told me his temperature is up, and he's not responding to treatment. I had already sent a car for you and he's at the hospital now. Dr. Mazzini is still with him but—"

"I'm sorry, Sandy."

"—I know you are."

"What's Judy doing?"

"Still sleeping." It seemed to me that Sandy's voice held a bitter edge.

"If you want to go to the hospital, I'll come and stay with her."

"No, don't do that. I—I can't do anything for Ralph. . . . Jim, how have you been?"

"I think I'm going nuts."

"What?"

"Never mind." I paused. "Listen, Sandy, I'd better come over there."

"I—I am a little scared. It's kind of spooky out here. But I'm all right. You do what you have to do."

"Chin up," I said.

"Sure, Jim."

* * *

I HUNG up, fed more money into the slot, and waited maybe three minutes before Eileen Fortune's breathless voice said, "Yes?"

"This is Jim Bennett, Eileen. Is—"

"He's gone!" she cried. "Ralph's dead! I knew it, I knew it. . . ." Her sobbing filled the booth.

"Listen," I shouted.

"Tell me," she whimpered. "I—I'll be brave."

"He's not dead, but he's worse. His condition is critical, but there's still hope." I didn't know if there was any hope for Ralph, but there was no harm in telling her.

"Is she with him?"

"Who?"

"Judy."

"No."

"She killed him. She meant to kill him, because she's jealous. She's got Ralph's blood on her hand. She—she's a Jezebel, a— a—"

"Stop it," I snapped. "Shut up. Is your father home yet?"

"Papa? No."

"Where is he?"

"I told you—"

"He's not at Dan's Place. Have you seen Earl Seltzman?"

There was silence on the wire. Then she said primly, "Of course not. I am engaged to Ralph, and it would not be proper for me to be seeing Earl."

"You let him take you home last night."

"That—that was different."

"I see," I said.

"Goodby, Eileen."

"Thank you for calling. I—I'll pray for Ralph."

"Do that." I hung up.

* * *

OUTSIDE the booth a young, grave-eyed man in the uniform of a state trooper stood waiting for me. I gazed at him, took a sip of coffee, and said, "Guilty, sergeant."

"Is that your black Mercury outside?"

"Yep."

"Lucky you made that curve," he said shortly. Over his shoulder I saw that everyone in the restaurant was looking at us.

"Lucky," I agreed.

He held out a hand. "Driver's license, please."

I handed him my wallet, and he flipped through the cellophaned compartments. He gazed at my private cop's license issued by the Cleveland police department. He studied it carefully, frowning a little. Then he looked at me and his eyes were friendly. "So you're Bennett?"

I nodded, and drank more coffee. It was getting cold.

I nodded again.

"Care to tell me about it? I've heard of you since I was a kid."

"Sorry, sergeant. Confidential."

"I understand," he said seriously. "I'm on patrol between here and Wheatville tonight. I picked you up just outside of Ridge Center. Can I help?"

"Not right now. Maybe later. Where are you stationed?"

"At the barracks in Wheatville. Gilmore's my name. If you need me, they'll put it on the radio and I'll be on deck."

"That's nice of you, I appreciate it."

He grinned modestly, showing very white and even teeth. "I never thought I'd meet you. I've been thinking a little about going into the private investigation field. . . ."

"Come and see me," I said. "We always need good men."

"I've got a day off next Thursday," he said eagerly.

"Fine. I'll be in the office, as far as I know."

"Thank you," he said, and added wistfully. "Would you want an escort, to wherever you're going?"

"No thanks."

He held out a hand, and I shook it, and everybody in the restaurant relaxed and went back to the coffee and doughnuts, their hamburgers and french fries. The trooper saluted smartly, and went out, the state's finest, and a very good thing.

Weather to Cool Off Next Week

Weather conditions as of 12:30 a.m., C.S.T., Oct. 9. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows denote wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain; dotted areas indicate snow. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

Pleasant resort-like weather in the St. Louis area this weekend was predicted by the Weather Bureau. Meteorologist Harry F. Walgren said temperatures, however, should be a little cooler the first of next week.

Fair skies with afternoon temperatures in the middle 80s today and tomorrow and a low in the morning in the middle 60s were forecast. Early morning temperatures over the nation varied today from 31 at Elko, Nev., to 77 at Key West, Fla. Lowest here was 62.

The mercury climbed above 100 in the southwest desert region yesterday with a high of 104 recorded at Gila Bend, Ariz. In contrast the maximum at Mount Washington, N.H., was 32. Cooler weather prevailed in the southeast, where earlier this week at high of 100 was reached at Montgomery, Ala.

Light showers moved today across the Great Lakes, and scattered thundershowers fell along the west Gulf coast and over Florida. Elsewhere from the Mississippi river eastward skies were clear or partly cloudy.

EVERYTHING was in the past now. It was 4 o'clock on a Sunday morning and in a few hours it would be dawn and a new day would begin. Everything that had happened since Friday night would never happen again, not in exactly the same way, not for anybody. And oddly enough I wasn't tired any more. I had gone beyond the barrier of fatigue and the need for sleep. I wasn't even hungry and I didn't want a drink. I was in a happy limbo, suspended delicately between the world and space, and it seemed that my mind worked smoothly and calmly on oiled bearings.

I thought of all of it, taking each little scene as it happened, all the spoken words, the gestures, inflections and expressions of the people I'd met, the living and the dead.

I laughed a little foolishly as I drove along.

The road unwound and the fields and the dark farmhouses drifted past and the moonlight was very bright. The rain had blown over, the wind had died, and the trees stood tall and straight along the road and across a line of hills on my left. It would be colder by dawn, much colder.

And then I looked in the rear-view mirror, and I saw it behind me on the road, its lights, off, but with the moonlight glinting on glass and chrome, the pale ghost car. I patted the .38 in my pocket and said crooningly, "Come on, you, come closer, just a teeny bit closer."

But it didn't, and presently I didn't see it any more. I knew it was still there, somewhere behind me, as it had been for some hours on this cold November night, waiting for a chance to strike again, but I didn't worry about it now. I had been the hunted, and now I was the hunter. I pulled over to the side of the road and stopped, waiting expectantly. But no ghost car drifted up beside me; it refused to take the bait, and the road behind remained wide and empty.

I lit a cigarette and hummed to myself.

LEAVING SWITZERLAND

IT seems too bad to leave this beautiful country without a longer stay. It is one of my favorite foreign lands. I have come here during every visit I have made to Europe.

Like France, the Swiss have the franc as a standard coin, but what a difference. The Swiss franc has full value, and is just as solid as the dollar of the United States or Canada.

* * *

I SAY that the franc is just as "solid," but the value is different. A Swiss franc is supposed to be worth 20 cents. At present exchange rates the value is about 23 cents.

Silver coins are used in Switzerland, not only for francs but also for larger and smaller pieces of money. These differ from the aluminum money now employed in France and some other countries of Europe.

Switzerland is known as one of the very clean countries of the world. Another land with at least an equal good name in this field is Holland, and the Norse countries may rank as high.

If you asked me to name the chief industry of Switzerland, I should reply:

* * *

THE SWISS are friendly to people of other lands. The cost of living hardly can be called low, but neither is it extremely high. Honesty seems to shine from the eyes of the people. In that respect, the Swiss are close cousins of the English.

One leading industry of the Swiss is the making of clocks and watches. They export millions of dollars worth of these each year. Many widely known American watches have movements made in Switzerland.

In addition the Swiss are known for their cheese and their chocolate candy. About a fifth of all the people make their living by farming. In an average year the production of Swiss cheese runs to more than 20,000 tons. The same statement can be made about Swiss butter.
